Polio Patient Care Needs Spur March Of Dimes Drive

Maui County's March of Dimes jumped into high gear January 2 when tri-Isle wide distribution of the polio containers commenced under direction of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Pilebes AC of Lahaina, and local community organizations in all parts of the County including Lanai and Molokai where the observations will be just as fully carried out as on the Valley Isle.

Three major events are planned for this year's observation starting with "coffee hours" given by hostesses throughout the tri Isles whose guests in turn will invite friends in for coffee. The chain reaction is expected to raise hundreds of dollars for the March this year. Mrs. Erling P. Wick is chairman of the coffee event and may be reached at her home by anyone wishing to participate.

The annual March of Mothers, again under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Hendershot, will take place on Maui on January 20 with Lanai and Molokai to set their own dates to suit their plans. Again the UE Clubs of Maui County will spearhead the drive aided and abetted by husbands, sons and other male members of the families.

The big windup with the March of Dimes Dances will take place on January 25 with Commander Thomas Lau Hee of the VFW and Eddie Tam, chairman of the County, co-chairmaning the event.

On Lanai Solomon Kaopuiki is again chairman while John Peelua will handle things aided by Mitchell Pauole on Molokai.

"The need for replenishing the coffers of the polio fight is just as great this year as it ever was," Ezra J. Crane, general chairman said. "Patient care mounts into thousands of dollars each year, we still have the mass immunization drive to complete in the spring with a good deal of aid to the needy and indigent necessary to make it a complete success.

"Last year the Maui County Chapter spent more than $11,000 in patient care (we still have more than 25 polio victims needing physical therapy and other help), mass immunization, research on the national level and then we had one new case that already has cost us about $500 with much more ahead."

Mr. Crane said that if the generosity of Mauians, Molokaians and Lanaians remain at the high pitch of former years, there will be no lacking in funds with which to fight polio in the recuperative stages and be prepared to meet any new cases that may arise.

High spot of the year 1957, he pointed out, was the mass immunization program that was carried out in Maui for a mere dime a shot, compared with from $2 to $4 elsewhere, thus enabling everyone to obtain immunzation. Needy and indigent cases were given the treatment absolutely free.

The third shot in this series, requiring additional monetary help up to about $5,400 will take place in May.

The little polio canisters are up and out throughout the County, the schools will receive theirs on Monday morning and dance tickets will soon be available everywhere, with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in charge.

Reynolds Dean Cabreros Is First Baby Of 1958

Cesario Cabreros, Pioneer Mill Company factory worker, and his wife, Aileen, are the parents of the first baby to be born on Maui in 1958.

The Cabreros welcomed their second son and third child at 12:49 a.m. on Thursday, January 2, at Pioneer Mill Company Hospital.

Reynolds Dean Cabreros, who weighed 7 pounds, 14 ounces, and was 21 inches tall at birth, missed being a New Year's Day baby by 49 seconds.

However, he arrived nearly 13 hours ahead of his nearest "first baby of 1958" rival—a 6-pound, 5-ounce, 18½-inch tall son born to Mr. and Mrs. Dionicio Domingo of Haliimaile at Central Maui Memorial Hospital.

The Domingo baby was born at 1:59 p.m. on January 2. He has not been named as yet.

The honor of being the last baby born in 1957 goes to a 6-pound, 11-ounce, 20-inch tall daughter welcomed by the William Teshimas of New Kahului at 7:55 p.m. on December 31. The new baby is the couple's second child and second daughter.

A check with the Hana and Kula General hospitals Friday morning revealed that both were still waiting for the stork's first 1958 visit.

The last birth was recorded at Hana Hospital on December 8, when a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Edmund Oliveira.

Kula General Hospital's last baby was born at 8:40 p.m. on December 28, when Mr. and Mrs. Silverio Quinao of Ulupalakua became parents for the fifth time. Their newest addition is a daughter, Yolanda, who weighed in at 6 pounds, 5½ ounces.

Huelo PTA In Merger Opposition

Parents Will Refuse Sending Children To Haiku School

Members of the Huelo School PTA, 25-strong, informed the Board of Supervisors yesterday (Friday) that they (parents) will refuse to send their children to Haiku School.

And the parents demanded that the "County Fathers and the DPI give this merging of Huelo School more consideration and thought."

Signed by David F. Joseph, president of the Huelo School PTA, and 24 others, yesterday's letter to the Board cited the following reasons for the parents' apparently adamant stand:

1—Bad condition of the Hana Belt Road, especially during the rainy season. Given as examples were land slides at Kakipi Gulch and dangerous conditions at the Huelo Stream, near the Hoalua bridge, and the Kailua Catholic Church.

2—Too many short corners which would be difficult for any bus to undertake successfully," especially at Hanehoe Curve and Kakipi Gulch.

3—Too long a distance for the children to travel — 23 miles a day with "nine miles of hazardous roads."

The PTA's communication was referred to the Commissioners of Public Instruction and the local DPI office.

Supervisors noted that they have no authority insofar as merging of schools is concerned.

Four Mauians In WAF; Bid Aloha To Maui Monday

Four Maui women will leave Monday for Honolulu, enroute to Lackland Air Force Base in Texas, where they will receive basic training in the Women's Air Force.

They are: Rita Pico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pico of Kula; Peggy Ann Medeiros and Mary Jane Medeiros, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Medeiros of Paia; and June Moniz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moniz of Paia.

All four women are graduates of St. Anthony Girls' School.

Board Launches New Year With 68-Minute Meet

The Board of Supervisors yesterday (Friday) started the New Year with an unusual meeting.

Called to order at 9:46 a.m. (46 minutes late—which is not unusual), the meeting ended at 11 a.m.

Counting time taken for a seven-minute recess, the Board actually met for only one hour and eight minutes.

The most unusual part, as far as many observers were concerned, is that the meeting was short in spite of the fact that there were long discussions on at least two subjects.

70 MPH Winds Sweep Across Mountain Top

The gusty winds in the central valley Friday noon were only a faint indication of what was happening at the top of the Mountain from where Spencer Shiraishi, KMVI-TV technician reported the weather bureau readings at 60 mph with gusts up to 64 miles per hour.

Although the cold snap Friday morning indicated possible snow, Shiraishi said there was no sign of a flurry at any time. Low temperature at 2 a.m. Friday was 30; at 1:30 p.m. it had risen to 40 degrees.

At 1:30 the wind velocity had climbed to 70 mph with no sign of a let down.

CAA authorities at Puunene Airport said winds in the central plain were expected to be 35 mph with gusts to 40. Small craft warnings were issued Friday morning.

Services Held At Puuiki For William Koko

Funeral services for William Koko of Haou, Hana, were held on Thursday at Puuiki, Hana with burial following.

Mr. Koko, 46, died some time on New Year's Eve. His body was found at about 2:30 a.m. on the road near his residence by a friend, Wilfred Kala.

According to police, Mr. Koko had gone to a New Year's Eve party at the home of a friend. He was last seen alive as he left the party.

An autopsy showed that the victim had died of a heart attack.

Wailuku, Kahului Fire Insurance Rates Down

Regrading of two Maui towns, Wailuku and Kahului, will result in lower fire insurance rates for these communities, the Hawaii Fire Rating Bureau announced in Honolulu Wednesday.

Following regrading surveys by Hawaii Fire Rating Bureau engineers, Wailuku was upgraded from a Class 7 to a Class 6 Town, while Kahului was moved upward from Class 8 to Class 7.

National Board of Fire Underwriters fire protection standards provide for ten classes with Class 1 the best possible. There are no Class I cities in the United States at present with but few Class 2 cities. Honolulu is Class 3.

As a result of the upgrading, fire insurance rates on masonry mercantile buildings in Wailuku and Kahului will be reduced from 15 to 20 per cent. Frame mercantile buildings and contents will receive a reduction on published rates of from 4 to 8 per cent. Insurance rates on frame dwellings with "approved" roofs will be reduced 6.25 per cent in Wailuku and 5.9 per cent in Kahului.

These new rates apply to all policies written to take effect on and after January 1, 1958, the Hawaii Fire Rating Bureau said. They will also apply to additional amounts of insurance placed on existing policies.

Improvements in the water supply and structural conditions of buildings in Wailuku and Kahului are responsible for the upgrading with the resulting lower insurance rates, Rating Bureau engineers said.

In addition to the upgrading the Kahului area will benefit by revision of fire protection maps extending the "protected area" in keeping with the extension of fire protection facilities, mainly water supply. Buildings located in these additions to the protected area will benefit from lower fire insurance rates.

Hawaii Fire Rating Bureau engineers conduct regrading surveys as a service of the Fire Insurance Industry at intervals of five to ten years, or when significant improvements have been made in fire protection facilities in Hawaii's towns and cities.

F&M Awarded $69,000 Kam. III School Job

The F&M Contractors of Kahului yesterday (Friday) was awarded a contract to construct an administration-library building for the Kamehameha III School in Lahaina.

F&M was the low bidder for the project when bids were opened at the December 20 meeting of the Board.

Other bidders were Ideal Contractor, Y. Yoshimori and the Arisumi Brothers.

Despite the $66,735 bid submitted by F&M, the job is expected to cost some $70,000 with the inclusion of a stackroom in the library.

County Engineer Koichi Hamada informed Supervisors that some $60,000 is available for this job. He asked that an additional $9,500 be appropriated for this project from the bond contingency fund.

The latter request was granted by the Board.

The administrative-library building will complete the Kam III School master plan. The school was constructed under bond funds authorized by Act 280 of the 1953 Legislature.

Additional funds were granted to this project by a $600,000 bond issue floated by the Board of Supervisors in 1956.

Company D, commanded by Captain Isao Joyo, won a "superior" rating for the second straight year.

Moving up in rating from a "excellent" to "superior" were Headquarters and Headquarters Company and Company C, commanded by Captains David Anderson and Alvin Haake, respectively.

Ratings of "excellent" were given to Company A, Company B, and the Medical Platoon. These units are commanded by Captain Charles Vierra, Captain Harrison Perreira, and 1st Lt Abel Vares, respectively.

Major August Nascimento is the commander of the 1st Battalion.

Kula Back Pay Checks Dated December 31

Employees of the Kula Sanatorium did not receive "extra spending money" for Christmas as did other County employees, but will start 1958 with their pockets full.

Their retroactive pay under the repricing program was issued just after New Year's Day. Other County employees received theirs just before Christmas.

Checks totaling $39,397.77 were brought back from Honolulu late Monday afternoon by Dr. Edmund Tompkins, Kula Sanatorium superintendent. The money was turned over to the office of County Auditor's Manuel Rodrigues, whose staff processed checks to individual employees on Tuesday and Thursday.

Auditor Rodrigues said the checks will be dated December 31, 1957. This means that Territorial tax withholdings on the retroactive pay were computed on the 1956 schedule and not on the new, higher rate.

The retroactive period is from March, 1956, to December, 1957.

Chairman Asks Supervisors To Work On Budget

If members of the Board of Supervisors expected a definite, economy-minded administrative budget from County Chairman Eddie F. Tam yesterday (Friday), they experienced a keen disappointment.

Rather than recommending areas in which economy could be effected, Chairman Tam passed that job on to Supervisors at the Board's first regular meeting of 1958.

