

Doings at the CHURCH OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

By F. V. V.

When the Church bell rings this Sunday, say "yes". The hearts of all of us at Good Shepherd are saddened over the sudden death of our friend, Sam Lewis. His kindness and community spirit will always be a pleasant memory. His devotion to the Church was a warm witness to the depth of his faith. "May the souls of the faithful, departed in Christ Jesus, rest in peace, and may the light perpetual shine upon them."

The Union Lenten service for this week will be held this Wednesday at the Puunene Congregational Church, commencing at 7:30 p.m. Reverend Isami Morita will be the leader and our rector will preach the sermon. Everyone is welcome at these services.

Our choir is busy preparing music for Easter. A few more voices could be used. Choir practice is Thursday evening at 7:30.

The Church School youngsters are real busy these days doing extra jobs for extra pennies to make their "mike" box as "might" boxes. It was "Cento di questi giorni" - may you live to be a hundred - to little Miss Morrison and Naniela Young Sunday, and more pennies were added to the Birthday offering cake.

The Anglican Evangelist, Brian Green, will be on Maui this Saturday, March 5th, and will preach at the Wailuku Union Church at 3 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to hear this great man from England. Mr. Green is rector of one of the largest Churches in Birmingham, England and every year his congregation there give him a three-month leave for these Evangelistic missions.

If you can't attend the sermon Saturday you have another opportunity to hear him this Sunday when the Good Shepherd Church will tune in on the broadcast from the Cathedral in Honolulu where Mr. Green is preaching Sunday. This will be during our eleven o'clock service. All are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Lily Tam To Japan With Kawanahara Party

Mrs. Lily Tam, wife of County Chairman Eddie Tam, leaves Honolulu tonight (Wednesday) aboard the President Wilton for a three-month visit to Japan, as a member of the Kawanahara tour party.

It will be the first Japan trip for Mrs. Tam, who plans to visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Henry Watanabe, at Haneda Airport, Tokyo. The Watanabes will be returning to the islands in June.

Also in the party is Jeanette Sakai of the Kahului Barber Shop.

This being the first Sunday in March there will be a Holy Communion Service at eleven a.m.

Don't forget that the Bible class meets at the Rectory Tuesday Evenings during the Lenten Season. Plan to attend—the Bible is a fascinating book and you will find these classes extremely informative.

Coming Events: Altar Guild meeting Saturday, March 5, nine a.m.; Woman's Auxiliary executive committee meeting on Wednesday, March 9, three p.m.; Woman's Auxiliary meeting Tuesday, March 15. See you in Church Sunday.

Committee On Public Works In Hana Visit

HANA, Feb. 28 — Visiting Hana on February 19, to look over County property here were members of the public works committee, headed by Supervisor Clarence Cramer.

In the party, which drove into Hana from the Ulupekua direction, were Supervisors Hananah Tavares, Caroline Rodriguez and Goro Hokama, County Engineer Koki Hamada and Parks Superintendent Ricko Tanji.

The committee looked over the Hana High and Elementary School, the police station and county cottage, the Lower Nahuiku School and the site of the new school park and highway along Hana Bay Road.

It was mentioned in connection with the police station that a new one would cost (including the cottage) approximately $25,000. If this money was not available then repairs to the old structure would be made. In the renovation there would be added a rest room, which is lacking in the building at the present time.

At the school Principal William Hais showed the visitors around mentioning that a new coat of paint was needed and there should be some repairs done to the structure.

Along Hana Bay Road, the visitors looked over the new park (yet to be named) and talked with Manager John Hanchett of Hana Ranch Co., who told them that his company was not in a position to install the proposed street lights for the new residential area at Waiuku.

One witness mentioned that Mr. Crozier refused to look in to the matter of the Hana Bay Road, although Mr. Tavares wanted to discuss the issue. At a public meeting some time ago. The people requested that the highway be moved further from the entrance to Hana Hall and a parking site be installed. (JRM).

In December of last year, spokesmen for the Chamber appeared before the visiting House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee members and presented resolutions concerning the following:

- 1 — Transfer of title of Kahului Airport from the Navy to the Territory; 2 — Repair of Kahului breakwaters and dredging and widening the turning basin of Kahului Harbor to enable War-type vessels and T-2 tankers to come in; 3 — Congressional appropriation of funds to finance the construction of rain-making and cloud-seeding experiments on the slopes of Haleakala; 4 — Maintenance of a scientific observatory on Haleakala.

On February 7, word was received from the Department of Army, Office of the Chief of Engineers, Washington, D. C., that "the budget for the civil functions of the Corps of Engineers for fiscal year 1956, transmitted to the Congress on 17 January 1955, contains tentative allocation for repair of the breakwater and for maintenance dredging" at Kahului Harbor.

A reply to resolution 2 was received February 21, when Harold F. Holt, director of the Assistant Secretary of property management, Office Defense, Washington, D. C., informed Chamber President Peter James that "final determinations as to Department of Defense future needs for Kahului Airport are nearing a conclusion, and it is anticipated that we can advise you of the findings on or about March 17, 1955."

The spontaneous feeling of brotherhood is a mark of human maturity.

Iao PTA Bids For Cafetorium

An enthusiastic group of parents braved the threat of bad weather to attend the third regular meeting of the Iao School PTA, held at the school on February 24.

The main portion of the business meeting was devoted to the discussion on how best to bring forth to the County Fathers and the DPT officials the dire need of a cafetorium for the school. At present children stand under the shade of trees or squat on the ground whenever there is an assembly. All scheduled assemblies have to be postponed in case of inclement weather and no assembly can be held in the morning because of damp ground. A committee was appointed to draw up a resolution and present it to the proper authorities.

Ways and means of raising money was on the agenda. After several suggestions were made, a committee was appointed. President Charles Nagamatsu to study and make definite recommendations at the next regular meeting.

Five delegates to represent the Iao School PTA at the Territorial Convention to be held in Honolulu on March 25 and 26 were chosen. These delegates were appointed: President Charles Nagamatsu, Vice President, and three other members.

The last meeting of the school year will be held in April, at which time, among other things, a resolution of next year's officers will take place.

Departing For Japan Today

Mr. and Mrs. Isamu Ogawara of Corn Mill Camp, Makawao, are on their way to Japan on the President Wilton for a two and one half month vacation with their son and daughter-in-law, Technical Sergeant and Mrs. Walter Ogawara in Tokyo.

The Ogawaras left Maui by Hawaiian Airlines on Tuesday for Honolulu, where they are to board the President Wilton today (Wednesday). Mr. Ogawara is a field forger with the Maui Pineapple Company at the Halimaile Division.

The Ogawaras plans to see as much of Japan as they possibly can during their 75-day visit there. This is Mrs. Ogawara's first trip to Japan, her husband having visited there in early 1941. The couple has three sons: Walter, Edward, a PFC with the Army in Germany, and Sadao, who is employed as a civilian in Kansas.

Evangelist To Speak At Joint Service Here

Canon Brian Green, noted Anglican evangelist, will speak to an interdenominational meeting on Saturday, according to the Rev. Norman Ault, Maui Ministers' Association president.

In a note to all churches on Maui last week Mr. Ault announced that the service will be at 3 p.m. at the Wailuku Union Church and urged all pastors to bring the service to the attention of their congregations. The Wailuku Church was chosen because of its large permanent and temporary seating capacity.

The service will open and close with a hymn and prayer, most of the hour being kept for Mr. Green's message.

Torrential Rains Hit Hana Area

HANA, February 28 — Torrential rains which struck this district without much warning caused considerable damage to highways last night, February 24. The near cloud burst caused the Kawailapa stream to overflow and threaten to home, where the residents had to be evacuated. Property belonging to the Hawaii Aeronautics Commission, Territorial Highway Department, and the County of Maui was badly damaged.

The rains started about 2:30 in the morning and dropped almost seven inches at the Hana Airport but only a few inches in Hana proper, according to the rain gauges.

Ernest Ching called police to overflow and threatened to home, where the residents had to be evacuated. Property belonging to the Hawaii Aeronautics Commission, Territorial Highway Department, and the County of Maui was badly damaged.

Arrest Of Juveniles Helps Solve Cases

Apprehension of two juveniles last week led to the solution of several cases which had been under police investigation for some time. Police said that the two boys involved, ages 8 and 12 years, had been responsible for entering numerous homes, as well as the Waiuku Elementary School, and taking various items from the premises.

rock had to be removed and large chunks, enough to put a whole car into, had filled the County road crew. The makai Hana Highway had its stone walls washed away in several places and its retaining wall badly damaged. On the Hana Bay Road, water rushing down the flood ditch deposited tons of dirt and rock so that this road had to be closed for several hours.

Hana Bay turned into a huge coffee pot as the ocean turned brown for about a mile out to sea. Tons of rubbish, tree limbs, sticks and other debris now line the beach and the County will have the task of removing it.

This is the first such storm that struck here since the flood of 1953.

Since the rains stopped Thursday morning Hana has enjoyed beautiful weather. Sunshine has been plentiful. Tourists arriving here mention the terrible weather which has been annoying the island of Oahu for several weeks. (JRM).

Kahului Union Ladies Hosts To Indian Women

Three women from India were the guests at the meeting of the Kahului Union Ladies Aid on Monday evening, February 21. The meeting was held at the church parsonage, home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Eggleston.

The Indian visitors who are the guests of the Maui University Extension Service, spoke of the national life of India since the acquisition of independence, and of their home life, culture, and customs.

Mrs. Mabel Ito, Maui home demonstration agent, and also a member of the Ladies Aid, introduced the guests, who were: Mrs. Urmila Chandra from Lucknow, India; Mrs. Benu Pandey from the United Province, and Miss Pritam Johar from New Delhi.

Mrs. Matsuko Takahashi led the devotional service while Mrs. Waldron Gass was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Stephen Okada and Mrs. Isami Wakagishi served as hostesses for the evening.

Judy Baldwin Installed FHA Island Prexy

Election and installation of officers and a panel discussion on how different races contribute to the international peace movement highlighted the Future Homemakers of America Island Conference held in the Maui High School auditorium on February 5.

"International Peace Starts at Home" was the theme of the one-day meeting, which was attended by approximately 450 students and teachers.

Newly-installed officers of the island FHA are: Judy Baldwin (Maui High), president; Cherry Yoshioaka (Lahaina), vice president; Gloria Rivera (Maui High), secretary; Joyce Yoshino (Baldwin), treasurer; Juanita Endrina (Lahaina), song leader; and Luisa Quiray (Baldwin), Territorial parliamentarian-historian.

Miss Baldwin served as moderator for the discussion by a panel consisting of Rev. and Mrs. Lani Hanchett, Douglas Sodersten, Wiley Ewe, Mrs. Dominga, and Principal Riley Boring of Maui High.

Group singing, a flower arrangement demonstration, and a business meeting comprised the program for the rest of the day. (BHS-MNA).

...with JAMES C. INOUE...
President, United Mobilization
Fund today that rusty plates on the bottom of the mysteriously vanished freighter Southern District had been patched in instead of replaced through an understanding with the Coast Guard and the Bureau of Shipping. Today's testimony ended hearings on the disappearance last month of the converted tank landing ship with twenty-three men aboard.

This recent United Press dispatch from New Orleans illustrates the often tragic result of following expediency rather than principle.

And it reminds me that we are being urged to merely patch with administration promises the leaky place in our Constitution that allows treaties to become the law of the land and even, on occasion, to supersede the Constitution itself instead of replacing the rusty plate with the Bricker Amendment.

Will the Ship of State have to sink in the ocean of international collectivism in order to bring us — too late — to our senses?

