Chairman who will secure donors for the blood bank for the Organization Reserve plan.
Under this plan, members of an organization may start a reserve with the blood bank for the benefit of themselves and their families. A chairman is appointed to the members. The blood bank contacts this person in all matters regarding the use of the Reserve; reports to the chairman whenever someone donates to the Reserve and sends confirming reports whenever someone uses blood from the Reserve.

The advance of the Organization plan, according to blood bank officials, is that it protects those members who for one reason or another are not able to donate blood. Donations are good until used.

Morgan is attempting to set up a full schedule for the March 7-8 visit of the blood bank. Organizations have been asked to contact Morgan at phone 2792 at the earliest possible date with names of donors.

nitiative was voiced by Supervisor John Dole. "As far as I am concerned you can do away with the committee. The seven of us, members of the board, should run the County."
When County Chairman Eddie Tan asked Dole whether he would like to serve on the transportation committee, Dole retorted: "As long as you are chairman I will serve on a committee. I did your work as chairman of the Public Works Committee and you did not appreciate it. Supervisor J. Ha Cockett said, 'I told this committee is important. I think the committee should be given the right to carry on. They are doing a good job.'"

Superior Francis Kage felt that "the board established the transportation committee because of confusion between the carriers. Either throw the KAHULUI Railroad under the Public Utilities Commission and do away with this committee or let them carry the ball all the way."
Chairman Tan said, "there are six independent carriers besides the KRR. If the PTC took over tendence that will warrant the repetition of this experiment.

At the present time, Hughes added, negotiations are in progress for bringing the world famous Trap singers, the Honolulu Jilior symphony and other outstanding musical events to Maui and this can be accomplished at a reasonable price if the attendance shows that the Maui public is interested.

I feel the small carriers would be out of business. That is the reason for this committee. It was established to help the railroad and to save the small carriers."
Superior Robert J. Shimoda said he felt the committee should continue at least until the next legislature when the County might succeed in getting the five percent public utilities tax money for the County.

Superior Mannel Rodriguez, who went over the Transportation Control Committee's head in getting the board to advertise for bids for the establishment of a Kahului to Wailuku school bus route, was about as Supervisor Shigeru Mura.
According to the Transportation Control Ordinance, the "Committee by order shall have the power to fix, prescribe and establish routes, schedules, rates, standards of safety and insurance requirements."

In closing Trask said his committee will give full reports of their activities to the board of supervisors hereafter.

will not be up to par with secondary regional highways. He revealed that the work crews would "keep working until the money gave out" on the improvement of feeder roads leading to the Kahului-Honolulu highway.

Actual heavy work is pending completion of the quonset huts being erected at Kahului for the purpose of housing the prisoner road crew and its supervisors. About 25 prisoners will be used on the project. They have been out at Kahului since December, doing light work on the road and getting the quonset huts ready.
A water pipe line has already been laid to the same place. It is expected to be similar to that constructed at Kanaia, when prisoners were working on the Pihai highway linking Uluapuka with Hanalei.

Episcopal Church to Celebrate

Far Eastern history at Emory University in Georgia.

William A. Nelson, chairman in charge of local arrangements, says the group of dignitaries will arrive at 10:20 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 6, and will depart for the Big Island, Thursday, at 10:30 a.m.
Others coming to the Valley will be the Most Reverend Michael Mitsue Yasutiro, presiding bishop of the church in Japan; Rev. Howard K. Mowll, Primate of the Church of England in Australia and Archbishop of Sydney; the Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Hock, bishop of California; the Rt. Rev. Eric Riley, bishop of Los Angeles.

The Rt. Rev. Donald Campbell, Suffragan Bishop of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Campbell; the Rt. Rev. William P. Remington, recently retired Suffragan Bishop of Pennsylvania; and Mrs. Remington; the Rt. Rev. Richard A. Kirkhofner, bishop of Indianapolis, Ind.; the Rev. Clarence Hayden, executive director of the Presiding Bishop's Committee for Laymen; and Mrs. David West of Minneapolis, member of the National Council of the Episcopal church.

