Washington — A congressional study said Saturday New York City’s default, inevitable without federal help, will slow the nation’s economic recovery, add four billion dollars to the federal deficit, and throw 300,000 people out of work. The report was critical of New York City’s leaders from 1960 to 1974, when the number of New York City employees increased by 70 percent.

Washington — Treasury sources said Saturday they expect Secretary William Simon to resurrect the two dollar bill, the unloved orphan of U.S. currency, in a bid to replace its bad luck image with Bicentennial luster. The treasury sources said Simon would announce the revival of the bill Monday.

Madrid — Generalissimo Francisco Franco suffered renewed internal bleeding Saturday but mustered the strength to take communion with his family and aides. His sister said only a miracle could save him.

Los Angeles — Police Saturday questioned a man calling himself "death," who demanded $100,000 for the life of a hostage, but was arrested in a bus terminal as he sought to pick up the ransom. Police said they believed the suspect, Francis Raymond St. John, might be a hoaxer and that there might not be any hostage.

Houston — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, ending a whirlwind Texas visit with a rodeo and barbecue Saturday, flew to Jacksonville, Fla., for a visit with an oil millionaire and President Ford. Sadat, his family and aides will take over the mansion of millionaire Raymond Mason, chairman of the charter company which has extensive oil and banking interests in the Middle East.

Greenwich, Conn. — Connecticut’s chief medical examiner performed an autopsy Saturday on the body of a 15-year-old girl bludgeoned to death on her family’s estate inside an exclusive compound guarded by private police. Investigators questioned companions of the slain girl, who was last seen alive Thursday night at the home of a nephew of Ethel Kennedy, widow of Senator Robert Kennedy.

Boston — Nuclear war will likely erupt by the end of this century and a world government may be the only way to keep nations from blowing up the world, according to a group of nuclear arms experts. Five panelists at a Harvard arms control seminar said they believed nuclear war in some form will erupt before 1999, but they said it would likely not originate with the United States and the Soviet Union, but with relatively smaller nations like Israel and its Arab neighbors, India and Pakistan or African nations.

Moscow — The Soviet Union staged a dress rehearsal of the nation’s annual military parade early Saturday with a sharp cutback in the traditional display of strategic weapons. Western military experts said the trial run indicated the parade through Red Square next Friday would be half the size of previous years, with none of the usual heavy weaponry.

Washington — Senator Carl Curtis believes time takes care of many things and predicted Saturday that Richard Nixon one day will have a renewed role in national affairs and Republican politics. "I believe that he has an experience in government and a great knowledge in many things, and that a time will come when he can render a very valuable service," Curtis said.