Shinnen En Kai Celebrated By Paia Buddhists

More than 35 members and guests of the Paia Senior YBA met at the last Saturday to hold their Shinnen En Kai party, which is observed annually in February to usher in the New Year.

The Paia Fujinaki and Asoka Club also celebrated with a joint party with Sunday School teachers last Friday at the YBA hall with over 100 persons present. The teachers were presented with gifts by the Asoka Club.

SABERS CAPTURE 2nd STRAIGHT TOURNNEY CROWN

Wallop Bears, 54-41, To Climax 3-Game Sweep

Lunas Down Lanai, 74-46, for Third Place; Molokai Wins Consolation; Nihei, Nagata Outstanding

Coach Tom Kiyosaki's Sabers of Maui high school, who were given little better than an even chance of surviving the opening round last Thursday, not only trounced Molokai High, 48-30, but went on to score a three-game sweep with impressive victories over the tough Lahainaluna and Baldwin High quintets to win their second consecutive Maui County prep basketball tournament championship last week at the Wailuku gym.

Climbing out from an obnoxious third place in the regular Maui Interscholastic League campaign, the Sabers followed their initial triumph with a 51-42 win over the champion Lunas on Friday and climaxed their strenuous three-night stand with an overwhelming 54-41 victory over Baldwin's Bears, who were tabbed by many as the pre-tourney favorites.

The Lunas, overcoming their sloth debut, stormed back to dump the popular Lanai High five, 74-46, in the third place battle while consolation honors went to Molokai High, which scored an easy 47-37 triumph over St. Anthony.

But the highlight of the tourney took place Friday night when the Bears just barely edged out the Pine Lads, 56-58, in a story-book overtime finish. Herbert (Puukoli) Suezaki emerged the hero of the contest but the sentiment was all on the Pine Islanders and their (Libby) Veldy. The inspirational leader, whose unsuccessful free throw meant the difference between what would have forced the game into an additional extra period and the heartbreaking loss.

Maui high's success story was virtually a repeat of the Sabers' spectacular pennant drive last year, which earned them a trip to the Hilo Shivers' Territorial tournament. A fast start in each of their three tournament contests previously contributed more to the title finish than anything else.

Against the Lunas, they led 17-0 in the opening quarter and never had much trouble in holding the lead for the rest of the game as Claude Nihei displayed unerring accuracy to total 24 points. But sharing the glory were his four other starters: teammate Warren Sakae, Griffith Nagata, Robert Franco, and Leslie Matsubara, all of whom played their roles brilliantly with timely shots and great defensive work.

Nihei was especially outstanding in the championship fray when his steady defensive and rebounding work proved to be the chief factors which sparked Maui High's triumph. The six-foot junior had a three-point total of 47 points for a 15.7 average. Here again, the Sabers jumped to an 11-4 first quarter lead and had a 26-8 advantage at halftime.

Another all-star "ineligible," who stood out in a losing cause was Herman Carpio, 5-11 junior center, who was Baldwin's only bright spot on Saturday night. He totaled 31 points, including 15 in the final game, while Suezaki who tallied 22 against Lanai High, was held to only six points by the Sabers.

The best individual scoring performance was put on by Ralph Shimomura, sophomore Lahainaluna, ace, who averaged 19.5 points with 14 against Maui High and 25 against Lanai High.

Herbert Chung and Goro Takatani were crowned champions in the senior and junior divisions, respectively, as the 15-game title series in the Maui Bowling Association individual match game championship was concluded on Monday night at the Maui Bowling Center.

Both Chung and Takatani will be awarded trophies sponsored by Emura Jewellery.

Chung tallied 22.05 points in the closing five-game match on Monday night as he won three games and tied in another to finish with a 15-game total of 63.06 points. His opponent, Fujio Shibano, was limited to 19.0 points in the final match and had to be content with runner-up honors with a final aggregate of 58.29 points.

In the deciding match, Chung annexed three games in a row to virtually determine the outcome as he won 220-155, 198-187 and 192-186. He lost the fourth game, 147-174 and gained a tie in the finale, 173-173, to finish with 530 pinfall compared to Shibano's 487.

In the junior division, Takatani went into the final five-game series with an insurmountable lead of 45.28 points to 35.23 for opponent Bobby Wilcox. Needing a clean sweep of all five games and more than a margin of 200 in pinfall, Wilcox took the opening line, 153-128.

However, Takatani waxed hot in the next three games with scores of 212, 203 and 220 to erase all doubt of his claim

Griffith Nagata Wins MVP Award In Tri-Isle Play

Griffith Nagata, Maui high school guard and co-captain, climaxed his two years of service with the varsity with an inspiring performance in the Tri-Island prep cage tournament last week to be named the "most valuable player" of the three-night event.

The selection was made by a committee comprised of the six participating coaches and Rikio Omori, league secretary, who also named five other players for the tournament's first all-senior all-star team.

Nagata was a near unanimous choice for the coveted MVP award. Lahainaluna's Ralph Shimomura, who won a forward berth with Robert Franco, also of Maui High, received the second "most valuable" vote. Thomas Cummings, Lunas pivot man, was picked for center while Amadio Sanchez of Lanai High took the other guard position. Fred Kihuti of Molokai High was named utility after being tied by Leslie Matsubara of Maui High in the initial balloting.

Maui high's success story was virtually a repeat of the Sabers' spectacular pennant drive last year, which earned them a trip to the Hilo Shivers' Territorial tournament. A fast start in each of their three tournament contests previously contributed more to the title finish than anything else.

Against the Lunas, they led 17-0 in the opening quarter and never had much trouble in holding the lead for the rest of the game as Claude Nihei displayed unerring accuracy to total 24 points. But sharing the glory were his four other starters: teammate Warren Sakae, Griffith Nagata, Robert Franco, and Leslie Matsubara, all of whom played their roles brilliantly with timely shots and great defensive work.

Nihei was especially outstanding in the championship fray when his steady defensive and rebounding work proved to be the chief factors which sparked Maui High's triumph. The six-foot junior had a three-point total of 47 points for a 15.7 average. Here again, the Sabers jumped to an 11-4 first quarter lead and had a 26-8 advantage at halftime.

Another all-star "ineligible," who stood out in a losing cause was Herman Carpio, 5-11 junior center, who was Baldwin's only bright spot on Saturday night. He totaled 31 points, including 15 in the final game, while Suezaki who tallied 22 against Lanai High, was held to only six points by the Sabers.

The best individual scoring performance was put on by Ralph Shimomura, sophomore Lahainaluna, ace, who averaged 19.5 points with 14 against Maui High and 25 against Lanai High.

Herbert Chung and Goro Takatani were crowned champions in the senior and junior divisions, respectively, as the 15-game title series in the Maui Bowling Association individual match game championship was concluded on Monday night at the Maui Bowling Center.

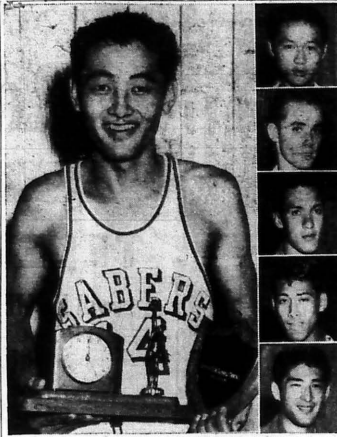

Both Chung and Takatani will be awarded trophies sponsored by Emura Jewellery.

Army Boxers Set Clinic Dates Here

The high-ranking USARPAC boxing team, headed by Capt. Norman Newmann, will appear in a smoker here on Saturday, March 12, against the best of Maui's current crop at the Kahului Fairgrounds, according to plans reported out in a meeting held last Friday morning.

Captain Newmann, who was here to confer with local officials last week, revealed that he intends to bring his entire team, most of whom have fought in the Maui ring previously. He also told the Valley

Isle boxing heads that Heiji Shimabukuro, Ernest DeFesus, and Felix Canyon, three of the leading Army fighters, will arrive here before the team with trainer, Sgt. Ken Mura, and himself to conduct clinics for the local clubs.

The clinics are scheduled to be held in Lahaina, Kahului, and Paia, on March 6, 8, and 10, respectively, at different training centers.

Entry blanks may be picked up at the CYO office, located in the Wailuku Community Center building, and all rosters must be turned in no later than Saturday, March 12.

Each team will be limited to 12 players. For the junior league ("C" section caliber), no junior varsity or varsity player will be allowed, while three varsity players and no senior player will be eligible to play in the novice league ("B" section caliber). There will also be an open league.

The Maui Recreation Council and all its committee chairmen will meet today (Wednesday) at the Wailuku Community Center at 4:30 p.m. Showing of the 1984 World's Series film will precede the meeting.

IN TOURNNEY SPOTLIGHT—Maui high school came up with a surprising show of power for the second consecutive year to grab the 13th annual Maui County prep cage tournament championship last week. Saber guard, Griffith Nagata (left), was named on all but one of the ballots cast by the coaches for the most valuable player award. Other seniors, who shared similar honors with him were, top to bottom, seniors Ralph Shimomura, Lahainaluna; Robert Franco, Maui high; Thomas Cummings, Lahainaluna; Amadio Sanchez, Lanai; and utility Fred Nishihara, Molokai.

Puunene Grabs AJA Lead Tie With 12-7 Triumph

Puunene put on an impressive show of power with a 20-hit barrage, which included two homers, a triple, and three doubles, to soundly triumph over the defending champion AJA Baseball League lead in the nightcap of last Sunday's final round doubleheader played at Puunene.

In the opener, Wailuku took full advantage of Hiroo Watanabe's pitching wildness to capitalize on every break and down Kahului, 4-2, which put the two teams in a third place deadlock.

Youthful Ronald Miyamoto went the route for Wailuku and the other two teams in the opening frame while the two innings when Kahului put two hits together, the Baldwin High senior had the Port town bats

Shigeru Anzai drove in Joker Okuyama with the first run in the opening frame while the two innings when Kahului put two hits together, the Baldwin High senior had the Port town bats

Kenneth Teshima started for Lahaina and lasted only two innings before Leonard Barcoma relieved him. Puunene had Sonny Ueda and Gunji Matsuzaka on the mound.

Arakawa and Nakasone also had homers while Sakamoto got a triple. Paul Miyasato went two doubles, and Tatsuo Ono, Joe Ginoza, and Tom Chinen paired hits while Yabuya Sun-ki and Akira Imano got two each for Lahaina.

Watanabe pitched the win in the sixth after two outs when Hitoshi Oshiro and Tsutomu

Hana Community League Set To Open March 20

HANA, Feb. 28 — Plans for the forthcoming baseball season were discussed at a meeting at Helene Hall last Thursday and it was set to open the community league on March 20.

Four teams, possibly five are expected to compete. Another meeting was slated Monday to draw up the schedule.

The teams include Roland Eharis' Hana Ranch Raiders, the defending champs; the Seals, headed by John A. Medeiros Sr.; Imua, coached by Yoshio Okada, and a new entry, yet unnamed, to be managed by Dan Atay. Kenzie is also a possible entry. (JKH)

Joe DeLara Easy Victim For Gatian

But Ended in First Round; Balidoy Beats Oyafuso

Kahului CVO's Joseph DeLara failed to make much of a bid for his fourth straight victory as he yielded to the lightning-fast punches of Floyd Gatian, Lahainaluna heavyweight and 1983 125-pound champion, in the first round of their main event clash in last Saturday's fourth amateur boxing smoker at the Kahului Fairgrounds.

The victory was Gatian's second of the season and he hardly drew a bead of perspiration before DeLara's seconds tossed in the towel to award the Westsider with a TKO triumph. He knocked out Antonio Pascua of Wahee in a previous fight.