Several churches will join with the church of the Holy Cross, St. John's, to sing from the stage of Baldwin auditorium during the celebration.

One of the principal points of interest to the visiting Episcopal dignitaries will be St. John's church on the slope of Haleakala at Kula. St. John's church was built in 1906, just four years after the work of the Anglican church was transferred to the jurisdiction of the American Episcopal church in Hawaii.

Two years before the transfer in 1902, Bishop Willis had visited Kula, for the first time at the invitation of Shim Yin Chin. At a church service in the old Kamehameha native church, which is known as the Haleakala church, Bishop Willis baptized nine adults who were the first members of St. John's mission. After investigating the field, Bishop Willis took Shim Yin Chin and his work in to the church. In the subsequent years, Shim was ordained deacon and priest of the Episcopal church.

It was Shim who picked out a site for St. John's church and obtained from the government a piece of land which he thought was only one acre, but later found it was almost 10 acres. Funds for the building of St. John's came from Shim's friends in the islands with the help of St. Peter's church of Honolulu and District Women's Auxiliary. A vicarage was built in 1913 with money raised by Shim from his business friends both on the island of Maui and in Honolulu.

After the death of the Rev. Shim Yin Chin the work was carried on at Kula, and in the fall of 1948 the Vestry of St. Elizabeth's Parish, Honolulu, accompanied by its 1935 by Mr. Hoover, and has since graduated 2,424 officers. The academy, available throughout the United States, the territories, and in friendly foreign countries, to pass on as instructors and executives in their departments the techniques learned during their schooling at the FBI Academy.

This school, established by Mr. Hoover, was designed to elevate the standards of law enforcement at state, local and county levels. The entire training program, which is conducted in Washington, D.C., is furnished to the states and to police officers, their only cost being subsistence and travel expenses.

The Academy has two sessions a year, with each limited to approximately 200 men. Chief Lane will be the sixth instructor in law enforcement in the Territory to receive such training. Others in the Territory who have attended the Academy are Chief Assistant H. Paul, County of Hawaii police department; Chief of Police, Ed with K. Kowale, County of Kauai police department; Lieutenant Ronald H. Harrington, Honolulu police department; Lieutenant Francis B. De Melio, County of Maui police department; and Assistant Chief George A. K. Martin, County of Hawaii police department.

Mr. Weeks advised that the instructor, the Rev. Val On Shin, son of Rev. Shim Yin Chin, went to see the Rev. Harry S. Kenney, D.D., bishop of the Central Pacific. They requested to continue the work of St. John's church in Kula as a missionary project of the parish. The work of St. John's is now continuing under the sponsorship of St. Elizabeth's.
The growth of St. John's under the leadership of Bishop Kenney necessitated a resident priest. Bishop Kenney commissioned the Rev. Hugh L. S. Thompson as the vicar in residence for Kula. The Rev. Mr. Thompson and his family moved from Kula to Maui and took up the work of St. John's at the latter part of February, 1950.

Only One Day Left For Nimrods

Season To End Today;
Apo, Dr. Nashida
Top Hunters

By JOE MEDEIROS
(Biologist, Board of Agriculture & Forestry)

Wednesday, January 30 (today) will be the very last opportunity for all licensed hunters to bag their feathered quarry.

From the rough furies handed in by hunters, we can estimate a sack ratio of one cock to four hen pheasants. "If" wildlife circles this is considered a very good post-hunting sex ratio, because this shows our population is now predominantly females, the many facturers of future populations, yet enough males remain to bring on a good fertility and hatchability for the coming egg crop.

Hunting conditions in general have been quite tough this past month. There are, however, several areas where good hunting is still available.

Peter Apo and Dr. Stanley Nashida were the top hunters with their total bag of two birds apiece for a day's hunt. Both men remarked that they really had to work for their birds. "Top weight" hunters went to Kenneth McElroy of Makawae, a 3-pound, 10-ounce pheasant being its prized trophy. Robert Kira checked in a 1-pound, 12-ounce bird as the lightest for the weekend.

With the close of the hunting season, I would like to thank my wide reading public of two persons, my wife and I, for the many kind remarks handed in concerning the weekly column. I will try to keep you posted whenever anything new comes up concerning our wildlife picture on our Maui No Ka Oi.