(The press was not given copies of the proposed administrative budget, but Supervisors were handed their copies at a caucus held just prior to the regular meeting).

In his letter of transmittal, Chairman Tam noted:

"I am not going into the question of where the County may effect substantial amount of savings in some departments in accordance with a partial reviews which has been brought to our attention by the Board of Efficiency and Economy.

"Some of the changes, I am sure, the Board will give full consideration and will be put into effect early in 1958 so that some savings can be realized" to take care of retroactive salary payments and needed improvements.

Previously, the County Auditor's office announced that in 1958 the repricing program and its retroactive payment phase will cost the County $357,000 more than what was paid in salaries in 1957.

By December 31, 1957, the County had paid $200,000 in retroactive salaries. The $200,000 represents roughly 60 percent of the amount due employees in retroactive pay.

This means that an additional $140,000 will have to be set aside this year by the Board of Supervisors to complete this phase of the repricing program.

Chairman Tam told Supervisors that "in practically every department, I have deleted requests for office files, fixtures or equipment."

He suggested that a "contingent fund" be provided for in the 1958 budget to take care of subsequent requests for office equipment, "and that such requests be brought to the attention of the Board for consideration on its importance for approval."

The Chairman also said he has "every confidence" that Supervisors "will give their individual and collective intelligence in bringing about a budget that will provide the greatest amount of benefits for the different communities."

10 Died In Traffic Accidents

311 Tri-Isle Mishaps Reported To Police During 1957

There were 143 fewer traffic accidents reported to police in 1957 than in 1916, but there were two more traffic deaths in the year just ended compared to the previous year.

According to statistics compiled by the Maui Police Department's traffic bureau, there were 311 accidents in 1957. The 1956 total was 454.

One reason for this decrease is the fact that since March 1957, motorists were not required to report accidents in which damages totalled less than $100. The previous damage limit was $25.

Ten deaths were recorded on Maui's public highways during 1957. The 1956 total was eight.

(The death of Hiram Apo Jr., 21, of Kaupo on New Years Eve was not classified as a traffic death since the victim and his overturned jeep were found on private property).

Other statistics:

Injuries — 208 in 1957; 247 in 1956.

Monetary damages resulting from traffic accidents — $132,000 in 1957; $142,635 in 1956.

Airman On Emergency Leave Dies

Hiram Apo Jr. Killed In Jeep Accident New Year's Eve

Airman Third Class Hiram Apo Jr. of Kaupo, who returned home from Texas a few days before Christmas to be at his father's funeral, will not be going back to the Sweetwater AFB.

He died on New Year's Eve while being rushed to the Kula General Hospital.

The Airman was found at about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday by some friends. He was pinned under an overturned jeep on a private road in Kaupo.

According to police, Mr. Apo was apparently still alive when he was found. But the victim was dead on arrival at the Kula General Hospital.

On emergency leave from the Air Force, Mr. Apo attended the funeral of his father only 11 days earlier. The elder Mr. Apo was killed when he fell from a 75-foot cliff in Kaupo on December 16. His body was found by searchers on the morning of December 17.

Funeral services for the New Year's Eve victim were to be held yesterday (Friday) afternoon at Bulgo's Mortuary, followed by burial at the Makawao Veterans' Cemetery.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Alice Houluaiola Apo; a brother, Gilbert, a student at the Kamehameha School for Boys in Honolulu; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Haraguchi of Hawaii, and Mrs. Ethel Kamai of Kaupo.

Airman Apo was 21 years old.

Negative X-Ray Reports Will Not Be Sent Out

The Maui Health Department announced this week that it will not send out negative x-ray reports to people taking x-rays at the mobile unit in the tuberculosis x-ray survey which begins January 6 on Maui and after April 1 on Molokai and Lanai.

"This decision was made for reasons of economy in view of cutbacks in grants to the Health Department," the announcement said.

Foodhandlers and others needing the negative reports for job purposes will be able to secure them upon request, according to Dr. F. H. Tong, Maui County health officer.

NEWS 'BEAT'

HITS and BITS by Hank Sato, Political Reporter

January, 1958.

Time, perhaps, to review the year 1957.

The accomplishments of the 1957 Territorial Legislature, the transition from King to Quinn, and the workings of our own Board of Supervisors are seeds for many review items.

But instead, we'd like to project ourselves to January, 1959 and see how our governments — Territorial and County — will look like from the tri-Isles angle.

First of all, Maui County will have five Senators instead of the three we have always elected. This is the result of the Reapportionment Act passed by Congress in 1956.

Holdover Senators are John G. Duarte and S. George Fukuoka, both Democrats. Three more will be elected in November, 1958.

The House of Representatives will remain the same — six members. The only difference is that Lanai and Molokai will now have an opportunity to elect one representative.

Maui will elect the other five.

• • • • •

The make-up of our Board of Supervisors will remain the same, although there may be at least two new faces when 1959 rolls around.

The Republicans have but one seat on the nine-member Board and will work real hard to increase their representation.

Although a wholesale Democrat to Republican switch of the majority party is not expected for 1959, it would be safe to say that the Republicans will make some gains.

Another race of great interest will be the scramble for County Chairman.

Although not confirmed, there have been reports that several "strong" candidates are interested in Eddie Tam's job.

And as far as Chairman Eddie is concerned, his main concern is not a possible Republican foe, but a Democrat one.

He is Rep. Elmer F. Cravalho, who has been making slight noises in the Chairman's direction.

• • • •

As for the County Cabinet posts — Treasurer, Auditor, Clerk and Attorney — January, 1958 should bring some changes.

First of all, County Attorney Harold L. Duponte has already announced that he he will not seek re-election. If Mr. Duponte sticks to this announcement, there will be a new face in the County Attorney's office.

The one subject and elective office a lot of people are thinking about (but not talking) is the County Treasurer's post.

Incumbent K. K. Kam suffered a stroke last year and has not yet fully recovered. He still goes about in a wheel chair.

Whether Mr. Kam will seek re-election remains indefinite — and will probably remain so until the Fall.

The other two cabinet officers — Clerk G. N. Toshi Enomoto and Auditor Manuel Rodrigues — seem destined to keep their offices forever if:

1.— They do not decide to run for some other office.

2 — A strong candidate does not arrives on the scene to unseat them. In the 1956 elections, both Mr. Enomoto and Mr. Rodrigues were unopposed.

Any addition or change in a will is called a codicil.

Small Passenger Vessels May Be Inspected Now

Inspection of small passenger vessels under Public Law 519 (The Ray Bill) may be started immediately if requested by the owner, according to Coast Guard officials in Honolulu.

However, a Coast Guard spokesman indicated that sail vessels are temporary excluded from advance inspections pending receipt of stability requirements from Coast Guard Headquarters. This temporary exclusion, the Coast Guard said, does not keep the owners from insuring that they have proper safety equipment.

The rules and regulations developed under the law were published in the Federal Register on October 5, 1957, to become effective on June 1, 1958.

Inspection at the request of the vessel's owner, however, may be carried out prior to June 1, 1958, and application for inspection may be made at any time.

Prior to June, 1958, the owner or operator of a vessel voluntarily submittling to inspection under Public Law 519 will not be liable for a penalty because of such inspection nor will his vessel be required to cease operating due to discrepancies found during inspection.

WON STOCKING OF TOYS—Four-year-old Jane Laurie Cook was the winner of the eight-foot stocking of toys in the Christmas promotion sponsored by Crafts' Kahului Drug. Jane was born on Christmas Day and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cook of Fukuoka, Japan. Her father is the manager of an Army post exchange. Her mother is the former Barbara Eby of Haiku. Jane, her mother, and a younger sister arrived on Maui about two weeks ago, for a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Harry Eby. Jane unselfishly gave each one of her cousins their choice of the toys, kept one for herself and her sister, and turned the rest over to the Maui Children's Home. She received her prize from George Craft (right), store manager.—Roy Okada photo.

Child Sees 'God's Star Moving In Sky' Thursday

A bright, flying object which four-year-old Steven Gass of Puunene described as "God's star moving in the sky", caught the attention of several Maui residents Thursday night.

Steven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Gass, paid no attention to his statement, but were a bit sorry the next day, when they learned that the object was also seen and reported by a man, a Kahului woman, and Police Officer Gordon Cockett.

The man and the woman gave their reports by phone to Rod Williams, KMVI announcer, at about 7:50 p.m. and 8:10 p.m., respectively.

The man said an object resembling a "small size moon" was rising and descending in Iao Valley, while the women reported seeing a "ball-shaped" object moving in the direction of Lahaina from Iao.

Announcer Williams then called the police station and passed his information to Dispatch Sergeant Walter (Scotty) Vasconcellos, who sent Lieutenant James Aloy and Officer James Lawrence to the Kaahumanu overpass in Wailuku with instructions to look for the object.

Both officers did not see anything.

But at 8:12 p.m., Officer Cockett, patrolling the Makawao area, reported sighting an object "over Maalaea, changing colors from red to pink, then white to blue." He said that the object was quite high in the sky and seemed to be travelling toward Lanai.

It disappeared from sight at about 8:30 p.m.

According to the Civil Aeronautics Administration station at Puunene, no aircraft was in the sky at the time of the object's sighting.

Economist Coming To CofC Meet

John F. Child Jr. To Speak At Dinner On January 15

John F. Child Jr., well-known economist and management consultant, will be the guest speaker at the Maui Chamber of Commerce's annual installation dinner at the Tokyo Tei on January 15, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Child will speak on planned area development for Maui as a means of creating a broadened and expanded economic base for the island.

He has been working closely with the Maui Economic Development Association in the preparation of the "Maui Plan," a five-year community-wide development program designed to provide the basis for establishing:

1 — A "great new" tourist industry; 2 — Highly skilled light manufacturing industries; 3—Armed forces training and recreation centers; and 4—Expanding diversified agriculture and development of new agricultural by-products.

He has done a lot of work in the field of resort area development and travel research. Among other things, he helped to formulate the framework and participated in the organization of the Hawaii Visitors Bureau's data collection and research program and has continued this work first in an advisory capacity and later under contract to the HVB Research Committee.

He provided the economic studies and analyses for Henry Kaiser's $22 million Hawaiian Village development in Waikiki and for the American Factors-Pioneer Mill $40 million Kaanapali resort area.

In 1956, he organized Child and Waters, Incorporated, a consulting firm specializing in resort area development, travel research, promotion and management consulting.

M. P. Freitas III Family Increased

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel P. Freitas III, former Mauians, were presented with their third child, a boy, on November 25. The Freitas family is one of the sixty who left the Up Country area to make their home on the West Coast.

Mrs. Freitas is the former Henrietta Levi of Lahaina. Her husband was an employee of the Maui County Waterworks at Makawao. They made their home at Kokomo prior to moving to the West Coast.

The couple now reside at 409-A Pedregosa St., Santa Barbara, California. Their two children are Collins Kenneth and Lou Ann Clarie.

The newest addition to the family was named Matthew Kauanoe. He weighed seven pounds, four ounces at birth. (EB).

Jean Shiraishi Starts Muu-muu Fad In Missouri

Seems like the Hawaiian muumuu, which only recently became popular in California, has found itself further inland on the U. S. Mainland.

Comes word from Columbia, Missouri, that the muumuu has "become popular here."

Helping to build this popularity is Jane Shiraishi of Paia, now a graduate student at the University of Missouri.