Ralph Kanemitsu, also of Lahainaluna, handed Pat Cockett of Wahee his third successive defeat via a decision in the semi-main while his lightweight teammate, Katsuki Narkivoo, copped the nod over another Wahee battler, Stanley Faustino, for his second win in three bouts.

Two Share Waiehu Tourney Prize With 67 Nets

Ted Takakura and Henry Yoshida, three and 14 handicappers, respectively, posted net scores of 67 to grab a share of the $20 merchandise prize and each also received two balls in the Waiehu Golf Club's trophy tournament last Sunday at the municipal links.

Takakura shot a 35-38-70 to Yoshida's 43-39-61. Billy Higa (49-48) and Seiji Muraoka (44-44) tied for third with 69 nets while Akira Kobayashi, Yukio Orie, and Tetsuo Sun-ki shared fifth place with 70. John Leong, 37-37-74, won low gross honors.

Hoopili Wins Boarders' Meet; Rodrigues Top Man

LAHAINALUNA, Feb. 25.—Hoopili dormitory defeated Mar-by a bare margin of 87 1/16 points to 86 5/8 as new records were set in 12 of the 17 events featured in the annual Lahainaluna boarders' track and field meet held last Tuesday.
For the second consecutive year, durable and versatile Frank Rodrigues of Malo was the high point man with 52 1/2 points, taking four firsts, placing in four other events, and being a member of the winning 800-yard relay team. He lowered his own records in the 220-yard low hurdles from 30 seconds to 28.2, and in the 220-yard dash from 25.1 to 25 flat. His other victories were in the shot put, 37 feet, and broad jump, 18 feet, 10 inches.
The times registered are noteworthy, considering that all competitors ran barefooted according to the dormitory regulations.
Bethwell Henry, one of senior Micronesia Trust Territory boys who represented third place Hitchcock dorm, set two records in the 100 dash (10.5) and 440 (58.6). Henry was a former 54-second quarter-mile runner at Mid-Pacific.
Another outstanding Hitchcock entry was Stanley Okinaka, who shattered the mile mark (8:25) and tied the 680 record (2:26). He had to maneuver around 51 milers and 45 half-milers to defeat freshman Harold Nihel in the former and another frosh,
Artemio Pascua, in the latter.
Ildro Pohua was another high point man, representing Hoopili. He cleared 10'1" in the pole vault despite the lack of a suitable pole, beat Robert Seno in the 60 dash in a fast
6.8, won the 60-yard special

Apo Clan Tours Big Game Den

By FRANCES A. APO.
A few weeks have elapsed since our delightful visit to Honolulu for the recent dog trails.
One of the highlights was our enjoyable acquaintances with big game hunter, W. K.
Thom of Makiki Heights, where he took us to view his fascinating collection of big game trophies. Wild beasts of prey are not exactly beautiful to look at, but there was nothing repulsive in the mounted trophies and the animal skins sprawled here and there in Mr. Thom's den. We especially admired the wolf hide with its lovely sheen of blond fur streaked with black that was soft and slick to the touch. We carefully avoided looking too long at the yellow flecked eyes, the wide gaping mouth with large fangs which were the "big bad wolf" that ate little red riding hood's tutu.
Mr. Thom has been hunting big game since 1938 with his friend, Dr. S. C. Culpeper, who was here for the recent field trials. The latter is a physician in Honolulu where he is well known also for his prize-winning bird dogs. One of his seven bird dogs, an imported English setter, Maggie, won second prize here. Dr. Culpeper was last big game hunting trip was to British Columbia in 1950.

him to all parts of the world,

many lovely collector's items including priceless Chinese Ming vases, authentic Chinese dinnerware sets and an inter-

He prefers the double barrel

His last trip abroad was in educational and interesting.

Saints Capture MSAL Cage Title Over Makawao

St. Anthony school, coached by Bro. Robert Bader, captured the MSAL basketball championship in a divisional playoff last Friday with a 28-17 win over Makawao at the Paia gym.
Joe Suh said 14 points to lead the winners. He scored his team's first 10 points to give them a 12-8 halftime lead, which the losers never overtook. Weldell Orsonio supported him with eight markers.
Howard Horuchi, also with eight, was the top scorer for Makawao. The 100-country cagers, who won the Division
II title with six straight wins, led only in the first quarter when they had a 6-4 edge.
Other scorers and members of the championship team were: Alfred Cardozo (2), Ken Rahochanahano (2), Jason Medelros (2), Lawrence Aul, Kenneth Kato, John Kalehuawale, Leroy Santos, Joe Kahoeapu and manager Thomas Duarte.
Final division standings follow:

Age Group Trip To West Coast Good Possibility

Maui swimmers who win in the Hawaii Swimming Club's mid-April Age Group championship meet may well go to the mainland to compete against West Coast swimmers.
It was reiterated by Joseph A.
Murphy, who is due in Wailuku
Thursday to gather material and pictures of local swimmers.
Murphy, who is preparing a lavish souvenir program for the swim meet, will confer with Harold Rising, chairman of age group swimming on Maui.
Preliminary plans for an age group meet against Berkeley, California, are already underway, according to Thomas
Miles, chairman of the Age Group Committee.
Murphy, accompanied by his wife and daughter, has been on the Big Island since Tuesday on a similar mission and will return to Honolulu on Friday.

March 5-13 Is Set As National 4-H Club Week

"Improving Family and Community Living" is the theme for National 4-H Club Week, which will be celebrated by 4-H'ers on Maui, March 5-13.

A proclamation designating March 5-13 as Territorial 4-H Club Week, has been issued by Governor Samuel Wilder King, who said: "It is most proper that the people of Hawaii, particularly those in rural areas, should encourage the continued growth and influence of the 4-H Clubs, the production of food and fiber, and the making of good homes, good citizens, and a more cultural rural life."

Miss Secretario Becomes Bride

LAHAINA, Feb. 28 — In a beautifully simple ceremony attended by the immediate family of the bride and friends, Miss Dorothée Leimomi Secretario, daughter of Teodoro Secretario of Kelawala village on the Sunset Side, and Frederick Willard Cavallo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Cavallo of Honolulu, was united in marriage at the Maria Lanakila Church at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, February 19. Father Anthony O'Brien, newly-appointed pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of island flowers.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace and satin gown with a fingertip veil flowing from a snug lace cap. She carried a bouquet of giant white calla lilies and spray of butterfly orchids.

Attending the bride were: Mrs. Maria Kaahue, sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Mrs. Trella Secretario and Miss Anne King of Wailuku, bridesmaids; and Sharon Kaahue and Maxine Secretario, flower girls. Michael Felicilda was the ring bearer; Herman Kaahue, best man; and Felix Mahala and Richard Wilson of Honolulu, ushers.
Approximately 400 guests and friends attended the reception held at the Hale Lau Lima (Kamapali Landing) pavilion, with Herman Kaahue serving as emcee. Musical selections rendered by the 4-Sharps and impromptu singing by Mrs. Luke Garcia and Mrs. Annie Dixon highlighted the evening's affair.
The bride attended Lahainaluna High School and was formerly employed at Seakays in Wailuku. Her husband, a 1946 graduate of Farrington High School, is now connected with Clarke-Halawa Rock Company.

ish Choir and Sodality. Dorothy's acting ability acquired for her leading role in the "Song of Bernadette." In "Green Pastures" she played the part of Eve. After graduation she intends to go to college.

Courteous, honest, and generous is Yvonne Garcia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Garcia. With her pleasing personality she ranks high with her fellow students. Being at St. Anthony's School for many years, Yvonne has been active in both Glee Club and Parish Choir, and holds membership in the St. Anthony Parish Sodality. She is also a lover of sports, especially basketball which she plays well.

After graduation in June she plans to join the Women's Army Corps.

Lei Apo, a veritable sports fan, possesses, in a high degree, the qualities of directness and justice and, as an S.S.C., she has a knack for leading all law-breakers to judgment at Student Court. Her warm and friendly nature has won for her many friends.

Among her activities are the Girls' Parish Choir, Our Lady's Sodality, Glee Club and College Club. Her favorite subject is "American History." Lei has participated in sports for three years and claims basketball as her favorite.

Plans for the future are bright for Lei who aspires to become another "Florence Nightingale."

Active, alert, and attractive, are words that best describe Dolores Romias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Romias Sr. of Wailuku.

Dolores participates in many club functions, among which are the Aloha Club, English Club, and College Club. She is the editor of photography and captions of the school yearbook, the "Brocken."

Despite her many extra-curricular activities, Dolores manages to keep on the honor roll, and is a member of the National Honor Society.

She has attended St. Anthony for twelve years, and plans to matriculate at St. Francis Nursing School after graduation.

If popularity contests were to be held at St. Anthony Girls' High School, Virginia Saladino would surely be among those holding top positions.
Highly active in all school functions, Virginia has participated in the Spring Festival productions "The Song of Hiawatha," "The Song of Bernadette," and "The Green Pastures," and various scholastic oratory contests. The Aloha and College Clubs and the "Brocken" staff claim her membership.
Virgie also has outside interests, some of which are: her coronation as Spreckelsville's 1954 Ritual Day Queen; St. Rose's Sodality of Mary of the office of vice president, and the Spreck-

Pine Industry Pioneer

Dan C. Derby, 38-Year Vet With Libby, Retires

Dan Charles Derby, general manager of Libby, McNeill and Libby's plantations on Oahu, Maui, and Molokai, retired Monday, February 28, after almost 38 years of company service.

A pioneer for Libby, Mr. Derby was born February 18, 1890 in Santa Fe, Kansas, and joined the company on June 5, 1917, coming to Hawaii from California, where he was foreman and later superintendent in charge of all farming operations for the Natomass Company, whose main interest was dredging gold.

He opened up the Libby holdings on the Big Island in 1921 and in 1923 went to Molokai and stayed until the planting on the first thousand acres was completed. In March, 1926, he was sent to Maui, and after Libby purchased the Pauwela Pineapple Company property, he and his family moved to Maui.

The next year, he was made general manager over all Libby's plantations in the Hawaiian Islands, and has remained in this position, aiding the growth and development of pineapple for his company for an exact 37 years, eight months and 23 days.

Mr. Derby has played an important part in the development of pineapple in Hawaii. During his era of service many improvements have taken place in plantation practices and equipment. Yearly production of the industry has risen from 2½ million cases to 29½ million cases today.

In 1920 Mr. Derby was married to Miss Waleka Keri, a teacher at Wailua School. They live in Waipio, Oahu. This March 7th they will celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary. Their two daughters and one son are Mrs. R. E. Ritchie of Aiea Heights, Mrs. Robert L. Bradford of Monterey, Calif., and Dan C. Derby Jr. of Honolulu. They are each married and have their own families.

A pioneer and veteran in the pineapple industry, Mr. Derby, with his wife, was honored Monday night at a cocktail and dinner party given by his company, at the Outrigger Cane Club. Seated at the head table with the Derbys were L. Verne Haas, vice-president and general manager, Harry Larson, Molokai plantation manager, William Gorton, Maui manager, and Howard Cowan, acting manager at Waipio plantation. This event concluded the series of parties given to honor Mr. Derby. Since the announcement of his retirement each of the Libby plantations—located at Maui, Molokai and on Oahu—has honored Mr. Derby at a dinner. Hosts have been the supervisory staffs.

All-Maui Choir To Hold Bazaar Next Weekend

To finance their annual trip to participate in the Aha Paeina Choir contest, being held in Honolulu this year, the All-Maui Choir will have a bazaar at the New Unit of the Kahului Union Church on Lono Avenue, March 11, and 12. Bazaar times are: 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

The bazaar is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Bertha Kanoa, director of the All-Maui Choir. Although the choir did return to Maui with the "Bacon" last year, there will be none for sale at the bazaar. Mrs. Kanoa said. There will, however, be kalua pig as well as roast pig, a country store, rummage sale, Hawaiian foods, cakes, and of special interest to the "small fry," soda and the ferris wheel.