These portraits were drawn by Daniel Tan Lung and Mitsuegi Shiyama. George Ito was chairman of this month's display. MCA—Jane Ichijau.

Norma Davis Weds Richard Taliaferro

Miss Norma Renee Davis became the bride of Richard Henry Taliaferro in a service held at the Waiuku Union church at four o'clock on Saturday, January 26. Reverend Richard Rittler performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, Emil Davis, of Pauwela, wore a lovely white satin brocade bolero and carried white hibiscus with strands of crown flowers. Her sister, Mrs. Stanley Williams, served as matron of honor and chose a bolero of yellow satin. Mrs. Pat Walker, the only other attendant, wore a bolero similar in style and fabric to pale blue. Both attendants carried bouquets of hibiscus detailed with ti. James Monroe was the best man. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Davis wore a floor length gown of rose crepe with an orchid corsage of the same shade. Mrs.

Government Operation Study Asked

LAHAUNA, Jan. 24—Organize a "government operation committee" to check and to analyze the territorial and county government expenditures and operations, said Shunichi Mizuno, past president of the Maui County Chamber of Commerce, speaking to the members of the West Maui Lions club Tuesday night at the Iolani Inn.

He advised the West Maui service club members that as leaders in the community they should spearhead the committee in the district. Mizuno deplored the lack of interest by the citizens in how the government operates, or why the ever-increasing taxes for "it" is your money they are spending, and if you don't like anything, you are doing injustice to your children (who will have to pay).

He called attention to the tremendous increase in the governmental cost in the past 11 years. From 1941 to 1951—the territorial government, from $18 million to $77 million; the Maui County from $1½ million to $4½ million, in spite of the loss in population of 4,000 during this period.

He advocated the formation of the "government operation committee" in every district for "control" in every district for "control" through the combined efforts can anything be accomplished.

Earlier in the program, Clinton Ellinger, teacher at Lahauna High school, was introduced to the club members by Dr. Toshi Kawaihara, chairman of the membership committee, part of the Melvin Jones anniversary toast. Dr. William E. Toney was the speaker.

Ellinger is the third member of the club. The others are S. Matsushima, agriculturalist at Baldwin Packers, Ltd., and T. Yamamoto, assistant I. E. County agent in west Maui, who were introduced by Jean L. Lane, past district governor.

Kam Request For T H Loan Would Save Money

$600 to $15,000; and the school fund balance was $35,000 against monthly expenditures of about $25,000. For this reason, he recommended borrowing from the Territory in order to save interest on bank loans.

Treasurer Kam's request for the $35,000 loan was in no way an effort to obtain new and additional funds for the County of Maui. He merely wanted to continue practice in attempting to utilize government money over a period of financial deflation and thus realize a saving in bank interest charges. In either case the sum is repaid when real property taxes are collected and the general fund is built up again.

As Treasurer Kam pointed out in his letter to the territorial treasurer, the temporary loan to the County would have permitted him to avoid the issuance of warrant notes which carry heavy interest rates. The request was made in accordance with a statute passed by the legislature in the session of 1945 and all counties at one time or another have availed themselves of this opportunity to save public money.

Recently the County of Hawaii was refused a loan of $100,000 and will also have to depend upon the banks to carry it over until June.

In rejecting Treasurer Kam's request for the temporary loan, the territorial treasurer said in part: "We have received your letter of January 17 in which you request an advance of $35,000 from the General Fund of the Territory as a temporary loan to the County of Maui in order to avoid issuing warrant notes, said loan to be repaid."

In the past, whenever you sent a request for an advance in order to meet the current obligations of the County, we were in a financial position to come to your aid. Today, however, the financial condition of the Territory is not a healthy one. The Budget Director has reported to the Governor that the Territory had a cash deficit of $2,375,000 on November 30, 1951. During the month of November, the cash operated the territorial government was $1,000,000 more than what was realized as revenue. The 1951 Legislature passed a budget comparable to the budget for the previous biennium, but the Legislature also provided for a $2,000,000 salary increase for employees. Inflation has made the cost of operation of the government higher. The General Fund of the Territory, as of November 30, had borrowed $1,000,000 from the Special Fund, and $400,000 from the revolving fund. Repayment of this $2,000,000 borrowing is not going to be easy."

