BANKING

UGANDA

The United Ugandan Bank Ltd., a leading British bank in Uganda, has opened its branch in London in July. The bank, which has been in Uganda for over 50 years, is a member of a foreign family and enjoys exclusive connections with overseas correspondent banks. The bank's opening will be strictly limited to banking services relating to trade and industrial development.

Difficult circumstances, including the threat of closing the bank, have made it necessary for the bank's management to make an urgent appeal for investors.