Fagan Departs For West Coast

HANA, Feb. 28 — Paul L. Fagan, owner of the Hana Ranch Co. and Hotel Hana on Maui, departed from here on a chartered Hawaiian Airlines plane Friday morning on his return to San Francisco. Mr. Fagan, who had come here on rush trip regarding his penfed cattle at Kaeleku, will return with Mrs. Fagan sometime in late April or early May and will remain for the summer.

While here for more than a week Mr. Fagan had the pleasure of seeing several projects in progress. One of these included the new guest house which is going up on his premises. Another is the beautiful green one wall being erected by the Catholic Church. (JRM.)

Soph Class Day Slated At Baldwin

Many Events Planned
March 24; Dance
Set March 25

Among the many activities planned for Sophomore Class day on March 24 are the class day program which will be confined in the school auditorium, a class masquerade, and a dance, according to Marian Tamiya and Jane Masuka, general chairmen.

The sophomore band will open the program with a concert in which they will play selections by E. Delamater, Wesley Wong, Wallace Fernandez, Michael Kurihara and Ernest Valle.

A talent show will feature Annette Hamada, pianist; Lowell Naito, accordionist; Ann Honda, singer, accompanied by Shirley Hashiro at the piano; and Wesley Wong, Wallace Fernandez, Michael Kurihara and Ernest Valle.

Carol Muroki and Richard Wirtz will play the roles of "Louise" and "Richard" in the class play entitled "Eh?" Supporting cast members will be Diana Orio as "Mildred," Wesley Wong as "Eustus Van Saly," and Vernoy Watanabe as "Mr. Davidson." Student directors are Tanya Rockstead and Richard Delaveaga. Solomon Moikeha will close the program with his rendition of "Dreamer's Holiday," theme song of the Sophomore Dance.

Class day program committee members are Joyce Hamada, Shirley Hashiro, Evelyn Matsumura, Kay Nagamatsu, Thomas Takayama, Michael Kurihara, Herbert Suezaki, Wesley Wong and Solomon Moikeha.

Editor Aiko Morimoto reported that she has formulated her sophomore staff which is as follows: Kay Nagamatsu, assistant editor; Annette Hamada and Doris Yoshida, news reporters; Patricia Parker, Lois Peterson, and William Milne, feature reporters; Satoshi Nishihara and Charles Bent, sports reporters and Staff Artist Vernoy Watanabe.

Sophomores will dance to music by Molina's Orchestra on March 25, from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Wailuku Armory, with the freshmen as special guests. Decorations will be centered around the theme, "Dreamers' Holiday." Decorative committees are: Decoration—Jane Oura (chairman), Carolyn Kato, Anita Brown, Mieke Kalia, Carol Fujita, James Hamura, James Kishaba, Edwin Yokouchi, Kay Mochizuki and Harry Mural; Invitations—Evelyn Zane (chairman), Hiroko Kanemitsu, Gladys Okita, Aurelio Tesoro.

Tavares Will Speak At PTG Program Friday

William D. Tavares, president of the Pais unit of the Holy Name Society, will be the principal speaker at a program being sponsored by the St. Joseph's Parent Teacher Guild at the parish gymnasium on Friday, March 4, at 7 p.m. A short regular meeting will precede the program which will feature playlets by the students of first and second grades and the kindergarten and a display of the best in current novels and Catholic literature.

The theme of the program centers around Catholic Book Week. Many of the books on display are being sold to the members who will donate them to the school to provide the start of a library for the students.

Following the program there will be a showing of the film "The Vatican" which is being loaned to the organization by the Maui Council of Holy Name Societies.

Mrs. Daniel Onaga is chairman of the PTG's program committee. (EB)

"Sunset" Painting is Most Popular on Friendly Isle

KAUNAKAKAI, Molokai, Feb. 26—Paintings, drawings and photographs shown in the Artists Guild annual exhibition at the social hall of the Molokai Community Center, February 19-26, revealed a great deal of talent on the part of local exhibitors.

"Sunset Over Maunaloa," by Mr. Beatrice Lewis, was the most acclaimed as the best entry in the show.

The Judge's selections were: Best in show, and first prize for Marine entries, "Ka Lae O Ka Laau," by Mrs. Sophie J. Cooke; first prize portraits, "Kapu," by Mrs. Agnes Yuen; first prize, landscapes, "Shapes and Colors," by Mrs. Betty Kube; first prize, still life, "Shell Ginger," by Mrs. Betty Kube; first prize, drawing, "Abstract Figure," by Gene Brown; first prize, photography, "Beachcomber," by Ralph Perkins.

Other artists exhibiting work in the show were Mrs. Molly Keppun, Gary Adachi, Shigeo Shikada and Mrs. Bernice Will.

In the junior division, water color paintings by students of Molokai High School competed, with first prize going to Florence Mondy, second prize to Charles Dudoit, and third prize to Albert Kahalohe.

The entries in the adult division were judged by Mrs. Irwin Wong, high school art teacher. Mrs. Wong's thorough study and experience in art gave her excellent qualifications for judging.

She first studied Eastern art in the classical tradition in Japan, then journeyed to Paris, France for training in Western-style art. She received a Master's degree in Fine Arts from Columbia University in New York. Mrs. Wong taught at Kalakaua Intermediate School in Honolulu, and also conducted adult education courses at the University of Hawaii. She came to Molokai in August, 1954.

Mrs. Wong's comment on the Artists Guild Exhibition was, "A very nice show — there is much talent for an amateur group, and it is wonderful, the way they are coming along."

The students' work was judged by Mrs. Agnes Yuen, who is well known on Molokai and elsewhere for her artistic talent. (L.B.)

HSPA Releases Wasps For Fight On Armyworms

Entomologists of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association Experiment Station are breeding and liberating thousands of deadly enemies of the lawntesting armyworm as a public service.

These parasites are tiny wasps, each measuring a fraction of a millimeter. They sting the eggs of the armyworm moth, killing them off before they can become armyworms. HSPA entomologists have released 17,000 so far on Oahu and are raising thousands more in their laboratories.

These tiny wasps, whose scientific name is Telenomus nawai, are native to Japan and were first found here in 1926, according to H. Van Zwaluwenburg, principal entomologist of the HSPA Experiment Station. How they got here is unknown, but it is believed they arrived on some plants brought in by travelers.

Mr. Van Zwaluwenburg said that there is little chance that armyworm outbreaks would originate in sugar cane fields because young armyworms need tender grasses to get started. Cane fields are free of tender grasses through the use of herbicides. Experiments show very few are able to survive on cane alone.

Mass Will Be Held Today For Maria Bruchal

Mass will be said at 9:30 a.m. today (Wednesday) at Holy Rosary Church in Paia for Mrs. Maria Gomes Bruchal, 73, of Paia, who died at her home on Saturday. Burial at Kuau Cemetery will follow mass.

Mrs. Bruchal, born November 12, 1881, in Madeira, is survived by three sons and five daughters. They are: Manuel and Leonard, Honolulu; Philip, Paia; Mrs. Adele Fernandez, Puunene; Mrs. Rose C. Medeiros, Paikouka; Mrs. Madeline Quivillon, Stockton, California; Mrs. William Perish, San Francisco; and Mrs. Donald Rood, San Francisco.

Also surviving are 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. Burial's business is handling funeral arrangements.

...Hath Charms

Maui and music lost a good friend last Friday with the sudden passing of "Sax" Lewis. Many of us at the concert that evening thought of how much we would have enjoyed it. His work for the bringing of the "Little" Symphony this year was his last contribution to the appreciation and enjoyment of music. This season he was house manager for the Philharmonic Society, and one of the most valued members of the Philharmonic Board. There are many of us who will greatly miss him, not only as a good companion and friend, but as a co-worker.

We cannot help but feel that he died engaged in what to him was one of his dearest concerns, and the shock to his friends aside, the way he would want to. The audience at the evening concert rose for a moment's silence before the concert began in tribute to this great friend of music and we feel sure that in the hearts of many present the concert, though formally dedicated to Brotherhood Week, was dedicated to "Sax" Lewis.

We are happy to say that with the "Little" Symphony concert the adults came out and gave the concert the kind of support the school children have been giving them. We do not have official figures, but our estimate is that there were over 600 present. The audience gave Mr. Barati and the orchestra a warm welcome and kept applauding through four encores and their fine performance and apt choice of selections earned it.

Of course, the audience was keyed to the appearance of Claire Nashiwa, whose performance of the Mendelssohn No. 1 piano concert was featured in the first half of the concert. It was a fine performance and Mr. Barati led the applause of its conclusion. We were very proud of our own, Mrs. Nashiwa showed surprising strength inside brilliant finale which calls not only for speed but strength in the hands, not easy to develop unless one is playing concerts all the time. It was a grand evening of music.

KMVI recorded the concert and has the necessary permission to broadcast it locally, so watch for the announcement.

The school audience will have a chance to hear some gifted children play on April 1st (no, no April fool). Two students of Mrs. Bacon's of Honolulu will play for school audiences only. More about this another time. (AEG)

Recruiter For Marines Departs For New Post

Technical Sergeant Charles E. Trent, non-commissioned officer in charge of the United States Marine Corps recruiting office in Wailuku since November, 1953, left the Valley Island Monday for a new assignment at Pearl Harbor on Oahu. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Joni Trent, and their two children, Steve and Sandy.

Sergeant Trent's departure marked the official closing of the USMC recruiting office which was opened January 15, 1952, by Staff Sergeant M. W. (Bill) Crain. Staff Sergeant William F. King succeeded Crain in June, 1952 and served as Leatherneck recruiter here until the arrival of Sergeant Trent 15 months ago.

Miss Tabata Is New Clerk At Baldwin High

A "new look" has been added to the Baldwin High administrative department with the presence of Miss Nobuko Tabata, substitute clerk for Mrs. Yaeko Muraoka. Mrs. Muraoka has left the school in preparation for a visit from the stork.

Miss Tabata, a Lahaina lass, is a 1953 graduate of Cannon's School of Business in Honolulu. She gained a lot of experience working in their family store and her first day here, February 1, went by without any catastrophe, she said.

"The students are very helpful and have willingly shown me around the school," said Miss Tabata of the office and girls. The new clerk has found the school very pleasant and likes it here. (BHS-AO).

Two Honoluluans Are Entertained

LAHAINA, March 1—Kenneth Kanu and William Kasei Fukuhara, former West Side residents, were week-end visitors on the Sunset Side from the Capital City. They were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Masao Yamamoto of Wainane Village on Sunday, and were also entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jiro Kikuyama of Honokowai Village.

Kenneth is proprietor of the Kahala Super Service while William is connected with the KULA's television department.

They came to Maui in company with Joe Konno, Danny T. Kawakami, Munee (Moon) Hamada of Puunene, and Mitsuyuki Yano, all KULA employees, and Edward "Slim" Higa, formerly of Kahaka, who is with the Commercial Motors of Honolulu. Mr. Konno is a former

Renwick Resigns From Honolulu Chamber Post

Resignation of Bryan Renwick as executive vice president was announced last week by Gilbert W. Root, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu.

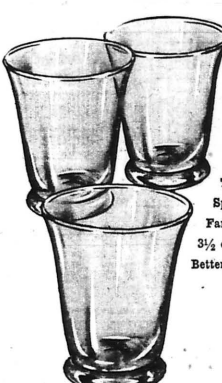

Mr. Renwick, who came to Hawaii in 1946 as district sales manager for United Air Lines and became the Honolulu Chamber's executive vice president in October, 1952, is leaving about April 1 to join the Canadian Pacific Airlines as assistant to the president with headquarters in Vancouver. His new duties will bring him to Hawaii from time to time, Mr. Renwick said.