"There has been much publicity on how the tax collections are better than the estimates made by the Tax Commissioner for the Legislature. Statistics show that the tax collections for the present biennium are about

Father Thys Assigned To Paia
Father Victor Thys, SS. CC., chaplain at Oahu prison and the Queen's hospital in Honolulu since January, 1948, has been appointed as assistant to Father Ghislain Pichman, SS. CC., at the Holy Rosary church in Paia. It was announced last week by the chancery office in Honolulu.
Father Thys replaces Father Francis Scheffmans, SS. CC., who has been assigned to Honolulu as an assistant at the Cathedral of Our Lady of Peace. The 52-year old priest is serving his second assignment in the territory. He first came to the islands in 1949, as an assistant at the Cathedral of the Holy Island. He will observe the 27th year of his ordination next July.
Father Scheffmans has been assistant at Holy Rosary since January, 1950, shortly after his arrival in the territory. He was ordained in Belgium in 1949.
Both appointments have been approved by His Excellency Bishop James J. Freerking.

Man Drowns Off Sampan

 Joseph of Lili, 100 lbs. Detective Curtis Silva, Sgt. James Aloy and Sgt. Shiyazu Takumi. At the time the body was found it was 25 feet along the coastline.

At the time of discovery of the body washed up on the rocks, the Coast-Guard party was in another area but soon joined the police group and assisted in its recovery. It was necessary to haul the body up a steep 125 ft. cliff which took more than two hours, according to Captain Seabury who directed the work. At the summit at 4:40 p.m. Eddie Marquis of the U. S. Lighthouse Service was waiting with a command car and carried the body to Pauwela where it was taken over by Nakamura Mortuary.

Autopsy was performed by Dr. James Fleming who declared death was caused by drowning, although the body was badly battered and bruised. Richard Shimebuku, last man to see Nakaihl, identified the body as that of his companion.

According to Captain Seabury the sampan was smashed "into a million pieces" and only the battered engine was visible on the rocks.

H. T. Nishii arrived late Monday afternoon to represent the owner of the sampan. According to Chief Lane no insurance was carried on the craft.

The three survivors gathered on the rocks after hatching their showman's plan and because of the steep cliffs and the darkness of the moonless night, they decided to spend the rest of the dark hours on the rocks.

They decided to wait for the missing man but received no reply.

At daybreak the three survivors they way up the cliffs and finally arrived at the shore. They were taken to the hospital by ambulance. Mrs. Allen took the men in her car to Pala dispensary where they were taken to the hospital where Suzuki is being held for treatment of severe lacerations on the head and face, and also for observation for possible concussion. Dr. Robert Cole attended the men. The others Mrs. Allen brought to the Waialua police station at about 11:30 a.m. Monday.

Although tired and badly battered by the heavy surf, the men were in good condition and were able to assist police with their investigation.

The party was not fishing at the time of the accident but was en route to Hana, presumably on a combined pleasure and fishing cruise when the accident happened.

Betty Hirano Is Chosen Top BHS Student

Outstanding student for the month of December at Baldwin High is senior Betty Hirano. Betty is the chairman for the Civic Service committee and is in charge of the collection of food and clothing for the Salvation Army during the last week of school before Christmas vacation. She is also president of the Theta Sigma and secretary-treasurer for the Schwa Society.

During her spare moments she either reads or crochets. She loves classical and abhors comics. No low class stuff for her. But the only thing she really enjoys, she says, is eating, sleeping, and making merry.

Betty has no interest in movies. "Just hates them," she says. "But if I had to choose I guess I'd like Gregory Peck."

Pink and blue tailored clothes are her favorite wearing apparel. As to whether she likes studying, she said, "I hate studying but everything comes naturally." (MNA-BHS).

More Gravel Than Sand In Sahara

"Algeria," snapper of the series or Kiwanis World Adventure Tours, was shown to Maui High students on January 19, in the school auditorium.