On December 7, she said, she attended a Pearl Harbor Day get-together at the university's Baptist Student Union in a muumuu.

People thought she was going to a masquerade ball.

But thanks to a story in the Columbia Missourian, the muumuu is no longer a stranger to citizens of Columbia.

Miss Shiraishi is majoring in speech correction. She received her teaching degree last June.

Fils Told Education Important

Vockrodt Is Puunene Rizal Day Program Speaker

By CRIS SEVILLA

"Education should be foremost in our lives today, like Dr. Jose Rizal wanted it," Jack E. Vockrodt said Sunday night at a special program held in Puunene to commemorate the 61st anniversary of the martyrdom of Dr. Jose Rizal, father of Philippine liberty.

Mr. Vockrodt, new Kahului branch manager of the Bank of Hawaii, spoke on "Education" as guest speaker of the program sponsored by the Puunene Filipino Community Association.

"It is our duty to be informed," he said. "Although high school education is considered a minimum, parents should send their children to further their studies when they realize that they have a bright child."

He said that proper education would help a person enjoy the finer things in life, gain a high standard of living, receive training for leadership, and be able to decide good, bad, or otherwise.

"Educated people help to deter communists 'like Rizal fought the yolk of Communism," he added.

The annual two-day observance began Sunday night with a program of songs, speeches, dances and the installation of the association's incoming officers by Petronillo Dulay, administrative assistant to the Philippine consulate in Honolulu.

Sports for both young and old were held on Monday, followed by a free luau at the Filipino Clubhouse. Invited as guests were members of the Board of Supervisors, led by Chairman Eddie Tam.

Puunene's program was one of several held on Maui by Filipino communities.

At a pageant and ball sponsored by the Maui Recreational Club of Maui at the Territorial Building on Sunday, lovely Hermina Supnet of Halimaile reigned as Miss Philippines following her coronation by Representative Nadao Yoshinaga.

Employers Must Furnish W-2 Form In January

Employers are required to furnish a Withholding Tax Statement (Form W-2) to all employees sometime during the month of January (for the preceding year) or at the time an employee terminated his employment for any reason, according to an announcement made this week by L. Graeme McIntosh, Maui resident representative of the Social Security Administration.

The statement shows total wages paid to the employee in 1957, the amount of money the employer withheld for income tax purposes, and the amount of money the employer withheld as the employee's share of the Social Security tax. Because there is a ceiling on the amount of salary or wages that is subject to the Social Security tax, the FICA wages as shown on the W-2 may be less than the total wages on which the income tax is based.

FICA is probably much better known as the Social Security tax, which is 2¼% each for employer and worker. The maximum taxable salary is $4,200, with the FICA tax payable on all amounts up to that figure.

Workers should check their W-2's carefully to make certain that they have received credit for all wages up to the amount of $4,200 in 1957, and that the correct amount of Social Security tax has been withheld. It is advisable, too, for workers to examine the W-2 and make sure their name and account number is exactly the same as it is on their Social Security account number card. Any differences should be reported promptly to the employer, so that he can make the necessary corrections in his records.

This is Johnny Fulwiler, of Atlanta, Ga. For three of his six years this gallant little guy has been fighting his way back from one of the most shattering blows a human being can sustain and live—an attack of bulbar-spinal polio that paralyzed his breathing, both his arms, both his legs, and his neck, diaphragm and abdomen.

Once it was hard to believe he'd live at all. He did. Then it seemed impossible he'd ever get out of his iron lung. But he did. Once that hurdle was overcome, it hardly appeared likely he'd some day run and play. But he did that, too.

You see, Johnny's initial survival was just the BEGINNING. It was far from enough for him or for his doctors or for the March of Dimes. And survival is not enough for thousands upon thousands of youngsters and adults still desperately disabled by polio.

The same March of Dimes that capped 20 years of saving lives with the development of the Salk vaccine must now enrich these saved lives by the magic of MODERN rehabilitation. That's why the March of Dimes needs your support today.

KAM PROVES NO MATCH FOR TROJANS

Joe AhSau Kingpin In 62-33 Rout

Sabers Smash Pahala, 46-38; Bears Lose Another, 51-39

At this writing, the Kamehameha quintet had yet to play Lahainaluna on Friday night, but the 62-33 drubbing St. Anthony handed Coach Jack Herbertson's lackadaisical Warriors on Thursday certainly established the Trojans as heavy threats to the Maui Interscholastic League basketball championship claimed by the Lunas.

As a matter of fact, St. Anthony's pre-season home appearances have been nothing short of spectacular. First, it was Maui Tech by a score of 36-27. Then the Trojans followed up with a stunning 63-59 triumph over St. Louis, and now the Warriors, rated by most Honolulu writers as one of the crack outfits in the Capital City.

The visitors looked anything but what the press notices have been rating them thus far, and even the most ardent Trojan supporter will admit that the popular home team didn't play as good as they should have. Which is to say that Kam hardly proved a worthy opponent.

The Warriors were tall and big, but the commanding edge they boasted in height and size could hardly have been called advantageous . . . at least the Trojans didn't think so.

The game was three minutes old when Segundo Torres finally meshed the first field goal for the Trojans. Before the quarter ended, they had dunked five more in 11 attempts for a 13-6 lead. They never trailed and at halftime, it was 26-17. St. Anthony turned it into a rout in the third period, scoring 14 consecutive points, and from then on it was a matter of how much more the Trojans could pour on.

Joseph Ah Sau, who spent a good part of the evening resembling a fighter being knocked down consistently, tallied 25 points for top scoring honors. He had a 11-for-13 record on the free throw line. John Ah Sau contributed 12 points. Jerry Haliniak, a Molokai product, was the shining light of the Kam quintet with 13 points, but none of his

Impressive Turnout Seen For Weekend Field Trial

While the list of entries for the 11th annual Valley Isle Gun Club field trial this weekend was not available at presstime, local officials were hopeful of another great running for the open all-age crown between Manduke Baldwin's Tyson's Teton Buck and Ed C. Keyes' Tyke, who nosed out the perennial Maui winner in last year's feature event.

Another possible entry is Ghost Que, an imported male setter owned and handled by Dr. R. G. Johnston of Honolulu, who also copped top honors over Buck in last fall's Associated Field Trial Club of Hawaii's event on Oahu.

This weekend's event, the first of four scheduled this month, will be held on the Kaonoulu Ranch. Some 40 handlers from all over the Territory are expected here.

Dr. Wilbert Yee, the only two-leg holder of the Sam Light Perpetual Trophy, will be a spectator in the open competition, but will send out Maui's Pinkie, a four-year-old pointer, into the shooting dog stakes field again for a repeat of last year's triumph. Tough competition looms again with Dr. Stanley Nashiwa's Sunday, Anthony DeCoite's Bill, R. R. (Doc) Lyons' Chuck, and Paul Wong's Buster also expected to enter.

Among other prominent trial figures expected here this weekend are Dr. S. C. Culpepper of Honolulu and Edward K. Wagner of Hilo. Honolulu's R. M. Towill will judge the show with Harold F. (Oskie) Rice, Charles DuBois, and Jim Fleming.

Next weekend, the Associated Field Trial Club of Hawaii will stage its event in Honolulu with a strong contingent from Maui expected to be competing.

The Maui Field Trial Club's second annual event is scheduled January 18 and 19 above the Haleakala Ranch acres and according to Dr. Yee, club president, a tremendous turnout from all the Islands is anticipated. Here to judge the show will be two prominent Mainland authorities, Mrs. Evelyn Monte' of New York and Rulon Everton of Twin Falls, Idaho.

Competition will be in the open, shooting dog, derby and puppy stakes.

Oskie Rice is the club's vice president, Paul Wong the secretary, and Johnny Sakamoto the treasurer. Membership currently numbers approximately 30.

The final event on the field trial calendar to be held here on January 25 and 26 will be the Hawaiian Bird Dog Classic, which was first sponsored by the Haleakala Field Trial Club in 1956 and features only registered bird dogs that have placed in recognized derby and open stakes events.

TH Swim Meet Set April 2-3

Detailed plans for the first Territorial Interscholastic Championship Swimming Meet to be sponsored by the Hawaii High School Athletic Association on April 2 and 3 at the Farrington War Memorial Pool will be drawn up at the next meeting of the Planning Committee on January 13.

Heading the committee is Walter Gordon of Farrington, who will present the plans to the HHSAA Executive Board for approval on February 21.

At the present, eight schools are expected to be represented with swimming teams. These include five from Oahu, and one each from Kauai, Maui and Hawaii. Arrangements will be worked out to incorporate the annual Uluniu Bowl girls' swimming championships with the Territorial event.

The following will serve on the planning committee:

Tai Hi Lim, Tom Nekota, Yoshito Sagawa, James Mitchell, Rollie Higgins, Jack Botelho, Alvin K. Chang, Lawrence Silva, Halo Hirose, James Iams, Soichi Sakamoto and Bing Fai Lau. Alvin K. Chang will serve as committee secretary.

Isle Cage Champs To Be Decided Next Wednesday

A doubleheader is scheduled to be held next Wednesday at the Paia gym to decide the championship of both the novice and beginners basketball leagues as survivors of the present district playoffs advance into their final game.

The novice finalists have already been determined. Playing in Wednesday's feature game will be Maui Pine C.A. and the Maunaolu "Collegians", who eliminated Hana's "5" Kings, 41-29. MPCA won on forfeit from Wailuku.

Hana High School will meet either the Wailuku Swish five or Haliimaile in the 7 p.m. opener for the beginners crown. The prepsters defeated Paia's Surf Riders to gain the finals berths, while Haliimaile, 50-28 winner over Makawao, was to meet Swish last night (Friday).

WEEKEND BOOTY—Eight permanent trophies and three perpetual awards will be at stake this weekend in the Valley Isle Gun Club's 11th annual field trial to be held on the Kaonoulu Ranch. Holding the Ogawa Perpetual Trophy which will go to the winner of the puppy stakes is Mrs. Dora Lorico, a sales clerk at Ogawa's where the awards are on display. Many of the Territory's outstanding handlers and dogs are expected to vie in the first of four field trial meets scheduled this month. (Ted Yoshizawa—Maui News photo).

Wailuku Looms As Early Favorite In AJA League

Sunday, January 12, is the opening date for the 1958 AJA Senior Baseball League, and once again it looks to be a two-team race between Wailuku and Puunene, with Spreckelsville given the best chance among the perennial "also-rans" to get into the title picture.

West Maui Athletic Association, under Leonard Barcoma, appears to be placing a heavy concentration on youngsters with many of the older veterans not being called out for practice.

Both West Maui Athletic Association and Kahului, under Leonard Barcoma and Tata Fujimoto, respectively, appear to be placing a heavy concentration on youngsters. As of this writing, many of the Lahaina old-timers had yet to be called out for practice.

Wailuku skipper Pundy Yokouchi has a powerful nucleus of last season's championship team back with him. Among them are Akira Miyamoto (most outstanding player), Harry Tokunaga, Henry Endo, and Glenn Oura. Other seasoned vets include Gerald Kushi, Akira Tanaka, Kenji Kawaguchi, George (Joker) Okuyama, Harry Dalapo, and Clyde Murakami. Youngsters like Peter Endo, Gerald Izumi, and Jonathan Murakami are expected to see plenty of action.