Former employee of Maui Publishing Company. The group left for Honolulu on Monday. (CSA).

BY PETER JAMES WIKEL
(Public Accountant, Larkspur, California)

A farmer is allowed to take a deduction up to 25% of his gross income from farming for sums spent for soil and water conservation in 1954. If he has expended over 25% of his gross income from farming for soil and water conservation, then he can deduct the excess in later years.

In general, a taxpayer engaged in the business of farming may make expenditures during the taxable year for the purpose of soil or water conservation, or for the prevention of erosion of land used in farming. The expenditures shall be allowed as a deduction.

This is subject to the following limitation. The amount deductible shall not exceed 25 percent of the gross income derived from farming during the taxable year. If for any taxable year the total of the expenditures exceeds 25 percent of the gross income from farming, such excess shall be deductible for succeeding taxable years in order of time; but the amount deductible for any one succeeding taxable year (including the expenditures actually paid or incurred during the taxable year) shall not exceed 25 percent of the gross income from farming during that year.

This covers only expenditures paid or incurred for the treatment or moving of earth, including (but not limited to) leveling, grading and terracing, contour furrowing, the construction, control and protection of diversion channels, drainage ditches, earthen dams, watercourses, outlets, and ponds, the eradication of brush and the planting of windbreaks.

It does not cover the purchase, construction, installation or improvement of structures, appliances, or facilities which are of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation or any amount paid or incurred which is

Students Hear Talks On Careers At Baldwin High

Prominent members of the professional world participated in the Career Day program held at Baldwin High on February 2. It climaxed two weeks of research work by juniors and seniors in the different fields open to them after graduation.

The speakers were: Airlines and hostesses—Miss Uliani Baldwin and Osborn McCann, both of Trans-Pacific Airlines; Army and Marines—Sergeant First Class Masao Shoji, recruiter, Army and Air Force, and Technical Sergeant Charles Trent, recruiter, Marine Corps; auto mechanic—Alec Millikin, assistant central shop superintendent for Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company; beautician—Mrs. Michiko Yamada, proprietor of Beauty Bar; engineering—R. K. Rogers, assistant plant engineer superintendent of HCS.

Nursing and practical nursing—Mrs. Elizabeth McCall, administrator of nurses at Kula Sanatorium and the Territorial President of the Nurses Association, and Mrs. Frances Matsui, practical nurse at Puunene Hospital; radio and television—Sam Hew, proprietor of Hew Electrical Service; stenographer—Miss Emiko Matou, stenographer at Maui Realty Company; teaching—Miss Jane Onoye and Lawrence Shishido, teachers at Baldwin. (BHS-JW).

otherwise allowable as a deduction.

This does include any amount, not otherwise allowable as a deduction, paid or incurred to satisfy any part of an assessment levied by a soil or water conservation or drainage district to defray expenditures made by such district which, if paid or incurred by the taxpayer, would be deductible as above.

The term "land used in farming" means land used (before or simultaneously with the expenditures described above) by the taxpayer or his tenant for the production of crops, fruits, or other agricultural products or for the sustenance of livestock.

The only national voluntary health agency working exclusively in the field of heart and blood vessel disease is the American Heart Association.

Mauians To Attend PTA Meet

Pdla School Names
Matsui, Tateyama
As Delegates

Frank Matsui and Seichi Tateyama, incoming president and vice-president, respectively, were elected as delegates to the coming Territorial Convention at the monthly meeting of the Paia School PTA, held in the school cafeteria on February 10.

The speaker for the evening was Kenneth Watanabe, psychiatric social worker of the Board of Health. He showed a movie entitled, "The Meaning of Adolescence." After the movie, the entire group formed buzz groups to arrive at one question on adolescence which parents are confronted with. A spontaneous panel of Thomas Osakoda, Lester Hamai, Mrs. Eileen Tam, and Mrs. Ruth Takaki with Mr. Watanabe as moderator attempted to answer the questions.

Mr. Watanabe is slated to continue with the question of child development during the March and April meetings.

During the business meeting, April 7 was set as the date for the sweetbread and pie sale, and the PTA went on record giving the lowering of the pupil-teacher ratio first consideration in answer to a communication sent by James McDonough, executive secretary of the HEA.

Pennants for the best attendance of parents at the meeting were won by Mrs. Uto's second grade and Mrs. Hew's fifth grade classes.

Refreshments were enjoyed by all at the end of the meeting.

National Honor Society Has 14 New Members

Fourteen Baldwin High seniors, who excel in scholarship, leadership, and service, became members of the National Honor Society, recently. Mrs. Misayo Aizawa, club advisor, revealed.

New members are: Epi Guerrero, Esther Kimura, Vivian Iwamoto, Harriet Miyata, Mary Ohno, Sueko Watanabe, Jean Yasui, Harold Hashiro, Kenneth Hashiro, Joseph Khusnick, Ronald Sevilla, Robert Takitani, Sevath Tanaka and Mitsuo Urugo.

Unlike other campus organizations, NHS members are chosen by a group of teachers headed by Mrs. Misayo Aizawa, advisor. Officers of this honorary club are: Gail Brown, president; George Kohatsu, vice-president; Wing Red Yokouchi, secretary; and Roy Nakamoto, treasurer. (BHS-AM).

HELPING FRUIT GROWING INDUSTRY—Daniel Naka-nishi (left) and Tameichi Kusakabe (right), members of the Ahina-Teni 4-H Club of Kula, are shown above grafting two new varieties of plants on peach trees at Nishiyama's farm. As a public service project of the club, these two boys have volunteered to assist the Extension Service in establishing these two varieties—the Great Yellow and the Early Gold Shiro—with the hope that skill acquired through 4-H work will enlarge the present fruit growing industry. The plants were introduced by the Extension Service through the cooperation of Col. L. W. Bryson of the board of agriculture and forestry in Hilo.

Frank Foster, Former Molokai Resident, Dies

KAUNAKAKA, Molokai

Feb. 28 — Frank H. Foster, 65, one of the few surviving members of the Home Guard of the monarchy in 1894, died in the Queen's Hospital February 15. He was born in Honolulu and spent the greater part of his life on Molokai where he had extensive ranch holdings.

Mr. Foster was born in Honolulu September 5, 1889, son of Samuel Hudson and Margaret Gorman Foster who came to Honolulu from Davenport, Ia., in the early 60's. His father died at the age of 33, and his mother married Hugh McCarrison. She died March 11, 1932.

Mr. Foster was educated at St. Louis college and first was employed by the old Honolulu Planning Mills. While a young man he moved to Molokai and established a ranch at Makole-lau. He was for many years the deputy tax assessor for Molokai.

He retired in 1952, returned to Honolulu and until his death, made his home with a son, James.

He married the former Elizabeth McCarrison, a niece of his stepfather. She died June 1, 1931.

Surviving are seven children: Daniel H. of Koloa, Kauai; Francis H. of Makole-lau, Molokai; Mrs. J. Andrew (Anna) McGuire of Sacramento, Calif.; Neoma, George, John and James, all of Honolulu.

Also surviving are 10 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, five sisters, Mrs. L. M. (Ella) Whitehouse, Mrs. W. E. (Kinnie) Kerr, Mrs. Mervyn T. Prendiville, Miss Dove McCarrison and Miss Gertrude McCarrison; two brothers, George and Oscar McCarrison; and a number of nieces and nephews, including Mrs. N. P. Larsen and Harry Lucas, all of Honolulu. (LB).

Of the 800,000 persons who die from diseases of the heart, about one-third are below the age of 65, reports your Heart Association, sponsor of the 1955 Heart Fund.

Oceanic Plans Two New Ships For Pacific

Mainland shipyards on the East, Gulf and West coasts have been invited to bid for construction of two combined passenger-cargo liners of special design for the Oceanic Steamship Company, Randolph Sevier, president of the parent Matson Lines has announced. The invitation was issued following Federal Maritime Board and Navy Department approval of the plans for the liners which are the first postwar passenger ships designed for a Pacific service.

Deadline for the bids is April 19 in the office of the secretary of the Federal Maritime Board in Washington, D.C.

The twin 20-knot, 374 passenger ships — whose cost is anticipated to be about $40 million — are expected to be ready for their maiden voyages in mid-1956. Their route will be between California and Australia via Honolulu, Pago Pago, Suva and Wellington, New Zealand. In order to expedite the resumption of service, the Oceanic ships will be constructed on Marine-type hulls already built.

Middle East Cities Tied to UAL System

Fifteen major cities in the Middle East are tied to United Air Lines' nationwide system under an interline agreement just signed by the carrier and Iranian Airways, according to R. W. Ireland, vice president-traffic. Provisions call for the mutual acceptance of passenger tickets and cargo waybills. United patrons traveling to the Middle East can connect at New York with flights of Royal Dutch Airlines, Air France, Scandinavian Airlines System and Linee Aeree Italiane which all operate to Iran Airways' terminus at Tehran.

MR. AND MRS. HAJIME MATSURA (Alan's Photo Studio)

Ikedda-Matsura Wedding Held At Makawao Union

On her parents' golden anniversary, Miss Hinayo Ikeda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denjiro Ikeda of Makawao, became the bride of Hajime Matsura, son of Kiyoko Matsura of Hanalei, on the afternoon of February 5 at the Makawao Union Church. The Rev. Theodore Schulz performed the ceremony before the altar flanked with lighted tapers and arrangements of white gladioli. Organist was Mrs. Claire Nash.

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by Dr. Frank A. St. Sure, wore a beautiful gown of lace and tulle. Her finger tip of tulle fell from a beaded coronet. A pair of Chinese jade earrings were her only jewelry. She carried a bouquet of choice white callies from the well-known collection of Dr. St. Sure, who also gave the bouquets of purple orchids carried by the bridesmaids.

Miss Ruth M. Ikeda, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Hanayo Ikeda, sister of the bride, and Miss Sue Matsura, sister of the groom. They were identical ballerina gown of gold tulle in keeping with the Ikeda's fiftieth wedding anniversary. Cheryl Ann Ikeda and Jo Ann Matsura were flower girls.

Best man was James Omatsu. Mate Matsura and Kiyoto Matsura ushered for their brother.

The reception was held at six o'clock that evening with a Hawaiian luncheon in the World War Memorial Building in Paia. About 500 guests attended the luau, which also featured Japanese food. The hall was attractively decorated with strands of white crown flowers strung across the ceiling and two large white bells suspended in the center focusing on the motif of the joint celebration.

Toastmaster was Jisao Matsura who gave a resume of the couple's biographies. Dr. William Patterson, Rev. Taisaku Imamura, Takeo Kiki, Masaru Morikawa and Dr. John Patterson, who proposed toast to the newlyweds and the announcement of their honeymoon trip. Mrs. Matsura, a nurse at the Puunene Hospital since 1946, studied at Pacific Union

'Backstage Wife' Starts 21st Year On NBC-Radio

"Backstage Wife," one of NBC's longest-running daytime radio serial dramas, started its 21st year on the air Friday, February 25. The series is broadcast on KIVI at 1 p.m., Mondays-through-Fridays. Claire Nielsen, native of Phoenix, Ariz., plays the title role of the show. She started her professional career as a dancer, but deserted that for the theatre. She has been in several Broadway plays, including "Cue For Passion" and "The Valley Method."

James McLaughlin, who plays Larry Noble, her husband, has been acting since he was a child and appeared in a school play. He made his first professional appearance with a stock company as "Buddy Wiggs" in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." He has played on radio shows for the past 22 years.