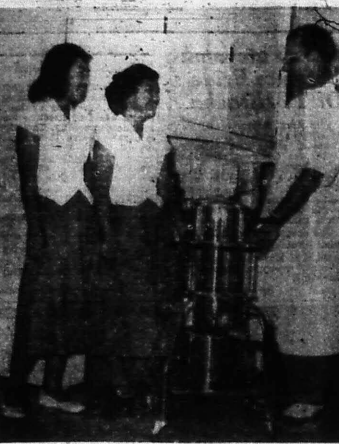

Clifford J. Kamen, noted lecturer and photographer, presented an all-color film, giving a comprehensive picture of Algeria.

The colored film, taken by Kamen, showed the famous Sahara desert. The humorous American lecturer pointed out the fact that the desert is comprised mostly of gravel and stones rather than of sand. He stated that the "Hollywood idea of camels walking on sand dunes was incorrect, as the dunes were usually too soft to permit much travel."

 than its receipts.

The road fund was another that followed the deficit spending line. Against $18,500.61 received during the month, the road fund was decreased by $106,001.82 or an unfavorable balance of $24,651.18.

The special liquor commission fund received $18.00 in revenues during December and $18,837.81 was expended from it.

Among the accounts maintaining a favorable balance was the hospital managing committee. This account received $16,059.56 from which was withdrawn only $35,426.72.

The "now payable" fund, which is utilized to cover warrant notes issued by the treasurer, ended up the year with a balance of $105,089.81. At the beginning of the month the fund had a credit balance of $158,912.76. The treasurer issued notes amounting to $75,514.90 during December and redeemed $123,230.65 worth of County warrants. New York Sugar Price Remains At $114 A Ton

New York's declining spot raw sugar price remained unchanged at $114 a ton last week, marking the first sign of firmness since the start of the year. At $114, however, the spot price remains only $1 above the lowest price reached last year on April 12.

Meanwhile, according to information received by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, mainland refined cane sugar prices have been reduced to 3.5 cents a pound in Mississippi river territory, a 10 point reduction from the 5.25 cent quotation that prevails generally in other mainland areas. Locally, the Alsea refinery of California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corporation continues to quote 5.10 cents a pound, the use of 15 points less than the C&I quotation on the Pacific coast.

Prices On 4-Ply Tire Carcasses Reduced By OPS

The Office of Price Stabilization has announced a reduction in the dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on 4-ply passenger car tire carcasses which constitute about 95 per cent of the total supply. The retail selling price is reduced from $2.50 to $2.00 and the wholesale selling price from $2.00 to $1.50. A premium of $1.00 each over 4-ply tire carcasses is established for 6-ply carcasses, at both wholesale and retail.

These changes are prescribed in Amendment 2 to OPS 49-10, the OPSR Thirty days is allowed between the issuance and the effective date, which is February 11, so as to permit dealers, scrapers and refiners an opportunity to move inventories obtained at the old ceilings.

NEW LARRO CHICK BUILDER BUILDS BETTER LAYERS, CUTS CHICK LOSSES

Benefits of Antibiotics A.P.F. in New Larro Chick Builder

Now... right now at your Larro dealer's... a new, improved Larro Chick Builder is available for you to use with your chicks. New Larro has been improved with some of the latest developments in the science of poultry nutrition—including growth benefits of the sensational antibiotics and A.P.F. (including Vitamin B₁₂ Supplement).

Cuts Chick Losses due to nutritional deficiencies. Many chicks pip their shells with two strikes already called on them because they start out suffering from nutritional deficiencies. In order to live or keep up with normal chicks, these "weak sisters" must immediately make up these deficiencies. The only way is through their first feedings. When you feed New Larro Chick Builder, you can be sure that these possible "casualties" will have quick access to a delicately well-balanced feed that will help them make up for any original lack of essential feed elements.

Grows Better Chicks On Less Mash. It takes 8 1/2 pounds of New Larro Chick Builder to feed chicks through the first 12 weeks... the period when chicks increase their weight by 25 times! Think of it—only 8 1/2 pounds of Larro Chick Builder for the first 12 weeks. That's exceptional feeding efficiency... proving the high level of nutrition in New Larro Chick Builder.