Puunene will field practically the same team under Shinsei Miyasato with a few new faces showing up. Sonny Ueda, Kikuo Honda, and newcomer Howard Nishimi will carry the pitching load. Young Hideo Yoshino will alternate at backstop with Joe Ginoza and Market Ono, who is also slated for the third base post. Bear Ono, Lot Lau, Sam Arakawa, and Eddie Teruya round out the infield, while the outfield will include Tamo Sugimoto, Sus Nakasone, Takeo Fukuda, Tatsuo Sugino, and Tom Chinen.

The Sprecks lineup will also appear the same, except that they will be minus outfield Donald Enomoto, infielder Cyril Suzuki, and Tanaka, who has transferred to Wailuku. Manager Joe Takahashi boasts a young pitching staff made up of Roy Asato, Robert Sato, Toy Takakura, and Roy Takahashi. Lahaina transfer Maurice Agawa will probably handle the catching, moving Ross Tamayose into the outfield with Raymond Nouchi and newcomer Kenneth Mijo. Robert Karimoto, Richard Honda, Jimmy Ibara and Stan Honda make up the infield.

Kahului, which won only two games last season, looks hard-pressed to improve on this record. Harry Matoi, a new addition, and rookies Alan Machida and Charles Uyeda will be depended on heavily.

NEW YEAR WISH

The little boy with the three-cornered diaper hopes that 1958 will bring:

A good set of tires for Danny Kimura's jalopy.

A pair of non-falling shoes for Eddie Deponte.

David Keau Jr., a special chukar shooting "peep" sight.

An overhaul of Albert Hew's 20-gauge shotgun so as to stop its jamming.

A new bird as large as an ostrich, which lays a leghorn, and flies as slow as an owl for George Ventura.

A string around Ned Goodness's finger to remind him to release his safety.

A crooked barrel for Arthur and Adam Ventura's guns so as to give the birds an even break.

A jacket with a built-in stove to keep "early worm" Edward Apio Apo warm.

A made-to-order dog carrying pack for Tommy Ishikawa.

Teruo Kamasaki, a new pair of shoes.

Ear muffs for the Alaus (Ellen too), Tom Shibano, Robert Migita, and the other crater boys.

To all the hunters and their dogs, a much needed rest.

To their wives, the sympathies of my wife.

To the cock pheasants, the chukars, and the California Valley quail that have outwitted the hunters this season, that they continue to outwit the hunters, make fools of them, and raise offsprings as tricky as they.

To Wayne Tanaka, a half-hearted promise that copy will arrive in time.

To each and every one of you, a very sporting and happy New Year.

Top Thrill Of 1957

It's everybody to his own taste and opinion when it comes down to picking the top sports thrill of the past year.

The national sports scene provided many such thrilling moments such as Lew Burdette's triple-win pitching feat in the World Series, spine-tingling homers and dramatic catches in the same classic, Bob Keegan's only major league no-hit, no-run game of 1957; Notre Dame's upset over Oklahoma, the Basilio-Robinson supercharged ring classic, the Boston-St. Louis double overtime championship playoff won by the Celtics, 125 to 123, the sensational 98-yard touchdown run of Jon Arnett of the Rams against the Bears, Floyd Patterson's knockdown at the hands of amateur king Pete Rademacher, the accomplishments of two old men—Ted Williams and Stan Musial, Tobin Rote's magnificent clutch performance as a fill-in quarterback for the Forty-Niners, the thrilling pressure finish of the San Diego Open Golf Tournament as Arnold Palmer nosed out Canada's Al Balding by one stroke, Monty Stickles' field goal, the first he had ever attempted, which gave Notre Dame a 23-21 win over the Army.

The list could go on and on to cover this entire page. Be that as it may, our biggest thrill here at home came on the night of February 23 at the Wailuku gym. Playing in the last local interscholastic basketball game of the 1956-57 season were Lahainaluna, the favorite by virtue of its earlier league title-victory, and St. Anthony, whom the Lunas had beaten in three previous clashes.

At stake was the championship of the 15th annual Maui County High School Tournament, which the Trojans had been able to win only once before.

There was little doubt among the huge throng that the Lunas would walk off the floor with the title. They had proven their superiority over the Trojans in three earlier clashes.

The Lunas were confident . . . maybe too confident . . . for when the final horn had sounded, it was the Trojans who were being mobbed as they walked off the floor with a 40-37 victory and the tournament championship.

The game itself was well-played and exciting, but we had seen better ones. But for the sports thrill of 1957, the totally-unexpected triumph by the team that wouldn't give up gave us our greatest moment of the year.

There were many others. In baseball, there was Akira Tanaka's no-hit, no-run game in the AJA Senior League, Albert Ishimaru's three homers in the first Inter-Island Championship held here, and plenty more of it in one of the best post-war Maui Senior League campaigns.

Football had more than its share of thrilling come-from-behind triumphs by the Lunas and Bears. Probably the most exciting contest of the season was the traditional Fair clash between Lahainaluna and Maui High when the Lunas overcame an early 20-0 Saber lead to win 39-26. Another thriller featured William Alo's quick rise to stardom by putting on a spectacular aerial show as the Bears swamped the Trojans, 32-6. And, of course, there was that 32-7 rout by the Lunas in Lahaina's "Dust Bowl" which knocked the Bears off the throne.

Benjamin Holokai and Alfredo Domingo dominated the sprints and hurdles in the track and field competitions, but it was a thrill just to watch them perform, for everytime they stepped on the cinder-path there was a chance that the existing record was in danger of being erased. Then too, there was always the fear that Domingo might take another spill as he often did in quest of new records. The races of 1957 were terrific in every sense of the word and the Maui Interscholastic

SPORTS SLANTS

The 1958 Hula Bowl rates high among the nation's greatest post-season football classics. Certainly, for sheer All-American flavor and talent-plus performance on the gridiron, the 11th annual Hawaiian Classic cannot be beat.

One Honolulu writer's deliberate remark that the College All-Stars should rate the favorite's role for advertising purpose unnecessary. The game is practically a sell-out already. The truth of the matter is that fans who jam the Honolulu Stadium annually to watch the College All-Americans pit their youthful skills against the professional perfectionists, who augment the Hawaii eleven, pay little attention, much less care how the score turns out, just as long as there is plenty of it . . . and there usually is.

Any one who watched the last two encounters when the Hawaii "Pros", led by Bob Toneff in 1956 and Leo Nomellini in 1957, swamped the Collegians would tell you it takes more than a double-squad of All-Americans to outdo what a handful of pros can accomplish. In Sunday's case, the handful could mean quarterback Tobin Rote, receivers Crazy Legs Hirsch, Kyle Rote and R. C. Owens, the swash-buckling Frank Gifford and Joe Perry, and line bullies like Bob St. Clair and Torgy Torgeson.

In other words, all the strength and vigor the cagey "Buck" Shaw will be able to muster out of his great collection of collegiate luminaries just won't be enough to overcome the experience, power and plain savvy the play-for-pay possess.

Toneff and Nomellini proved it to us. We could be wrong but if we are, we'll be right there watching every minute of the thrilling excitement in store for us . . . and 25,000 other Hula Bowl fans.

Figures reported by both Hawaiian Airlines and TPA-Aloha Airlines reveal that there will be well over 200 Valley Islanders with reserved seats in Section 5 at the Stadium for the Hula Bowl.

Boo-boo department: By the time some of you read this, the Kam Warriors will already have left for the Friendly Island where they will meet the Molokai High Farmers. In any event, it's Wayne Foster and not brother Sam that is traveling with the team. Thanks to the Kamehameha lass who called to correct our mistake.

Lahainaluna Coach Norman Oda avoided sticking out his neck and when asked: "Who's going to win the Honolulu prep basketball championship?" We can't blame him. St. Louis was given a good chance to repeat before losing to St. Anthony and St. Joseph. Mid-Pacific won the Pun Invitational, but the Owls were in mid-season form while the others weren't. Then there's Kamehameha and also Punahou, both boasting tremendous potentialities. Roosevelt advanced farther than we thought it would, and McKinley unfortunately met MPI when the Owls were at their best. Furthermore, we still think Bob Ikehara's Farrington Govs will be in the round-robin. Five-foot-nine Norman Deponte is the shortest member of the starting unit and he impressed Oda tremendously. We mentioned him last year, remember?

Kam

teammates could catch on to his fancy tricks. Skyscraping Wayne Foster could get only nine.

In two other inter-island skirmishes, Maui High walloped Pahala High, 46-38, after a slow start while Baldwin High bowed to Honokaa, 51-39.

David Pacheco spread out his accurate field goals neatly throughout the contest to total 16 points, while Alfred Domingo and Mateo Talon scored 10 and nine, respectively, for the Sabers. Cappy Capellas topped the Big Islanders with 12 points.

The Dragons, all but one of whom were here several weeks ago with the football team, turned a close first half battle into a rout in the third quarter as they moved ahead 35-28. James Fernandez and William Akima accounted for 27 points between them, while Rodney Sekimoto and Clyde Murakami totaled 23 for the Bears.

Junior varsity cagers of Maui High and St. Anthony added another pre-season victory to their records. Baldwin High was the victim in both games, bowing 29-22 to the Trojans and 29-18 to the Sabers.

Wailuku

Returning are Eiju Tokunaga, Hiroo Watanabe, Leo Polo, Larry Machida, Howard Tagomori, and Stanley Tadaki. Young rookies offer little bench support.

Lahaina, already minus Thomas Yoshida, Thomas Suzuki, Maurice Agawa and Kenneth Teshima, may also elect to go without the older veterans like Yukiya Suzuki, Akira Imano, and Lanai Okamura. Returning young stars include Richard Morishima, James Isobe, Alvin Agawa, Kenneth Tanaka, Lawrence Sakamoto, Kenneth Takashima, Robert Nishimoto, Gilbert Barcoma, Alan Yabui, and Paul Ambe.

Sprecks will be idle on opening day. The initial doubleheader will pit Puunene against Kahului at 12:30 p.m. and Wailuku against West Maui in the nightcap at the Kahului Fairgrounds. The teams will go into their busy two-game weekend schedule starting January 18.

Top Pistol Badge Won By Awana

Another Valley Islander, now a resident of Honolulu, recently became the holder of the nation's highest shooting award given out by the Department of the Army.

Theodore K. (Ted) Awana, Territorial Deputy Fire Marshal, joined Capt. George Roberts of the Hawaii National Guard and Capt. Dale Frazier, United States Army (ret.) as the only three people in the Islands holding the Distinguished Pistol Shot Badge. Only four months ago, M/Sgt. Gabriel Moniz of the 1st Battalion, 299th, HNG also attained the peak in rifle shooting when he was named the winner of the Distinguished Marksman Badge.

Awana, a Maui boy who served with the Honolulu Police Department for 14 years, has been trying for this award for 20 years. To win the award, he had to place within the top six percent of all competitors in the .45 caliber pistol competition at national matches three times. Participants in these national meets number anywhere from 600 to over 1,000.

The National Match Course consists of the following: 10 shots slow fire at 50 yard, 10 shots timed fire (two strings of five shots in 20 seconds) at 25 yards, and 10 shots rapid fire (two strings of five shots in 10 seconds) at 25 yards.