Guidance Service Course Completed By 66 Teachers

On February 16, sixty-six Maui teachers, representing 20 of the Valley Isle's schools, completed an eight-week Guidance Service Workshop Course directed by Dr. Clarence W. Falor of the University of Hawaii, according to Masao Aizawa, deputy district superintendent of schools.

The course, said Mr. Aizawa, consisted of four hours attendance each week at Baldwin High School, where Dr. Falor, an exchange professor from the University of Colorado, presented correct counseling and guidance for school children.

Mr. Aizawa also reported that Frank Drees, director of adult education for the DPI, visited Maui for two days last week, for the purpose of developing adult education night school classes here. Mr. Drees is currently making plans to organize an adult class in reading at the request of the RCAF Co.

"Mr. Drees feels very strongly," said Mr. Aizawa, "that Maui should have a full time adult education field supervisor, as do Oahu and the island of Hawaii."

College, Glendale Memorial Hospital and the St. Mary's School of Nursing in Minneapolis. Her husband, a graduate of Maui High School, is with the U.S. Geological Survey in Honolulu.

Mrs. Matsura returned to her position at the Puunene Hospital on February 26. (FAA)

LAHAINE, Feb. 28 — Special recognition and honor was paid to the Den Mothers during the court of honor held by the cub-cubs of Lahaia Pack 7, in conjunction with the 45th anniversary of the Boy Scouts, at the West Maui C.A. recreation hall.

The nine den mothers were each presented with a gold miniature scout pin during a surprise ceremony conducted by Cubmaster Clarence S. Agnew. Receiving pins from Mr. Karl H. Berg, manager of Pioneer Mill Co., Ltd. and executive board member of the Maui County Council, BSA, were: Mrs. Berg, Mrs. Nicholas Serra, Mrs. Joseph Sweeney, Mrs. Fred T. Miyahara, Mrs. Mack M. Ichimura, Mrs. Ichiro Suzawa, Mrs. Edwin S. Bowmer, Mrs. Kazuyoshi Sakamoto and Mrs. Kenneth Taguchi.

An induction ceremony for Wendell Taguchi, Wilfred Taguchi, Steven Jones, Robert Ota, Danny Wright, Lloyd Ginoza, Randolph Cabanilla, and Clayton Earl Agnew was staged by the pack committee chairman, Masaru Mizumi.

The following achievement awards were presented during the court of honor: Alan Ginoza, wolf badge, gold arrow and bear badge; Alan Suzawa, wolf and bear badge; Gary Yoshimura, wolf and bear badge; Wayne Nishimura, wolf and silver arrow; Ronald De Mello, wolf badge; Cliff Akiyama, lion badge; Jackie Akiyama, bear badge and wolf gold arrow.

Cliff Akiyama, lion badge, lion gold and silver arrow; Larry Kato, lion badge; John McConkey, wolf silver arrow; Jerry Mizumi, lion badge; Ichimura, bear badge, bear gold and silver arrow; Ronald Taguchi, silver arrow; Colin Hara, bear gold and silver arrow; and Andrew Fuji-kawa, bear badge, bear gold and silver arrow.

The following received service stars: one year — Gary Ichimura, Ronald Berg, Ronald De Mello, Clyde Fujiwara, Alan Ginoza, John McConkey, Nicholas Serra, Ted Toshikyo, Carl Higuchi, Alvin Hara, Thomas Kam, Melvin Kawabata, Jose Kobatake, Erwin Kosaka, Kenneth Matsumoto, Edwin Miyahara, Wayne Nishimura, Glenn Okada, Alan Suzawa, Carson Wright and Jack Akiyama.

Two years — Merton Agnew, Special Bowmer, Lawrence Cabanilla, Andrew Fujiwara, Thomas Fujita, Colin Hara, Jerry Mizumi, Jan Sweeney, Ronald Taguchi, Clayton Akiyama, Gary Ichimura, Steven Kanemitsu, Larry Kato, Melvin Sato, Warren Taguchi and Jack Takimoto; three years — Gerald Ichikawa.

High blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and rheumatic fever are responsible for about 90 per cent of all heart disease. Medical science, supported by the Heart Fund, is seeking to discover the basic causes of these disorders.

EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.

Recently the Federal Power Commission, acting under a decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, has undertaken to regulate the sales of and set the prices received by producers of natural gas where such gas is sold across state boundaries.

It is my understanding that the FPC took this action with considerable reluctance—that this agency had previously considered regulation and price fixing of natural gas was none of its concern. As a matter of fact, a majority of the members of FPC, as constituted from time to time, believed and so stated in writing, that the Natural Gas Act of 1938 did not apply to independent producers.

In view of the recent Supreme Court decision, for the protection of natural gas consumers, an amendment to the Natural Gas Act of 1938 seems indicated.

The present low retail price of natural gas, lower on a heat value basis than other fuels in all but a few sections of the country, has been achieved through free bargaining under our competitive system, without Federal regulation of the independent producer.

FPC now steps in to interrupt this orderly, beneficial process.

Those favoring regulation of producers' prices argue the consumers' interests must be protected; that such regulation brings lower gas bills to the householder. But what are the facts?

(1) The average retail price of natural gas to the household consumer is up only 10 percent since 1940, while in that same period the composite price for all commodities is up over 80 percent.

Certainly no price-fixing seems to have been necessary to protect the consumer.

(2) Few persons realize that on the average for the country as a whole, the producer gets less than 10 percent of the amount paid by household consumers of natural gas.

Surely no opportunity for the gas producer to gouge the gas consumer presents itself here.

(3) Over 90 percent of the consumer's bill is required for transportation through pipelines and distribution systems.

The FPC regulates pipeline rates under the Natural Gas Act of 1938. The local distributor's rates are regulated by State Commissions.

Such regulation by FPC is proper because pipelines and distributors are public utilities.

(4) The independent natural gas producer, who at great cost and risk prospects for gas, owns no part of the interstate pipeline or the local distributor. He is not a public utility. A substantial part of the small percentage he gets of the retail price, must be plowed back to locate new supplies of natural gas. Because there is only so much gas in a producing field, it gets used up and the producer must constantly search for new reserves if he expects to stay in business.

Price fixing by FPC is discouraging reinvestment of the producer's capital—if continued it will eventually dry up the natural gas supply.

Consumers in the North face the danger of a diminishing gas supply over the years. As the supply diminishes, it will cost the consumer more because as less gas is put through pipelines or through a local distribution system, it costs more to deliver it to the consumer.

This danger confronts the consumer because if Federal price fixing is continued, producers to the extent possible, will confine sales from new discoveries to distribution only in the state in which the gas is produced. Such sales are not subject to Federal control and price fixing.

Naturally, the independent gas producer is opposing these bureaucratic restrictions. But his attitude is not a vindictive one. Sound business practice demands that he be free of arbitrary price controls. His major objection to Federal price control is that there is nothing permanent about the price once set. Contracts mean nothing. The FPC by calling a hearing is empowered to change a producer's prices on its own motion or upon anyone else's complaint any time it decides to do so.

Exploration and development of gas by producers is a hazardous business. Regulating that business as a utility from Washington initiates a fundamental change in our system of government. If price regulation of natural gas producers is not stopped by legislation, it will undoubtedly be followed by similar controls over coal, oil, iron ore, sulphur, timber and many other materials.

It is to the interest of household consumers of natural gas and to all who believe in the American System of Competitive Enterprise that Congress amend the Natural Gas Act of 1938 to specifically exempt natural gas producers from Federal regulation and control. I suggest you write to your Congressman and two U. S. Senators to get busy on this vital matter.

APPARENTLY RACIAL INTOLERANCE does not even respect the high councils of a church, if the irascible conduct of the Episcopal bishop of Texas is any criterion.

Originally the Episcopal general convention was scheduled to be held in September in Houston, Texas. Rising protests from all parts of the country against holding a convention of the church in a State that enacts and enforces racial segregation caused the presiding Bishop to cancel the Houston site and transfer the location of the 1955 meetings to Honolulu where tolerance in matters of race, creed and color has transcended the prejudices and bigotry of the Southland.

The public demonstration staged by the petulant bishop of Texas was not only unbecoming to a man of such high estate but it would seem to indicate that the gentleman believes in segregation, or at best, is willing to accept it as a necessary evil in his part of the nation.

It all adds up to a very sad incident involving a man who has risen to a high position of trust in an institution that is built upon the teachings and principles of Christ and bespeaks peace and goodwill among mankind and tolerance for those in lower stations. Thank goodness Bishop Clinton S. Quinn, the offending bishop, is a member of an insignificant minority. Vocal though it may be, the Bishop's actions, like Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, who cancelled out race-baiting Houston for harmonious, broad-minded Hawaii.

"Ramona" Is Witnessed By 3,000

St. Anthony Students Display Finesse In Production

More than three thousand Mauians enthusiastically witnessed the dramatic production "Ramona," staged by the St. Anthony High School at Baldwin auditorium February 16, 19 and 20. Due to a complete advance sell-out, only a few unclaimed seats were available at the box office.

From the moment the curtain was drawn to reveal the patio of the Moreno Rancho in its beautiful setting of orchards and fields, nestled below the purple San Jacinto mountains, the action moved with a tempo and finesse uncommon in the amateur theatre.

Antoinette Cook, in the title role, was lovely as the sweet and demure half-caste maiden who gave her heart to Alessandro, a young Indian stalwart. With a lyrical speaking and singing voice and sympathetic understanding, she conveyed a pathos which produced a flutter of quickly dashed hopes among the chiefs in the touching final scene.

As Alessandro, Jules Kozuki was impressive in a part which would have been weakened by misdirected histrionics. With erect carriage, stoicism and fitting restraint, he was convincing as the romantic Indian warrior.

To borrow an idiom from the Spaniards, Judith Lasch as the imperious Senora Moreno, was "very much the Senora." Unusual stage presence, grace of movement and gestures, action and voice control gave a near-professional realism to her exciting characterization.

The antics of Juan Canito, the old head shepherd, brought gasps of laughter at each entrance. Stanley Cabebe played his part to the hilt and appears to be a natural-born comic.

Sylvia Teixeira, as the first love, Margarita who loved and lost, was spirited and brash. She brought chuckles of merriment as she flounced through her lines under the lash of jealousy.

Old Man, the head cook, played by Margaret Mary Melrois, made an excellent foil for Juan Canito's jests and was never out of character.

Playing the role of old Franciscan monk, Bernard Dang won the hearts of his audience with the role of Felipe, made a striking appearance as a Mexican Don.

Audrey Reents as Aunt Rita, from Arkansas, had the hill-billy twang down to a T and carried her scene like a trouper.

A particularly effective bit was performed by Hermine Cabebe as a childish, old servant. In her few lines she drew a fine characterization.

Other noteworthy performances were given by Ronald Gonsalves, Alejo Camacho, Wilma Helm, and James Hirsuti.

A large chorus, accompanied by the piano by Donald Tanaka, did much to establish the character of the Mexican and Indian settings in early day California with such lulling lyrics as "Ramona," "Pale Moon" and "Indian Love Call." Also contributing to that end were the Mexican and Indian dances.

Direction, scenery and costumes were up to the usual high standards found in the annual St. Anthony Spring

AT ALAMFIDA—Marine Corporal George W. Kamakee (above), son of Mrs. Hilda Keshala of Kahului, reported in December to the U. S. Appraisal Board To Make Study Of Makawao Park

Requests from the County Engineer, Hama Community Association, and the Makawao Recreation Council were on the agenda for the special meeting of the Board of Supervisors February 17.