Builds Better Layers. By the time your chicks are 12 weeks old, the kind of layers they are going to be already has been largely determined. They have normally developed 80 to 90% of their bone structure, and should be full-fledged, miniature hens. New Larro Chick Builder contains the nutrients needed to give your chicks the growthiness, vigor and weight so essential in growing pullets conditioned for sustained, high production.

THIS YEAR... with New Larro Chick Builder... your chicks will have a

Mr. George C. Self is shown above feeding his 4500 Parmenter strain layers at his farm located 30 miles from Honolulu.

Mr. Self has fed Larro for twenty-four years, and although he has tested other feeds he has not been able to get the results he does on Larro. He raises all chicks on Larro Chick Builder, and his cockerens on Larro Broiler Feed. They average 4 pounds live weight at twelve weeks.

His layers, in individual cages, give him seventy-two per cent production on Larro Cage Layer Ration.

The earliest better chance as they get benefits of both antibiotics and A.P.F. Ask your dealer for the New Larro "Farm-tested" Chick Builder... insist upon it!

How Long Before The First Egg?

This depends primarily upon two things: 1. Heredity and 2. Feeding and management.

The earliest possible date that pullets produce their first eggs is determined by heredity. General Mills poultry scientists at Larro Research Farm say that through good feeding, from chick to maturity, you can have your pullets producing as soon as is possible for them. At Larro Research Farm, different strains of the same breed showed a difference of as much as 31 days in the average age at which the first egg was produced, under identical feeding and management conditions. At 200 days of age the early maturing birds had an average of 147 more eggs to their credit than the late maturing ones.

Bed 'Em Down At Night

Just about dusk, watch your chicks settle down for the night. When they bunch up in struggling masses make sure they have enough heat, then distribute them evenly around the brooder stove. Some lots will gather in a circle without help... others must be taught. One secret of raising chicks successfully is to get them through the night comfortably. Experienced poultrymen usually inspect their broods late at night as early in the morning.

Freedom Must Be Defended

Warning Issued To GOP Women At Meet Thursday

"Our freedoms are in danger of being given away," warned Herbert Beyer and Robert Pels Thursday night at a meeting of the Maui Women's Republican club. The two men, members of the Territorial Educational Committee, presented a program entitled "Our Republic," stressing the American heritage of individual freedom and the need for defending it today.

Our individual freedoms have made America a great nation with the highest standard of living in the world, Pels said. But he noted that today our freedom is under attack from within and from without. He continued particularly against letting prejudices disrupt friendly relations between the various racial, economic, and religious groups that go to make up our country.

Protecting our freedom is an all-time job, Beyer continued, demanding constant vigilance and responsibility from every individual. It outlined a personal program everyone can follow to make his freedom more secure.

His advice is to: (1) Join local civic groups to make oneself heard; (2) Vote intelligently in all elections—learn the issues; (3) Vote in union, club, and stockholder meetings.

"Make yourself heard," he concluded. "It's urgent."

Preceding the program the Women's Republican club elected officers for 1952. Mrs. Louise Smith was re-elected president. Vice president is Mrs. Dorothy Vorhies; secretary, Mrs. Barbara Waterhouse; and treasurer, Miss Elba Smythe. The board of directors includes Mrs. Violet Harris, Miss Nina Kirk, and Mrs. D. T. Fleming.

Hospital Services For Vets

VA Hospitalization Policy On Wartime Soldiers Set

Wartime veterans are eligible for hospitalization by the Veterans Administration for service-connected conditions if they are unable to pay for hospital expenses and provided hospital facilities are available.

They must have been discharged from service under conditions other than dishonorable. Veterans who served on or after June 27, 1946, are considered to have had wartime service and may be eligible for this benefit.

Hospitalization benefits for peacetime veterans are limited. A peacetime veteran may be hospitalized in a VA contract hospital only in case of an emergency for a service-connected disability. He must be receiving disability compensation for a service-connected disability or was discharged for a disability incurred during service in line of duty. The discharge must have been under conditions other than dishonorable.