He captured his first "leg" in 1940 at Camp Perry, Ohio, where he placed 33rd and just barely made the grade with a score of 267 out of a possible 300. The second came in 1949 when he tied for sixth place with a 271 at Fort Sheridan, Ill. Awana realized his goal last year at Schofield Barracks by placing third with a 274 in the USA Pacific Individual Match.

INKS PRO CONTRACT

John Crow, Texas A&M's Heisman Trophy winner, signed a professional contract with the Chicago Cardinals shortly after the Aggies were beaten, 3-0, by Tennessee in the Gator Bowl.

In The Realm Of Sports

League's season-climaxing meet was truly one of the year's most thrilling events.

The second of two smokers offered at the 35th Maui County Fair gave us several rounds of the most thrilling amateur boxing matches we saw last year. And, while there were plenty of good ones in the local warm-up smokers held earlier in the year, the No. 1 fight of the year featured a pair of non-Mauians. Gary Dryden of the 14th Infantry and Alfred Santiago of the Hawaii Marines in the semi-windup of the Fair smokers. The verdict was unanimous but the judges' scorecards read 59-58, 60-59, and 59-59, with Santiago gaining the nod on all of them.

We stand now the threshold of a new year . . . 1958 . . . and here is what it will bring:

Wailuku, under the guidance of Masaru (Pundy) Yokouchi, will sweep the local baseball diadems, both the AJA Senior and the Maui Senior League, and this could be the year the bridesmaid turns bride in the Territorial AJA Tournament at the Honolulu Stadium in April. Baldwin High will retain the prep diamond title, Kahului Boys Club looms as the top team in the Pony League again, and either the VFW White Sox or the Makawao Orioles will represent the American League to win the Midget League "World Series."

St. Anthony's Trojans, undefeated in two seasons, looks headed for another championship under Coach Pete St. Sure, but Satoki Yamamoto's Lunas should be having a great year in dual competitions. Look for Alfred Domingo to become the new sprint champion, with Ruben Navarro and Alex Casil battling for the hurdles crown.

This could be THE greatest year for the Trojans, who stand a good chance of also capturing their first Maui Interscholastic League basketball championship and their first prep gridiron crown since 1951. In both cases, however, Lahainaluna will be their chief obstacle and although the Lunas may give up the cage title, the gridiron gonfalon will probably remain on the West Side.

Willie Goo will sweep his fifth "double-crown" and successfully defend his Maui Open title, although relinquishing the Territorial AJA championship. Wilfred Morreira will reign as the No. 1 local amateur fighter of the year. George Cockett looms as the next bowling Match Game champion.

Swimming on Maui will receive a new big boost with a heavy stress on reviving the wide-spread interest in age group competition enjoyed two years ago.

It could also be that the Valley Island, which made a tremendous success of the Hawaii Global Tournament in her maiden attempt, may get another crack at sponsoring the Inter-Island Baseball Championships on Labor Day weekend, 1958.

Waiehu Women To Crown Ace Of Aces Sunday

The Waiehu Women's Golf Club will start the new year with its 1957 Ace of Aces Tournament on Sunday at the Waiehu course.

Starting times, as announced by Alice Seong, follow:

11 a.m.—Pauline Leong, Sue Lau, Mae Hamura, Agnes Kahoekapu; 11:05—Shizue Nakamura, Anne Bal, Kay Murayama, Haru Kanemitsu; 11:15—Adele Kahalekai, Elizabeth Anakalea, Alice Seong, Alice Maio.

The club's match play champion will also be crowned this weekend. Finalists are Mrs. Murayama, who won 2 and 1 from Mrs. Maio, and Mrs. Seong, who defeated Mrs. Kanemitsu, 4 and 3.

WMCA To Install New Officers At Wednesday Dinner

An installation dinner, honoring the new officers of the West Maui Community Association who were elected December 16, will be held at 6:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the Pioneer Inn.

The incoming officers are E. Butler Smith, president; Lt. William Phillips, first vice president; S. H. Raymond, second vice president; Kiara Toyama, secretary; and Giichi Okahiro, treasurer.

In an effort to encourage the youth of West Maui to utilize their leisure time activities to an advantage, the association in 1957 embarked on a long-range program to provide them with a sports program. The first step was to resurface the Campbell Park basketball court and recondition the backboards. New equipment was purchased and the court lighting system was improved.

Heading these projects is Shugo Masuda, who has been re-appointed athletic director for the WMCA.

The club's match play champion will also be crowned this weekend. Finalists are Mrs. Murayama, who won 2 and 1 from Mrs. Maio, and Mrs. Seong, who defeated Mrs. Kanemitsu, 4 and 3.

BOWLING

CITY CHAMPIONSHIPS

Final details for the sixth annual Wailuku Bowling Association's City Championships were mapped out last Monday and entry blanks and the list of rules are now available at the Maui Bowling Center.

The dates for the week-long event follow: Juniors (170 and below) — January 20, 22 and 23; Seniors (171 and above) — January 27, 29 and 30. Play will start at 6:45 p.m. each night.

The five-man team event will go on first. The doubles competition will be held the second night, with the singles providing the climax. Entry fees have been lowered and they are: Team, $10 per team; doubles, $4 per team; singles, $2 per person; all-events, $1 per person.

The tournament is open to all members of the WBA. Non-members can become eligible by paying the annual $1.50 dues.

The Star Spangled Banner did not become the official national anthem until 1931. The adoption was proposed by a Maryland congressman.

Miss Fujimoto, Dr. Yamada Wed In Oahu Church

Miss Lucille Keiko Fujimoto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiroshi Fujimoto of Makawao, became the bride of Dr. Lawrence Minoru Yamada on November 30 in an afternoon wedding at the Church of the Crossroads in Honolulu.

The bride is a graduate of Maui High School, and St. Francis School of Nursing, where she received her RN degree. She also attended the University of Hawaii.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tsunehachi Yamada of Waialua, Oahu. He is a graduate of Farrington High, the University of Hawaii, and the St. Louis University School of Dentistry where he received his D.D.S.

The bride was given away in marriage by her father. She approached the altar in a ballerina length gown of lace over satin with a sabrina neckline and short sleeves. She wore a finger tip veil with a pearl crown and carried a white bible with white carnations and orchids.

She was attended by Miss Florence Furuya, her maid of honor, who wore a turquoise dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Howard Furuya was the best man and the ushers were Manford Eguchi and Larry Watanabe.

The altar was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums with white gladiolas. The church pews were graced with white carnations and baby chrysanthemums.

The Reverend Paul Miho officiated at the wedding which was followed by a reception at the courtyard of the Church of the Crossroads.

The couple honeymooned on Maui for a week following the wedding. They are making their home at Waialua, Oahu. (EB).

Fukuda, Tanouye Complete Army Finance Course

Two soldiers from Maui, Privates Gerald M. Fukuda and Walter H. Tanouye, were graduated December 18, from the eight-week finance procedures course at the Army's Finance School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

Pvt. Fukuda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitsuru Fukuda of Temple Street, Kahului, is a 1956 graduate of Baldwin High School and was formerly employed by the Maui Pineapple Cannery, while Pvt. Tanouye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kikitoshi Tanouye of Spreckelsville, graduated from Maui High School in 1957.

Both entered the Army last July and received basic training at Fort Ord, California.

Damien Amaral Wins Promotion In Air Force

Mrs. Minnie Amaral of Pukalani received word of the promotion of her son, Damien, to Airman Second Class on December 9. The letter, which came from his commanding officer, Lt. Colonel John P. Bryne, stated in part: "His promotion is especially significant at this time in view of the keen competition which is prevailing during a period of relative stability of personnel in the Air Force."

Damien is completing his second year in the Air Force and is a member of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at the Mill Valley Air Force Station in California.

He is the third in the family to enter the service.

His brother, Theodore, was just promoted as photo laboratory chief at Fort Mason, where he is presently employed as a civilian. Theodore is a Marine Corps veteran with a distinguished military record. Having being wounded twice in the Korean War he holds the Bronze Star with an oak leaf cluster. He was a combat photographer during his second tour of duty.

Another brother, John Leslie, recently completed a four-year tour of duty with the Marine Corps. He was recently married and is employed with the General Petroleum Corporation at Oakland, California. (EB).

January 15 Is Important Tax Day For Farmers

District Director of Internal Revenue Henry Robinson is reminding farmers in this area that Wednesday, January 15, is the last day for filing their estimated Federal income tax return for the year 1957, unless they plan to file their final return on or before February 15.

He pointed out that those farmers who file an estimated return on January 15 and pay the tax due thereon have until April 15 to file their final return and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise, the law requires that they file their final return and pay the full amount of the tax due by February 15.

Mr. Robinson pointed out that this option is available to farmers only. The tax law defines a farmer as one who derives two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming.

Blank forms may be obtained from the nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Mr. Robinson said that everyone who had a gross income (not net) of $600 or more during the past year must file a Federal income tax return, whether or not any tax is owed. The only exception to this rule is that if you are 65 years of age or over at the end of the year, you are not required to file a return unless your gross income was $1,200 or more.

President Andrew Johnson was impeached by the House of Representatives and acquitted by the Senate.

Holy Innocents Episcopal Church

Starting tomorrow (Sunday) the schedule of services will be back to normal. There will be Holy Communion at 7 a.m. At 9 a.m. there will be the regular Sunday School for the young people in the Parish Hall and a Bible study class for adults, led by the Vicar and held in the Church. This should prove most interesting in view of Mr. Hanchett's recently completed period of study at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific.

At 10 a.m. the Family Worship hour will be held and since this is the first Sunday of the month, it will also be a service of Holy Communion. Immediately after this service the Vestry will meet. In the evening, at 6:30, the young people, led by the Episcopal Young Churchmen, will hold an Epiphany service climaxed by a Feast of Lights. Following this, ice cream and cake will be served in the Parish Hall. All of the Congregation are urged to be present.

It was most gratifying to see the Church practically filled on Christmas Eve. This midnight service was the first to be led by our Vicar after his return from the Mainland and it made him very happy to have so many of his friends turn out. Those attending the service felt that it was an especially inspiring one and brought the full meaning of Christmas very close.

At the Christmas Eve service, two beautiful altar vases were dedicated. These were presented to our Church by Jessie Searle Morris in memory of her father, Rev. Richard C. Searle who was Vicar of Holy Innocents back in 1875. The vases have a double significance in that they were made from the wood of the monkeypod trees cut down to make room for the addition to St. Andrew's Cathedral. We are grateful to Mr. Morris for this gift.

The service on Christmas Day was not as well attended as it should have been, but those of us who came felt that it was very meaningful.

There were quite a few visitors at the Christmas Eve service. Since it was impossible to get all of the names, no attempt will be made to list any of them. However, we welcomed all of you and hope that you will be back with us often.

Last Sunday, all Sunday School classes met for a short service in the Church, led by Robert Asato. Stuart Hanchett served as acolyte. Some Christmas carols were sung and Christmas prayers were offered. The Ven. Claude Du Teil made a short talk on Christmas to the children.

At the 10 a.m. service Mr. Du Teil preached and was assisted by Layreaders Adolph Leong and Jack Keppeler. Scott Bowmer served as acolyte and Albert Johansen as usher. Sunday was exchange day in the Maui Archdeaconry and our Vicar was conducting the service at St. John's in Kula. After the service a social hour was held to bid Mr. Du Teil Aloha. This was the last service at which he will be with us as he leaves in about three weeks for a new post at Kailua on Oahu.