A board of appraisals is to be established to determine the value of the Territorial land presently being used for the Makawao Community Center and that proposed for the new Makawao Park. A motion to this effect was made by Hannibal Tavares and passed by 6-1 vote. Fukusaka dissenting, following receipt of the Makawao Recreation Council's request for urgent action on the acquisition of land for the new park, for which the 1953 legislature has appropriated $25,000 for improvements.

Engineer Hamada's request for permission to fill the previously authorized position of garbage investigator was denied 5-2, pending receipt of additional information. Manuel Molina, who moved for the denial, said that he does not believe the civil service examination for the position has ever been given. Voting no were George Fukusaka and Chairman Eddie Tam.

Referred to the public works committee for investigation and report was the request from Edwin Nakashima, HCA executive director, for hooking up of lights in the Hana Beach Park with the County street-lighting system.

Sugar Technologists Set Dates for Meet

Hawaiian Sugar Technologists will hold its 14th annual meeting from November 14 through 17, in Honolulu. Made up of specialists directly or closely connected with the Island's sugar industry, HST has a membership of 1,150. The annual meeting date is announced far in advance because the gathering is one of the largest in the territory.

A sugar investigator was denied 5-2, pending receipt of additional information. Manuel Molina, who moved for the denial, said that he does not believe the civil service examination for the position has ever been given. Voting no were George Fukusaka and Chairman Eddie Tam.

DeCoite-Franco Nuptials Read At Makawao

Bernadette Lillian DeCoite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe DeCoite of Kokomo, became the bride of Augustine Franco Jr. of Haiku on Saturday, February 5. The couple pronounced their vows before the Reverend Father Raphael Smulders, S.S.C.C. pastor of St. Joseph's Church at Makawao, during an early morning nuptial Mass.

The high altar was banked with calla lilies before which the double ring wedding ceremony took place. Some 100 relatives and friends attended the services.

The petite bride approached the altar in a lovely gown with a full length skirt of net over satin, a tight bodice of lace over satin and a fingertip veil. She carried white cattleya orchids and wore a beautiful necklace given to her by her sister Marian, who only recently returned home from Florida after a seven year absence.

Her maid of honor, Sylvia Canha of Pukalani, wore a pink gown complementing the bride's and also carried an orchid bouquet. The groom's sister, Violet, was bridesmaid and she wore a blue gown and had a bouquet of butterfly orchids. The bride's brother James carried the rings and Jacqueline Pacheco of Kokomo was the flower girl. She wore a dainty pink gown.

Clarence Fernandez of Paia was the best man and Paul DeCoite, brother of the bride, acted as usher.

The bride's mother wore a blue-green dress and had an

New Princess Kaiulani Hotel Opening In June

The $45 million Princess Kaiulani Hotel at Waikiki will open its doors formally to island visitors on June 11, Hastings announced. It was announced last week by Edwin K. Hastings, Vice-President - Hotels, Matsdon Navigation Company, who said the 800-room structure will be dedicated on the territorial holiday with Hawaiian ceremonies.

Largest hotel built in Hawaii since the Royal Hawaiian in 1927, the Princess Kaiulani will be a timely addition to the growing tourist industry, Mr. Hastings said. It will receive guests at the start of a heavy summer season.

Fronting on Kalkaua Avenue, the new hotel is set in a lush tropical garden that features a large swimming pool, its modernistic, balconied facade rises 104 feet to be crowned by public rooms commanding 360 degree views of the leeward side of Oahu, from Diamond Head to Pearl Harbor. The viewrooms are the Mauna Kea Room and Robert Louis Stevenson suite, the former named for the highest peak in the Pacific, and latter in commemoration of his association with Princess Kaiulani.

The hotel is named for the last royal princess of the Hawaiian Monarchy. It is built on land near her former estate, Aiehuahua, where as a child she played and listened to the stories spun by Stevenson.

The Princess Kaiulani is the

New Deadline Established For GI Education

President Eisenhower has signed Public Law 7 permitting servicemen in the Armed Forces on January 31, 1955, to earn up to 36 months of entitlement to Korean GI Bill Education and Training.

Previously, a Presidential Proclamation had set January 31 as the cut-off point for GI Bill entitlement. Now, however, veterans who entered military service on or before January 31 will continue to build up GI training entitlement after that date. The new law also establishes a new deadline for these veterans, beyond which training may not be given: January 31, 1968, or eight years after discharge or release, whichever comes first.

fourth operated by Matsdon, the others being the Moana, Surf-Rider and Royal Hawaiian.

Joseph Filoni, maître d' Hotel at the Royal and long-time Honolulu resident, has been named manager of the Princess Kaiulani. Other staff appointments will be announced shortly, Mr. Hastings said.

Committees For PTSA Announced

Appointment of four committee chairmen highlighted the business portion of the second Baldwin Parent-Teacher-Student Association meeting held in the school auditorium on February 7.

Chairmen named by President Yoshio Takata are: Donald Tokunaga, finance; Tokiaki Kubota, program; James Kaya, project; and Miss Alice Yoshimori, nominating committee. Daniel Ongais and Harold Rising will serve on Miss Yoshimori's committee. The April meeting will see new officers at the helm of the PTSA.

President Takata will represent the PTSA at the Hawaii Congress PTA meeting at Farrington High School, Honolulu, on March 25 and 26. The PTSA is eligible to send seven delegates and members interested in attending the meeting may contact Mr. Takata for more information.

A movie, "The Right to Learn," was shown during the entertainment phase of the meeting along with shots of the Tournament of Roses floats. The former film was a stirring account of an educator's problem in teaching a controversial issue, such as communism, to students. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anne Williamson and the cafeteria staff before adjournment. (BHS-JNA).

BHS Students Visit Second Circuit Court

Baldwin's Student Court members visited the Second Circuit Court at Wailuku to witness land estate and criminal cases and to tour various judicial departments last month.

They were welcomed by Lieutenant Francis DeMello of the police department, and were seated in the jury box to observe the various cases as there was no active jury at this session. After a few cases were heard, Lyons K. Naone Jr., record administrator, showed the group the administrative department and its personnel while explaining their duties. He also led them into the library and talked about its contents and functions.

August Markham, probation administrator, talked about the functions of his department for a few minutes before the group returned to school for lunch.

This was the second trip taken by these students for they visited the Wailuku District Court earlier this school year. The school's judicial branch aims at better court sessions in school by witnessing actual court procedures. Those who made the excursion were: George Kobata, Harold Hashiro, Helen Fukunaga, Esther Lee, Elsie Tom, Carol Mae Anai, Dorothy Hirata, Hilda Kagawa, Emmaline Endo, and Edwin Bonsey, advisor. (BHS-EE).

Clerical Course Is Completed By Maui WACs

Two Wacs from Maui were among the recent graduates from the clerical procedures and typing course conducted by the WAC School at The Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McChesney, Alabama.

They are Privates Margie Sodekani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Susumu Sodekani of Waihee Village, Lahaina, and Keala Aikau, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aikau of Lower Piha Road, Wailuku. Private Sodekani is remaining at The Center for duty as a clerk-typist in the personnel section and Private Aikau has been transferred to Fort Benning, Ga., for duty as a stenographer.

Private Sodekani is a graduate of Lahainaluna Technical High School and Private Aikau graduated from Baldwin High School. Both enlisted in the WAC last August and completed a two-week basic training at Company C of the WAC Training Battalion before being assigned to the clerical procedures and typing course.

PRAYER FOR THE DAY

Oh God make us thankful for the many little blessings of life; give us strength to meet our disappointments; courage to overcome our temptations; and a heart open to the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Raymond Kistler, Pennington

HI LIFE WAS A FULL ONE

Paul Saxton Lewis is gone, but memories and recollections of the good that he did as one who was interested in helping the community whenever possible, will be cherished by all who were associated with him, directly or indirectly.

He was a businessman; a boss who unhesitatingly rolled up his sleeves and put in when the work was tough; a community-spirited citizen; and a kind man who did a lot of good that nobody, except those directly involved, knew about.

"Sax" Lewis' life was a full one, and an adventurous one, which took him from Atlanta, Georgia, to the Far East and South America, before he came to Maui about six years ago. Before long, he was deeply and actively involved in a number of community organizations and activities, including the children's program of the Philharmonic Society, the Maui Community Theater, Hale Makua, American Red Cross, and Salvation Army.

He was, too, an active member of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Wailuku.

These things are on the record. But the full story of "Sax" Lewis' contribution to the community will never appear in print, and he would have preferred it that way. Not only did he give unselfishly of his time and effort in community projects, but his personal funds found their way into the coffers of more than one local organization to tide it over the rough spots. His individual philanthropies were many and generous, and scores of Maui's citizens, some of them Sax's own employees, could tell a story of being helped financially, and unostentatiously so, when a crisis was at hand.

One of Coca-Cola's top officials might have been hearing the sentiments of thousands of Mauians when speaking of Paul Saxton Lewis, he said: "He is the epitome of a true gentleman."

STRATEGY WITH A BACKFIRE?

The obvious intent of the strategy of the Democrat leadership in Congress when the party's $20 cut of individual income taxes was created in the form of a rider to President Eisenhower's own tax bill that would continue corporation and excise taxes for another year, was to drive the President into the embarrassing position of vetoing his own legislation, or sign the amended bill containing the Democrats' purely partisan, campaign-bait personal income tax reduction.

The strategy was indeed cleverly devised and cunningly executed. At the Senate, too, along with the House, it may accomplish as intended, by forcing Sen. Eisenhower to sign the tax bill; then, again, it may not work in that case, but it could very well develop a backfire that may not have been intended by the responsible party officials.

Sen. Eisenhower has not yet indicated whether he will more than 100 years in the future, he is no penny-pinching politician and his courage in advocating sound, beneficial legislation and administrative policies in the face of opposition by his own party, and even in spite of popular unpopularity of some of the measures, may have been the greatest of his life.

It may just be that the President once more will take the bit in his teeth and veto the amended bill solely because a premature tax cut of any kind will jeopardize the entire federal budgetary structure and certainly counteract all the progress made by the President in the past year in the face of chaos in federal finances. This would be characteristically in the Eisenhower manner, to veto a popular piece of legislation strictly because, at this time, its passage would not be in the best interests of the nation and all its people, many of whom came to see the tax cut as a means of escape from the burden of the tax cut. It is much like the family doctor prescribing for junior's aching tummy. Junior may not like the immediate effects out when he is hale and hearty again, he inevitably gives thanks to the man who cured him of his pains.

Vetoing of the amended bill containing the personal income tax reduction formula will save one critical threat to the governmental financial stability and, at the same time, precipitate another.

Mr. Eisenhower has proposed that federal corporation and excise taxes be extended another year instead of being permitted to go off the statute books in April, purely because the government can no more afford to forego this income at this particular time in its recovery from 20 years of waste and deficit spending, than it can suffer losses through untimely personal income tax reductions.

However, the administration's proposal to continue the business taxes another year will die along with the personal income rider if a veto is executed and sustained, as it most certainly will be by both houses of Congress, judging from the closeness of the vote in the House (210-205) and the prevailing sentiment in the Senate. If the bill is signed into law, the treasury will continue to collect the business excise taxes (about $2 billion 800 million) but will merely place this money in one of the many pockets while extending about $2 billion 100 million from another pocket in the form of the personal income tax losses.

This is a paradoxical situation to say the least and it should be crystal clear to the intelligent citizen that the end the same people who benefit from a cut in their own personal taxes will be picking up the tab to offset the reduction in revenues caused by the completely unrealistic bit of political chicanery.

Isn't it quite obvious that if it is necessary to retain business excises in order to hold the financial line, it is likewise urgent that all other sources of income should remain in effect until the national economy becomes thoroughly sound once more?