As a general rule, female veterans are not entitled to hospitalization benefits for pregnancy or childbirth. They may, however, be hospitalized for pathological conditions complicating pregnancy.

Hospitalization for non-emergency cases requires prior approval by the VA. The veteran must submit to VA an application on VA Form 10-P-10 which is available at any hospital which has a contract to hospitalize VA patients or at the office of the Territorial Council on Veterans Affairs in Honolulu.

In case of an emergency, an application for hospitalization must be submitted to the VA within 72 hours of admission to the hospital. Application to VA may be made by telephone, letter, or by mail. If a veteran wishes to be hospitalized as a VA patient, he should inform his doctor and the hospital of his veteran status at the time of admission.

The following hospitals on Maui have contracts to hospitalize VA patients: Hana hospital, Kula General hospital, Kula Hospital, Maluluani hospital, Pioneer Mill Hospital and Funeone hospital. The Community hospital on Molokai is also authorized to hospitalize VA patients.

Statistics On X-Rays Announced

Caucasians Made The Poorest Showing, Survey Reveals

Maui Caucasians made the poorest showing in having free chest x-ray taken last year compared with other racial groups, according to statistics presented at the territorial physicians board at directors meeting at Kalaheo, Kauai, Friday, January 11. Board members represented Maui, Oahu, Molokai and Lanai.

Reporting on a house-to-house survey made on Maui by Territorial Health Department, the report of the mobile x-ray unit in 1951, survey chairman John E. Milligan said that a higher percentage of Filipinos and Japanese took advantage of the service than other racial groups.

On Oahu group, the poorest showing was made in the 13 years or over group. The need for further education of older Portuguese and Japanese was clearly indicated by the survey.

Typical findings of these counties in interviews was that they were so old it wouldn't make any difference whether they were found to have tuberculosis or not. It is important that way and that the people to make the older people realize their responsibility to other members of the household. Tuberculosis is a contagious disease and an undiscovered case endangers the whole family, Milligan said.

Board members were highly interested in the results of the Maui survey, the first of its kind ever attempted in the Territory. It was made last fall. Information obtained could be used throughout the islands in directing education and publicity toward getting health examinations in 1952.

The survey was made for the Maui County Tuberculosis Association as part of the program plan for the annual series of Christmas seals. It was divided into two parts taken at different times in the Waialua area and all Maui areas outside of Waialua. Interviews called at every fourth house in Waialua and at one in 20 houses in the outer area.

According to editors of the survey report, sampling allowed for the actual series of charts to illustrate his talk. Milligan said that one of the primary reasons for the need of this program in terms of the mobile x-ray unit project was that the survey was in the future programs is to in-

Sites Group Leaders Meet

Visit Historical Places On Island Of Molokai

KAULAUWAI, Molokai, Jan. 26.—Plans were made to further the work of the Historical Sites committee of the Friendly Isle when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ashdown of Lahaina, Maui, visited Molokai last month to be the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Cooke.

Mrs. Cooke is chairman of the Molokai Sites committee and Mrs. Ashdown is Historical Sites commissioner for Maui County and chairman of the Maui Historical Sites committee.

At a luncheon, the group visited Mrs. Dartha Meyer Aubrey, daughter of Rudolph Meyer and the High Chiefess Kalaama, and Mrs. Albert Kahina, who was a niece by marriage of Mrs. Aubrey's. Mrs. Aubrey was born in 1878 and knows a wealth of historical facts.

She told how her father moved Molokai for King Kamehameha V and was in charge of everything from the cane lands of Kalaia to the settlement of Kaula in those days. Only the Lahaina cane was available, as low as the cane fields of Kaula, she said. At Kaula, she said, the old mill still stands, but it was a cane and the mill is gone.

Mrs. Aubrey recalled the days when her father, Captain Albert P. Judd, bought molasses from Meyer and butter was shipped to California in 19 pound cans wrapped in banana stalks to keep it cool and fresh.

The party then proceeded past the Molokai Ranch lands to the abandoned dairy of Maipule. Mrs. Cooke's experiment station was well which was located near the Cooke family home. Mrs. Cooke's mother, Mrs. George Will and Mrs. Lodie Kilbey joined the group at this point.