Coming events: Monday — Woman's Auxiliary, Parish Hall, 7 p.m.; Thursday—Choir practice, 7 p.m.; Friday—Episcopal Young Churchmen and Bees and Gees, 7 p.m.

Last Sunday's Bulletin erroneously set January 10 as a work day to clean up and fix up our Church premises. The date should have been Saturday, January 11. Won't you all turn out with a picnic lunch and let's get the work all done at once.

See you in Church Sunday and EVERY SUNDAY.

Baha'i World Faith

"All human action and thought—all our feelings—spring from the mysterious depths of our beings."

"Somewhere in those mysterious depths of the unconscious lies our supreme endowment as human beings—capacity to know, to love and to obey God, which is also capacity to reject, and deny God. Always and ever, whether we realize it or not, we draw nearer to the divine Wisdom or we are turning away. The world can give us no sure test to determine which direction we are taking. This the individual must learn for himself."

"No man acquires true self and respect until he loves the Word of God; and no man can truly respect others until he has attained respect for the divine creation within himself."

"All things in life change, sometimes slowly and sometimes quickly. We do not notice the gradual changes, but the sudden change comes like a great shock. We are frequently stunned or filled with grief. Death comes suddenly, but like birth, death is an open door to a new and greater life."—Baha'i Writings.

Special Class Program Held At Puunene Center

Friends were invited to visit the Special Class (Retarded children) at the Puunene Center on the morning of December 19th, when Christmas songs and the rhythm band were featured on the program.

Santa Claus was there, too, with a cherry personal greeting and a gift for each member of the class; and of course there were candies and cookies and soda pop, and fun for all.

The Christmas decorations were admired — especially those that showed the handiwork of the children. There was a spirit of radiant happiness in the air—the true Christmas spirit. It seems safe to say that in Maui's schools that morning, there was not a happier group than this.

On Sunday the twenty-second, the Sunday Schools of the Nahiku, Kailua and Huelo churches, were invited to attend the Christmas celebration in the Kalanapueo Church, as were also the children of the neighborhood. Evidently remembering that "it is more blessed to give than to receive," the children of the assembled Sunday Schools sent their collection—amounting to more than fifty dollars—as a gift to Maui's Association to Help Retarded Children.

Dance Number Steals Show At Kahului School

"Twinkling Toes", a puppet-like dance number utilizing ten students in all, stole the show at the annual Christmas program presented outdoors on December 19 by the pupils of Kahului School.

Presented by the sixth graders under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Mukai and Jimmy Yanagida, the act featured five students who lent their expressive faces and hands for the dancing toes while the other five used their arms and hands for the swaying hands. They fitted into cute paintings of five dancing dolls, tiny and charming.

A beautiful setting, painted by Saburo Ebisu of the faculty, formed the background for the program. Each grade gave a performance portraying a phase of the Christmas story.

Mrs. Emmaline Eldredge led the assembly in the singing of the song, "Joy to the World" at the end of the program, which showed lots of hard work and ingenuity. (FAA).

Wahine O'LAHAINA
by VI HARPER

Happy New Year!

Say, ain't that a heck of a note to have to write a column on New Year's Day? Oh me!

Come to think about it, it is a beautiful day in more ways than one. It is typical Lahaina weather (for those of you who are far away). The West Maui Mountains are tapping the white fluffy clouds of rainfall always stored there, which, of course, makes the mountains beautifully green and lush.

Then there is the blue sky, exceeded in color depth only by the blue-blue sea.

Lanai seems to have its best 1958 dress on because the gulches are dimly shaded to the dark green tones, blending into some of the red patches we can see only on clear days. Molokai flanks us to the north, while Kahoolawe thumb-tacks us down on the Hilo side. These are friends to us, always.

Speaking of friends, we greeted the New Year last night with all our good friends. That comes to us now, and points up the value of good friendship year in and year out.

It's a downright good feeling to be amongst friends and to have that feeling expressed with a handshake, a friendly smile, and, even better, the personal word that a Happy New Year is wished to you personally.

When young and old can gather together and have happy times, when they can continue to maintain that friendly attitude, it's a sure sign that there is yet hope that this same condition can exist world-wide.

This we all pray for, and may 1958 be the turning point in world history, and make our old world progress to the Nth degree of peace on earth as wished from the first day forward.

Oh boy! Now that's off my chest, and if this makes you feel good—it's no secret that it is our wish that this feeling goes forth from our house to yours, from your house to the next, from Lahaina to Wailuku, from Wailuku to other Maui communities, from Maui to other Islands, from the Islands to the Mainland, and you can take the spreading chestnut tree from there!

Fete Daughter And Son-In-Law

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Silva of Pukalani feted their daughter, Beverly, and her husband Philip Gogo, at a reunion dinner at the Vineyard Chop Suey in Wailuku on Sunday night which was attended by some 30 relatives and close friends of the family.

It was Beverly's first trip home since her marriage to Mr. Gogo on November 22. Mr. and Mrs. Gogo arrived on Maui on December 23 to spend the holidays here. It was Mr. Gogo's first trip here.

Mrs. Gogo is a graduate of Maui High School. She received her degree in education at the University of Oregon. Both she and her husband are teachers in Portland, Oregon, where they make their home. Beverly teaches at the Abernethy School while her husband a graduate of Lewis & Clark, teaches at Lynch Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Gogo are leaving Maui on January 4 and will depart the same night from Honolulu via Pan American Airlines. (EB).

THE STEVE ALLEN SHOW

Anthony Perkins, star of the new Broadway hit "Look Homeward Angel," will both act and sing on "The Steve Allen Show" Sunday, January 5, KMVI-TV when the all-star guest roster includes George London, Getrude Berg, Mahalia Jackson and the United Nations Choir.

Steve Allen will narrate original, off-beat comment as a "Cavalcade of Comedy." These are specially-chosen film clips of highlights from the funniest silent films made by Laurel and Hardy, Jean Harlow, Carole Lombard, Will Rogers, Ben Turpin and others.

Guest stars that night will be Anthony Perkins, George London, Gertrude Berg, Mahalia Jackson and the United Nations Choir.

"FURY"

Uncle Chris, a kindly gold prospector, helps Joey and Pee Wee to understand the true meaning of Christmas in "The Wayfarer" on "Fury" Channel 12, KMVI-TV Sunday, January 5, at 6:00 p.m.

"WAGON TRAIN"

An over-ambitious wife, unhappy with frontier life, takes a desperate risk in "The Clara Beaucham Story," starring Nina Foch and featuring Shepperd Sturdwick, on "Wagon Train" Sunday, January 5, on KMVI-TV.

"LORETTA YOUNG SHOW"

Because of popular demand "The Loretta Young Show" will re-run the Yuletide program of last year titled "Three and Two, Please" in which Sister Ann (Loretta Young) brings a special Christmas into the lives of her hospital patients, Sunday, January 5 at 9:30 p.m. on KMVI-TV. Richard Morris wrote and directed this heart-warming story from a series of true incidents he observed while watching a nun, the head nurse, in a hospital that he was visiting. Morris says: "I was impressed with her incredible skill and humor. The incidents in this play are fictionized from true vignettes. She was a dainty amazingly efficient little nun. When she was wanted her call numbers in the hospital were '3 and 2.' That explains the title". The day before Christmas dawns just like any other day to the patients at Mercy Hospital, drab and pain-filled. But Sister Ann makes it a very special time.

"DINAH SHORE SHOW"

Special guests on the "Dinah Shore Show," Monday, January 6, at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 12, will be Esther Williams, Roy Rogers, The Sons of the Pioneers, and Dizzy Dean. Dinah and Miss Williams will do a duet "It's A Lovely Day Today." Other members on the show will include special holiday songs in which Dinah is joined by the entire company.

"BOB CUMMINGS SHOW"

It's Christmas Eve, and at "Bob's Christmas Party," bachelor-photographer Bob Collins (Bob Cummings) is scheming to get Miss Sweden (Ingrid Goude) under the mistletoe on KMVI-TV "The Bob Cummings Show" Saturday at 7:30.

Several others plotters, however, join with Schultzy (Ann B. Davis), who has planted the entire ceiling with mistletoe, in diverting Bob's attention.

"THE THIN MAN"

Sophisticated sleuth Nick Charles (Peter Lawford) goes on a TV quiz show as a contestant in the Saturday episode of KMVI-TV "The Thin Man" entitled "Dead Giveaway" at 8.

One of the objects to be identified is a poison box from the Medici period. When Nick's opponent examines it, he is pricked by a needle in the box and falls to the ground, stricken. Then, while a doctor examines the ailing contestant, the moderator drops to the ground, dead. Nick takes up the matter of solving the crime and in the course of doing so, finds half the items in the studio are poisoned.

Nora (Phyllis Kirk) and Asta (himself) form a highly interested part in the audience.

"YOUR HIT PARADE"

"Your Hit Parade" puts out the musical welcome mat for St. Nick as traditional songs of Yuletide blend with the nation's top tunes on the special Christmas show Saturday at 8:30 on Channel 12, KMVI-TV.

"GISELE MACKENZIE SHOW"

The Yuletide season is the theme of KMVI-TV "The Gisele Mackenzie Show" Saturday at 9:30. Gisele will sing "Too Fat For the Chimney," "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town," and a French version of "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer."

"NAT 'KING' COLE SHOW"

Night club and record favorite Billy Eckstine will guest with "the King" on KMVI-TV "Nat 'King' Cole Show" Saturday at 10. Nat will offer "When You're Smiling," "The Party's Over," "Blossoms Fell" and "The Christmas Song."

Eckstine will sing his recent record hit — "If I Can Help Somebody" and will join voices with Cole for a medley of some of the top tunes of the day.

"DAVY CROCKETT"

The legendary friendship between Davy Crockett and Red Hawk which ended in a tragic duel for survival between the two is the climax of the story of "Davy Crockett, Indian Scout", which the "Matson Movie" presents Monday at 9:00 p.m. on KMVI-TV. George Montgomery is seen in the title role with Ellen Drew and Philip Reed as Red Hawk. "Davy Crockett, Indian Scout", a cousin of the famous Davy of Alamo fame, proves there's fight galore in all the Crocketts judging by the stampeding action on view Monday night at 9:00 p.m.

"PEOPLE ARE FUNNY"

Shirley Saunders and Bob Kardell, the Univac-hypnotism couple, come back and play the anagram game for $10,000 — on their way to $20,000 on Art Linkletter's "People Are Funny" show, Tuesday, January 7, on KMVI-TV Channel 12.

In another stunt, the first girl chosen by Univac will return to the show with the husband of her own — rather than Univac's — choosing. They will be given a choice of three wedding presents.

Finally, two boys try to pick one of the three dogs worth $500, $150 and $5 in cash, respectively.

"MEET McGRAW"

Hitchhiking across the desert, McGraw comes across the body of an artist who has apparently died while at work in "The Joshua Tree" on NBC-TV's "Meet McGraw," starring Frank Lovejoy, Tuesday, January 7 at 9:00 on KMVI-TV Channel 12.

Reporting the incident to the police, McGraw is dissatisfied with their view that death was due to natural causes since the man possessed no means of transportation.

Featured are Marie Windsor as the dead mans wife, Paul Fix as his best friend and Eugene Martin as the little boy who provides the key to the mystery.

"THE FORD SHOW"

MacDonald Carey and Tennessee Ernie Ford will offer some advice to parents whose children squabble over Christmas toys when MacDonald guests on Ernie's "The Ford Show" on KMVI-TV, Tuesday at 9:30.

"FATHER KNOWS BEST"

When a family feud threatens the Anderson's Yuletide spirit, Kathy (Lauren Chapin) learns how a special gift can bring peace in "The Angel's Sweater," repeat Christmas telecast on NBC-TV's "Father Knows Best" Wednesday, January 8, 7:00 p.m. on KMVI-TV Channel 12.

Aunt Neva (Katherine Warren), visiting the Andersons (Robert Young and Jane Wyatt) for the holidays, distrusts the children — chiefly Kathy.

When the water pipes burst on Christmas Eve, the plumber, Mr. Fixit, (Ludwig Stoessel) is called.

STEVE ALLEN

GIVE THE POLICE THE JOB

The core of a sound, efficient civil defense system rests with the civil police departments of each County and no other agency under existing conditions is capable of coordinating Territorywide activities in time of emergency.

Chief Lane has nailed the problem down to a simple formula, one that would link the police departments into the disaster warning system and give to them the position of command.

The total communication breakdown during Hurricane Nina confirms Maui's police chief's contention and lays it right in the laps of General Fred A. Makinney and his CD director, Tom Walker.

The civil defense set-up in the Territory has neither the manpower nor the equipment for close-harmony coordination and cooperation with the Outside Islands and, to add further weight to Chief Lane's arguments, the chiefs of the three Outside Islands are, in fact, deputy directors of civil defense.

Someday the police departments of the Territory will be given the recognition to which they are entitled on the basis of past performances. Then will Hawaii's disaster warning and defense systems be brought up to the desired high standards.

At present the best that can be said is that the radio and television stations do as best they can under unfavorable circumstances, but there is still lacking official, direct-from-headquarters information.

TESTIMONY THROUGH RED COLORED GLASSES

Abraham Lincoln Wirin's avowed intention of proving the United States to have been the aggressor in Korea will be viewed dimly by most Americans who are well aware of the historic facts of the Korean war which plainly tell a story of Communist intrigue and active participation by troops, planes and fliers from Red China and the Soviet.

But Mr. Wirin's intent and his opinion of American war guilt are of little interest to his fellow countrymen except as they reveal the general philosophy of the American Communists, Fellow Travellers and Parlor Pinks. He reflects their thinking and mouths their tenets even though he claims to be a loyal American, a statement we will accept unchallenged.

The peculiar aspect of this case is that his expenses are being paid by the country (his own) which the attorney intends to convict of aggression by securing "testimony" from sources in the Orient and from behind the Bamboo Curtain (including an interview with Chou En-Lai, the Red China butcherman and Kim Il Sun, North Korean puppet president).

Asking Chou and Kim to finger the guilty party in the Korean War is tantamount to interrogating members of the American Mobsters Guild about who killed Anastasia! And, the character of the witnesses would be just about the same, except that the gangsters might have the slight edge, simply because they do not attempt to disguise themselves beneath a false cloak of respectability, admitting that they are hoodlums and acting the part.

We predict that Mr. Wirin will return with the evidence and testimony to "prove" his country guilty as charged by himself, being as how the deck will be neatly stacked by witnesses who wouldn't dare tell the truth, even if they wished to. In Curtain countries conversation and sworn testimony have one thing in common, they both travel a one way street which has only one side. The Red burial trenches are constantly being filled by people who think and act contrary to the prescribed rules of conduct.

But American justice being what it is, and the United States being based upon rules of jurisprudence that demand a fair trial for a defendant, no matter how heinous his crime, Mr. Wirin is enjoying a three months journey behind the Curtain at government expense, even though the evidence and witnesses he will bring back (also at government expense, we presume) will surely reflect the thinking of Moscow and Peiping and their one-sided testimony might just as well be offered by stipulation of counsel.

Oh, yes, Mr. Wirin is defending a couple of American citizens indicted on charges of sedition against the country that is paying for their defense. Webster lists treason as a synonym for sedition.

We wonder how far they would get in Moscow or Peiping under the same circumstances . . . or, perhaps, that's just one subject they'd rather not discuss.

FORMAT FOR REPUBLICAN REJUVENATION

The welcome mat for "young vigorous men of ideas, even some eggheads" should be extended by the Republican Party on the national level, Publisher Philip W. Bailey writes in the 65-year-old ARGUS, published in Seattle, Washington.

The Argus takes the Republicans to task for failing to arm themselves with candidates, while replenishing the campaign coffers, saying, "What the Republicans need is less accent on money and more on intelligence." Because of its thought-provoking ideas, the comment in THE ARGUS is published herewith in full:

"The sad state of the Republican party is a subject of concern all over the country. Certainly in this state its prospects appear far from bright. Next year it will have difficulty in finding a strong candidate to run against Senator Henry M. Jackson. The Republicans also will probably lose the congressional seat presently held by Hal Holmes in the 5th District and also lose the 3rd, if Julia Butler Hanson runs against Russell Mack.

"On the state level the situation is even worse, with few able young men coming up to challenge Governor Albert Rosellini, much less anyone to oust such brilliant performers as Secretary of State Victor Meyers.

"Certainly the state and nation need two vigorous parties both representing a cross section of the electorate. Why are the Republicans having such a difficult time getting through to the voters? Recently in Seattle the Republicans held a fund-raising dinner that was highly successful. It was symptomatic of the party's difficulties. What the Republicans need is less accent on money and more on intelligence.

"The Republicans should represent the great middle class of business and professional men, the top white collar workers who expect someday to be executives, and the farmers who are basically the country's conservatives. The party should be broad enough to include teachers, educators and scientists.

"What has happened? The Republicans have identified themselves with big business to such an extent that small businessmen, teachers, farmers and the average voter are convinced their best interests are not served by supporting Republican candidates.

"Certainly on the national level, the Eisenhower administration has tapped big business nearly to the exclusion of all others. Here the party is controlled by some of the state's wealthiest men.

"For the preservation of the Republican party, the two-party system and the country, today's Republican leaders should welcome into the fold younger vigorous men of ideas, even some eggheads."

About THINGS and PEOPLE
by Edna E. Jenkins

GOOD MORNING: Seaward the great waves gather, piling high as the reef breaks their rhythmic roll and greenish blue waterfalls dissolve in a gossamer mist that blows across the lowlands.

Guess the holidays are really over when the garbage tins blossom with tinsel streaked trees and paper banners fly from the trucks. Clean up crews are taking down the lights and the night time streets have lost their glitter.

Hanaward on the worrysome rainy morning of the last day of the year to find the road soggy from the downpour, chuckholes grinding deeper with every passing car. Happy people were swishing past, children waving from the porches and calling "Happy New Year." Surprisingly, there were no landslides or downed trees, but how the road crew can keep the road passable is more than I can understand.

Into the little town, sparkling, fresh washed in the sunshine, but streaked with smoke from many fires. Wondered what had hapened until this comment from Lieutenant Leslie, "You know, I heard the first pig squeal at seven this morning." Somehow felt sort of sorry for the poor things.

Work pau, walked thru the hotel gay with lights and trees, ropes and ropes of fishtail ferns, colored curtains swayed in the breeze, guests milled about greeting friends of successive New Years.

Many were the families with children, down from the mainland for the holidays where swimming and riding kept them on the go. One couple from Arizona were making their third Hana vacation trip this year and the office reported that over 50% were returnees, and most of the rest were friends of friends.

Many of our local folk who delayed making reservations found there was no room, but seen at one large table were Millie and Andy Freitas and at another, the Oskie Rices with island friends.

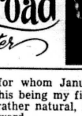
After a get-acquainted party at the Butterfields, guests sat late at dinner or danced until midnight when the fireworks on the terrace delighted the pajama clad youngsters as well as the not-so-young. Later in the evening an elaborate buffet was set up for those who stayed on for the entertainment and dancing.

Sounds like the Maui Historical Society is planning a very interesting meeting for Thursday night the 16th, at the Library. This evening will feature "Did You Know" so put on your thinking cap and come up with your questions. Answers not readily available from the wise ones in the audience, will be looked up in the reference library no farther away than the book shelves.

"Did you know that the famous Ululani Baker, Governess of Hawaii had the first automobile in Hawaii? Or the history of the Kamehameha Statue across the square from Iolani Palace? Or many other things. Do put the date on your calendar right now.

Was interested listening to one of our island college boys, home for the holidays, critically analyzing our tourist promotion with its emphasis on the Polynesian glamour, music and dancing.

He says the whole world knows the beat of our songs, but far more important is the story that EPCA can tell. He says we should tell the story of our industry, the opportunities for investment, our high living standards, our racial harmony, our cultural advances—everything that points toward a deserved statehood and not spend all our energies advertising our moonlit beaches and fluttering fingertips, which the world already knows.



Mauian Abroad
Richard H. Ritter

THE GREEK GOD JANUS, for whom January is named, faced both ways at once. This being my first New Year's season after retirement, it is rather natural, I suppose, that my thoughts seem to look backward.

Though I cannot compete with Mary Fleming in Maui Memories, even my ten years' worth are enough to bring a touch of nostalgia.

Right off the bat (or more properly speaking, the plane) our family was struck by the friendliness of the folks on Maui. There was the smiling group at the old Puunene Airport, with Bob and Phyllis Bruce and Frank and Ethel and Grail Hoogs out in front.

Bob had been the chairman of the Committee on Pastoral Supply; and what a lot of useful advance information he and Phyllis had given us!

And, as you might have guessed, not very far behind were the Tam Hoys, Pak Wongs, Carl Carlsons, Rebecca Deinert, Aki Toms, and the big-hearted Ernie and Harriet Damkroger.

"Dam" somewhat startled our New England reticence by calling us "Emma" and "Dick" at this very first meeting; but, believe me, it was much appreciated. And we soon grew to love his never failing ebullience.

Many others were there, too, who quickly came to be good friends.

The Crafts had us at their fine new house for a delicious supper. The Hoogses took Jinks into their hospitable home on High Street for that first night ("High Jinks," I called it); and the Childses graciously invited the Wahine Lani and me. It was after dark when we arrived there; and the next morning, as we entered the dining room for breakfast (theirs was the house the Wilbert Yees now own), we were left almost unable to eat by the magnificence of the sight of the harbor and Haleakala.

And there was the wonderful reception by the church, which, I think, will linger in our minds after many other impressions grow dim.

Recall, please, that languorous Philadelphia, punctilious New York, courtly Peking, and staid New England formed our background. Then gaze upon our expressions as Elizabeth Lum Ho broke into one of her striking hulas, the first we had ever seen! And Henry Kupahu, too, did his "inebriated grandmother" dance.

Very proper, of course, and nothing unworthy of a parish hall. But not, by any stretch of the imagination, similar to the farewell reception held for us only a few weeks previously in Connecticut!

A really good time (not your elegantly, restrained, but an easy and completely genuine good time) was had by all, and—in particular,—by the Ritters. No ice was on hand to be broken; but the warmth of the South Seas engulfed us right there, and never once ebbed.