They visited the Hiloilole heiau, saw the location of Hina's house. A big rock rose seen Pun Kanaup above Kanaia, Kaula, where the bones of the king were buried before he was wrapped in tapa and hidden from enemies. Wala, a sacred "hahau" stone in which a secret first king was buried; the "hahau" stone in which a secret first king was buried; the "hahau" stone in which a secret first king was buried.

The next site trip was taken to Waikolu valley, past the 327 yard Mt. Matia, in Kalaheo. The road from which the road road of Kamehameha V can be seen. The forest was cut at the last gateway above the Molokai Ranch coral and the hillside where the hills were once here, but are now densely covered with Montevideo, black water, eucalyptus, the Sugi tree of Japan, Lohia, Kanaka, and other indigenous shrubs and trees, and a few California redwood.

Puniloli is to the left above the two reservoirs and then the division of Manawatu and Kaula. The "hahau" stone is in built in 1898 still stands. Mahanui was a stopping place where the group tried water dividing. Here, again, was, not a tree in 1910, but the growth is now dense forest.

To the right is Pun Kaula, and above and to the left of the end is the wondrously beautiful Waikolu headland and valley. Waikolu tumbles down sheer cliffs where the sunshine made, rainbows in the mist and the stream tumbled toward the sea. Hanaka-Hiloilo (the two falls) and Kanaia join the upper valley which is called Ohi-ohe. All this is Waikolu, the three waters with the Pun Kaula, the eastern boundary of Molokai Ranch.

Here, the party saw the "Lau Moku Iliahi" (measuring hole for plums of sandalwood) which was used to resemble a ship's hold. The Lau Moku Iliahi has been closed, and here was placed the first historical marker erected on Molokai. Just mounds of the marker, three seedling Iliahi, brought from Maui by the Ashdowns, were planted ceremoniously.

Other visits of particular interest to the two Maui residents were a trip to Kaula, where Superintendents A. E. Smith met them at the airport and took them over the district. Here is a peaceful community, reminiscent of the days of the Hawaiian monarchy, of first missionaries, of first missionaries, of first missionaries to a cause.

In traveling the paths worn by the Rev. A. O. Forbush (1856-1889) of Siloama (healing spring) church; of the Rev. Fr. Damien and Brother Dutton, of St. Philomena; and of all who have hallowed this land, a visitor's heart is filled with the utter peace of Kaula and Kaula.

Today the Sisters of St. Francis at Bishop House, the staff at McVie's unit home, and all who know the settlements are happy to be carrying on the brotherly love taught by Christ, and here, unbroken by wars and turbulence in the outer world. The Kaulaupa light, standing tall and strong, is a beacon to more than passing ships. (IA).

CPC And Libby Officials To Be Feted By PTC

KAUNAKAKAI, Molokai, Jan. 26.—The Part Time Cooperative of the Molokai high school will hold a dinner on January 31 at Chow's Food Center, at which C. P. and Libby officials will be special guests.

The purpose of the dinner is to promote closer relationship between the company officials and the P.T.C. boys. It is also the boys' way of showing their appreciation for the wonderful opportunity they have of engaging in part-time work while attending school.

A short program has been planned. Daniel Marcelino has been chosen master of ceremonies. There will be instrumental solos, group singing, and short talks.

Two Surgical Cases

KAUNAKAKAI, Molokai, Jan. 26.—Dr. C. M. Burgess of Honolulu was on Molokai recently for two major surgical cases at the invitation of local doctors. Dr. Burgess spent about two months here in 1951 substituting for Dr. Paul Wilson.

Dr. Burgess' resignation was tendered last December 15, the announcement said. In accordance with an agreement dating to last October, the company said it had accepted Dr. Burgess' resignation. In deference to Randall's desire to bring personal investments in the islands.

The columns of heights give the elevation of each tide above the plane of chart soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart soundings except in the case of low water, when the numbers are subtractive from the depth given on the chart. To find the time of tide at the following places, either add or subtract as indicated from the Honolulu time of tide.