And speaking of ice, we had left New York (where we had been spending a few days with my parents) in the midst of the biggest blizzard since 1888. Changing trains in Chicago we walked along sleet-slippery side-walks, all bundled in overcoats, ear muffs, rubbers and gloves. And then, presto, Maui!

On our first Sunday there, the church's Teen-age Club (now called Pilgrim Fellowship) with George and Alta Craft as advisers and Bob as president, invited us to a swim (a SWIM, mind you, and OUTDOORS!) over Kihei way. And we SWAM, in JANUARY! We lolled about the beach, looked at another breath-taking view, and made acquaintance with the Fleming boys and Lois Bruce, Kenneth Tom, the three Barbaras (Coleman, Jackson, Sinclair), and other "kids," and a few parents. We were really frightened lest all this turn out to be a dream. But we never did awake, for ten whole years.

Sandersons: It's all yours now. Enjoy it while you may!

And a happy forward look to all!

FLASH—at long last I have the correct address for Evelyn and Harry Seebart. Quite a few folks called me before Christmas, while they were getting out their Christmas cards and all I could give was the temporary Fresno address. So here it is: 1923 N. 44th Place, Phoenix, Arizona.

Evelyn says the family is well now, but all four of them were down with the flu in December. Jackie and Eddie Lei are doing fine in school and they like Phoenix. I know the Seebarts will be happy to hear from those who did not send a card due to lack of address.

Alaeloa has two families who "exist" on the mainland 'till such time as they can spend a few months on Maui. Just before Christmas Helen Knandel returned and next Monday the Ralph Coatsworths will be here. We are glad to see all of these folks and look forward to the time when they will decide to forget about returning to the Mainland entirely.

Edythe Serra wrote the Wrights a lengthy letter which is being passed around to her friends and she promises to write more as time goes on. She is well settled in San Jose in Mrs. Shoup's home, which she says is very lovely. The boys are lined up in good schools nearby. The Rev. Mr. Murdoch of Trinity Episcopal Church there has lined her up for Woman's Auxiliary and the boys as Acolytes. Mr. Murdoch, incidentally, was at Virginia Theological Seminary while Claude Du Teil was there. I know Edythe would love to hear from her friends, so here is the address again: 1472 Burell Court, San Jose 26, California.

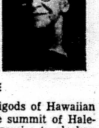
The many Lahaina friends of Mrs. H. Alton Rogers were saddened to hear of her death. She was held in High esteem by a large segment of the West Side and our sympathy goes out to Mr. Rogers and to Patricia and John.

At this point may I address a few words to the Congregation of St. Christopher's Church in Kailua on Oahu. You are to be congratulated for securing the Rev. Claude Du Teil as your new minister. Although Claude was not a resident of Lahaina he was well and favorably known to many in Lahaina and we will miss him here almost as much as those in Wailuku will miss him. During the Rev. Lani Hanchett's absence on the Coast, Claude was especially helpful in keeping up the interest at Holy Innocents church. We all wish him well in the new location and we hope he returns to Maui, including Lahaina, now and then. We hope that he brings his charming wife Bert and his lively youngsters, also.

It is nice to see Mary Rene and "Father" Brooks around Lahaina. Father seems to have recovered well from his illness and looks as hale and hearty (and also as "fat and sassy") as ever. We are also glad to see Richal Smith who came in from the Coast to spend Christmas with Hazel and Buddy Smith. Richal will graduate from the University later on this year with degrees in both Electrical and Civil Engineering. Julie and Jack Keppeler have as their guests Jack's Mother and Father as well as his sister Leilani who is a Senior at Punahou. Lorraine & Will Iaconetti have Will's sister and her husband visiting them for about ten days. The Jones' come from Berkeley where Mr. Jones is with the C.A.A. They love the Islands and particularly Napili Bay.

To those thousands of avid readers of this column who just cannot get enough of the pearls written there, you are in luck. The Bird has agreed to keep on writing the Holy Innocents News column which comes out each Saturday. While I must keep up a Jekyl and Hyde split personality since the Church column must have some dignity, you will still have about fifty per cent more of my pearls to read each week, even though they will be in a slightly different vein. There will usually be some items of general interest therein.

Aloha.



I Remember...
By MARY ELSPETH FLEMING

KAUWIKI AND NOENOE

MAUI was one of the most powerful demigods of Hawaiian legendry. It was he who climbed to the summit of Haleakala and snared the sun and made him promise to slacken his pace in his journey across the heavens—thus allowing Hina (Maui's mother) enough time to dry her tapas.

After his encounter with the sun, Maui journeyed through Kaupo Gap down toward the ocean. Passing Kipahulu, he proceeded toward Hana, stopping often to admire the scenery along the way. Although this was his first visit to Hana, the scenic spots looked familiar to him: he had heard of them all, in story and song.

Thrilled by its natural beauty, he decided to remain in Hana for the rest of his life. After building a neat little grass hut on Kaluaniho, overlooking the village, he wooed and won a pretty girl. They lived happily in the new grass hut.

Early every morning, Maui climbed to the top of the hill to see the sunrise. One morning the scene was one of unusual beauty: a soft gray mist which had been blown in over the ocean, seemed to be laden with myriads of tiny raindrops which shone in irridescent effects of gold and red and violet. Maui spelledbound, watched the changing colors.

A few days later, when a little daughter came into the hut on the hill, the father announced her name: "Noenoe Ua Kea O Hana" (light, misty rains of Hana).

Noenoe was very beautiful. Being the daughter of a demigod, she was not allowed to play with the children of common people. She often played alone on the beach, gathering shells and pretty mosses.

In a green valley, near Kaluaniho, there was a pool of clear water which was the favorite resort of the menehune. Their laughter and merriment were often heard by travelers passing by. Everybody was warned not to go near the pool. It was tabu for any one to look upon these little people— and death for anybody who broke that tabu.

Noenoe was curious about the menehunes. When she heard their merry voices, one night at full moon, her curiosity overcame her better judgment. She thought: "Surely one look at them as they play in the pool could not do any harm. My father could not be angry with me for that!"

Stealthily she crept along in the shade of a kukui tree, until she reached a place where she could look into the pool. Then she saw the little men—hundreds of them—cavorting in the water, while their little brown bodies shone in the moonlight.

Fascinated, she watched them for a few minutes. Then starting to go home, she saw a young man approaching. She tried to run away, but he caught, and held her, saying "Noenoe, you have broken the law of the menehune: you cannot escape the consequences. Stay with me: I love you, and I will try to save you."

Although Noenoe had never before seen the youth, she knew that he was Kauwiki, the adopted son of the menehune. According to rumor, he had come to them floating on the ocean, a gift from the great god, Kanaloa. It was a case of love at sight: Noenoe and Kauwiki planned to flee together for safety.

Suddenly, they heard the voice of Maui, saying: "No, my daughter, you cannot escape thus. Kauwiki came from the sea, and to it he may return; but you must remain here to bear the consequences of your disobedience." Then, seeing that the two preferred death to separation, he added, "Ah! I have a plan for you."

While he was still speaking, the two lovers vanished, and in the place where they had been standing, there arose a hill (Kauwiki) crowned with a mass of soft, misty rain clouds (Noenoe).

There they may be seen today—Kauwiki and Noenoe—together for all time.

HEAR YE, HEAR YE, HEAR YE — The TOWN CRIER Says

Howdy Folks . . .

I wonder how many old timers remember Tom Boles who used to be superintendent of Hawaii National Park back in those dear dead Roaring Twenties? . . . Anyway it seems that Tom never forgot Hawaii . . . another Tom . . . another National Parker . . . Tom Whitcraft passed on to me a clipping from the Carlsbad (New Mexico) Current Argus which tells about Brother Boles giving the business to three of the high school science classes in Carlsbad!

It seems that friend Boles after being in Hawaii National Park for five years was transferred to Carlsbad Cavern . . . another National Park headline spot . . . stayed there for 20 years . . . as superintendent . . . and then moved on to Hot Springs National Park in Arkansas . . . when he retired . . . he moved back to Carlsbad . . . Incidentally he edits the Carlsbad Rotary club publication "The Cavern." Regarding Colonel (He was a major when I knew him) Boles the Carlsbad newshen that wrote the piece in the paper had this to say . . .

"Colonel Boles told about seeing volcanic eruptions . . . and running from volcanic eruptions and earthquakes in the Hawaiian Islands.

Now . . . the doughty Col. Boles may have called that running . . . but as I remember the day that Kilauea erupted explosively for the first time in 150 years . . . as I passed Tom Boles (both of us leaving Halemaumau . . . but fast) . . . he looked like he was standing still . . . I went down that lava trail so fast that as I turned a corner . . . my hip pockets dipped lava dust!

But to get on with the Boles saga in the Carlsbad press . . .

One of the stories Boles related was about how he and Mrs. Boles bundled up their daughter Margaret, and ran from ash clouds from Kilauea volcano!

The epic continues . . . another was about a priest who in trying to prove to the residents in the village of Hoopoloa that he could save the town from volcanic lava by making it break and go around the village . . . the priest did so . . . BUT WHEN THE NATIVES STARTED TO LEAVE THE VILLAGE, ANYWAY, THE SPELL WAS BROKEN AND THE VILLAGE WAS SOON COVERED WITH LAVA.

The newspaper scribe then went on to explain that Colonel Boles had survived 7,200 earthquakes and 40 volcanic eruptions in Hawaii.

Now . . . if any doubting Thomas . . . doubts the story of Thomas given by Thomas . . . I want to tell you that Kilauea was blowing its top just about every six hours . . . right on schedule . . . it took just that long for the slides to choke up the passages and the gases to form . . . and then . . . WHAMMO! . . . Thar she blows! . . . Everybody was ordered out of the park . . . but six of us . . . we were there as observers . . . we kept a Cadillac running night and day . . . in those stirring days it was . . . ROLL AND ROCK . . . the terrain would roll every four or five minutes and the Rocks . . . every six hours . . . up to eight tons in weight and . . . WHITE HOT . . . and while the priest story seems a little on the wishful thinking side . . . those 7,200 EARTHQUAKES WERE THE REAL McCOY . . . and I imagine the seismograph records of that time will bear Mister Boles out . . . the quakes were kicking the gismo off every couple of minutes for a fortnight . . . which is TWO WEEKS!

MANCHESTER (VT.) JOURNAL (Rep.) says:

. . . . Just recently the owner of a small bus line in Newport in the north part of the state, gave notice that service would be discontinued for lack of patronage. Residents demand the service, but except in cases of bad weather or when the family car is laid up or busy, they would not use the bus.

As the Rutland Herald remarked: "The story is a familiar one—as familiar as the tale often heard of the hearing on discontinuance of a railroad's passenger service, attended by some 50 or more persons living along the line, but of whom just one had traveled to the hearing by rail and he was a clergyman traveling at reduced fare. The others had gone by car."

CAMDEN (S. C.) CHRONICLE (Ind.) says:

It is forecast that by 1965, and perhaps sooner, there will be 81 million motor vehicles registered in this country, as against 66,275,000 now. This gives special relevance to a statement by Lewis H. Mumford, an authority on city planning: "Americans who once sang, 'We love our rocks and rills, we love our templed hills' now could accurately sing, 'We love our expressways and parking lots, big cloverleaves and traffic knots.'"