To do or not to do, this is the question that Mr. Eisenhower will have to answer if the Senate majority goes along with the House and passes the amended bill. Whatever he does, it is patently certain that his decision will be based exclusively on the good of the whole country and not personal or party expediency, something that the sponsors of the rider cannot claim.

TIP FOR LAWMAKERS

The familiar disrespect for law might be less if legislators took the statute books more seriously. A newly elected Maine lawmaker has found 10 pages of laws relating to the operation of electric railways. There has not been one in the state for eight years, yet no one has troubled to get the laws repealed.

If lawmakers do not take their own work seriously, who else will?

LET THE PEOPLE OF MOLOKAI DECIDE

Should Molokai become a separate and independent County as proposed by Governor King? This is the question, it would seem, is one that is strictly and exclusively a matter for the consideration and action of the people of the Friendly Isle, and the Governor has wisely framed his suggestion in the form of a plebiscite by the voters of Molokai, who would answer the question themselves.

There is considerable merit in the separate proposal; likewise there are a good many disadvantages. These should be brought out on the table and closely scrutinized by the people of Molokai and if they feel that independence of Maui County is in their advantage, then they should demand the right to determine for themselves, and the legislature should give them this opportunity.

Governor King has taken a forward step in bringing the subject up for official discussion and consideration by the legislature, because for almost as long as Maui County has been in existence, the people of Molokai have felt, and frequently with good reason, neglected and "left out in the cold" insofar as supervisory consideration is concerned. Many times they have referred to their Island as the "Forgotten Isle."

Thanks to the late Republican legislature, Molokai is now entitled to one member of the board, but it is quite obvious that one vote on the board does not assure the people of the Friendly Isle of fair and equal treatment.

Governor King's suggestion deserves legislative action so that the people of Molokai may have the true American tradition, may decide for themselves to go it alone or string along as sometimes forgotten citizens of Maui County.

About THINGS and PEOPLE

by Edna E. Jenkins

GOOD MORNING: Rain beat against the windows all night

—a clear blue sky and fluffy clouds this morning.

Had the great privilege last Sunday of spending it with four distinguished women from India. In Hawaii, studying UE work on grants from the Ford Foundation and the Indian Government, each outstanding woman is the only representative from her province and when her work is completed, she will go back to teaching the things she learned here. Every bit of our casual living was of intense interest to them.

For instance, when Maui home demonstration agent Mabel Itu brought into my house, of great interest was the kitchen and half a dozen pictures were taken. Then the laundry with its washer and dryer was examined. Finally the bedrooms and even the birds had their pictures taken.

Enroute to Lahaina, the whistler on a short. They admired the beautiful coconut trees, and the banyan, so familiar to them, they said grown even larger in their homeland. At the Inn, Rula and George Tan prepared a luncheon which they enjoyed. Being Hinduists they eat neither fish nor meat, but vegetables, fruit and both milk and cheese for protein.

Someone asked me what I do with coconuts. Carelessly I answered, "I put them in a bowl and use them as a centerpiece for decorating." On the way home she said I had "hurt her deep inside when I spoke as I did about the coconut." Then she explained, it is sacred to the Goddess Siva, a symbol of fertility and when she wanted to give a particularly nice gift to a child or to take something to a wedding, the best gift she could take was a coconut. I told her I was with her, I was having a hard time of it, and she said that is mainly why I skip them. Wouldn't he hurt her feelings for the world.

On the way back they wanted to stop at the "serene" ocean and pick up a shell with a hole in it. She admired the stones with their varied patterns, lifted their saris an inch and went waving. Loved it.

One woman was a refugee from Pakistan. Said 60 of her immediate family were killed before they crossed the border with only the clothes they wore — couldn't even carry a scrap of paper. The Indian government put them up in shelters, and she is trying to reach them in the near future. She said that those they had in Pakistan. For instance, farmers would have two or three acres of land. Her father was given about $10,000 to start a factory like the one he had in Pakistan.

All the children of the family are studying in the United States. With an illiteracy of 95% they now have built schools and hospitals in every village. Many women are becoming nurses for no money. They are now a medical profession to treat her. Even the hospitals are separated for Hindu and women. What a wonderful way to start World Brotherhood week. I don't think for a moment they were the only ones to profit by the aftermath.

You know, if you want anything done, ask Dorothy Lanquist. She is the one who has been making the most of the money she has. Darle van Dusen, one of the directors of the Churchill Trust of Portland. She entertained all 70 of the visitors at her lovely beach home before they started for the mountains. Orchids, too. She had a table set up with flowers before dawn and fixed flower arrangements, using leaves and blooms from the Lanquist yard.

The day after, Dorothy, as president, ran the Outdoor Circle meeting. If that wasn't enough, the next day she entertained for the night Mrs. Summer Walters, wife of the Bishop of San Joaquin, who was here for the Good Shepherd Week. She had a table set up with flowers and additional guests for dinner. Some gal is our Dorothy!

Incidentally, as soon as the Churchill tour is over, Mrs. van Dusen leaves for Arizona to make arrangements for a "Boots and Saddles" tour from the Northwest. Just wondered if you wouldn't mind something like that on our island. We do have wonderful places to ride over our beaches, hills and mountains. Might even find a cattle branding. Just a thought and why not?

Country Chirps...

...By A Westside Bird

SINCE THE MAUI NEWS could not be outdone by the Honolulu papers, the Bird flew over to Hawaii the other day to personally investigate the "Bird and Road Ghost" and report to our fans on what we might see.

We traversed ghost country around the stroke of midnight. Not having a pickup truck with a bright searchlight, we used a Ford Station Wagon. We kept the windows rolled down until the biting cold and snow-like rain forced us to close them. It looked like wonderful ghost weather and when we saw two yellow headlights off to the side of the road we thought, "This is it!" However, as we drew closer a Parker Rand Street took off mooting into the fog.

Madam Pele is thought by some to be responsible for the ghostly activity. When we approached Waimea we saw what appeared to be an old woman in a white hula walking in the rain so we happily started to slow down to pick her up. She was not a hula dancer, but a woman in a white hula walking in the rain so we happily started to slow down to pick her up. She was not a hula dancer, but a woman in a white hula walking in the rain so we happily started to slow down to pick her up.

We must admit that we forgot to take along any pork. All we could get was the piece of Molokai. When we got to the road we did not appear to any Hawaiian gods. Neither did we have any spirits in a bottle and the combination of these two may be the reason for our utter failure to be able to give you any account of the ghostly activity we tried and our success was as great as the carefully organized but somewhat over-manned expedition sent out by our Honolulu competitors.

Sometimes this column is not in its usual place and we have had readers complain that we had missed an issue. Chirps has appeared without fail in every Maui News since about the middle of last November, so if you don't find it at first glance take a look at the back of the front page and you will see where to look. The editor thinks that it should sometimes appear with Opu Nui instead of with Edna E. Jenkins all the time. After all, he can't show any favoritism, can he?

In previous issues we have discussed the congested parking lot of the Lahaina Post Office. When the tax man felt would not appear to any Hawaiian gods. Neither did we have any spirits in a bottle and the combination of these two may be the reason for our utter failure to be able to give you any account of the ghostly activity we tried and our success was as great as the carefully organized but somewhat over-manned expedition sent out by our Honolulu competitors.

So the suggestion by one of our good friends was most timely. She felt that this street could be widened enough on both sides so as to permit ample parking. Some trees would be in the way but these could be left in place just as were the two coconut trees directly in front of the Post Office. This would not be an expensive job and angle parking would permit a great many more cars to be taken care of. Also many people who are only stopping for a few minutes do not want to take the time to squeeze into a single parking space at present so they double park. But if they could swing in and angle parking spot, they would do so and thus benefit everyone.

How about this idea, County Fathers?

Thank you.

Problems of Aging
In behalf of the Maui Business & Professional Women's Club may I extend to the Maui News, KMVI and other deep appreciation for the generous coverage given to the program on problems of aging.

A very special mahalo to Edna Jenkins, "Chirps" and Chairman of the planning committee, to Mrs. Margaret Alexander, Assistant Supervisor, Public Health Nursing and Mrs. Okuni Tanager, staff Public Health Nurse of the Health Education Committee on In-Service programs. Department of Health to Dr. George Carter, of Hawaii Cancer Society and local chapter for bringing Dr. Walter Quisenberry to us; to the participants for their time and talent in preparing and participating in the program; to the Kahului United Church for the use of the Kindergarten and to all the others who gave generously of their time and efforts to make our program such a success. Mahalo nui.

An Open Letter To Charlie Young
Tonight many hearts on Maui are heavy because of you, and for you and your family.

You have done much good for the people of Maui and for the island of Maui. I feel sure that most of us believe that you were foolish or careless, rather than intentionally on problems of aging.

Most of us make mistakes sometime or other during our lives, and for such mistakes we have to pay in suffering. Suffering, that suffering frequently involves others.

I cannot believe that most of the people are little or mean — I cannot believe they will heap the fires of indignity upon the poor and the old.

I do believe that when you come back home you will not be given the proverbial "kick in the seat of the pants" but rather many a hand extended in friendship and aloha.

Brotherhood Week

The coverage of Brotherhood Week given by the members of your staff and of KMVI was deeply appreciated by the Maui Unit of the Hawaii Chapter of World Brotherhood. The "So This is Maui" taped during Mrs. Dorothy's Shimer week on Maui and the numerous quotations from various national and international leaders were especially commended upon.

The World Brotherhood meeting scheduled for March tenth at Baldwin High School has been postponed to another date. It will be held at a conference in Honolulu with Dr. Shimer, just arranged, concerning the activities for next year.

LISTEN AMERICANS!

...by George S. Benson

Men of unusual ability and unusual affairs have built America into the nation which provides the present generation of people the greatest measure of welfare in the history of the human race. These individuals prime movers must be recognized as citizens because there is another kind of benefactor bringing progress to America, the corporate benefactors, the companies which have utilized unusual abilities and unusual affairs for the good of mankind.

In the heart of Arkansas's pine timber belt, a sawmill began operations 50 years ago. It was called the Crossett Lumber Company. Its lifetime was limited. It would cut out the available timber and leave one day one of the owners stood watching a log being snaked up onto the mill pond into the sawmill. As the butt of the log went by he absent-mindedly counted the concentric growth rings in the structure of the wood. Then he had a flash. He exclaimed, "Why that log has grown from a twig since we built our mill! Why not grow our timber and harvest it—as a crop? We could stay here forever!"

Crossett Progresses
The Crossett Company built a model town, brought in some of America's foremost foresters and began to revolutionize this nation's concept of its timber resources. Today, its scientifically controlled forests grow enough timber each year to supply its needs — and this can go on, indeed, forever! Today, every family in Crossett, Arkansas, owns a share. Through the enlightened management and civic leadership of the company, the little town has become a city preparing itself for a population of 25,000, following a plan prepared by one of America's great planners.

A visit to this wonderful community refuels one's reservoir of faith in America and especially in the business leadership of America. The streets are clean, the schools are good, its churches are among the most beautiful in the nation. Its schools are the last word in modern facilities and in faculty standards. Its hospitals, parks, swimming pools and playgrounds would make any city envious. The Crossett Company, now boasting huge paper mills and chemical plants, has insisted that the citizens do these things for themselves. It has supplied the vision, the push and the sizeable share of the financial cost. That's corporate citizenship.

State-Wide Citizenship
In Little Rock 14 years ago, a man and his company decided to expand their corporate citizenship. The man was C. Hamilton Moses; the company was the Arkansas Power & Light Company which he headed. At the time, Arkansas's per capita income was $252 a year. Its economy was based on raw material production, with little processing and manufacturing within the state. Mr. Moses called together 1,000 Arkansas businessmen and they devised "The Arkansas Plan" — the primary objective of which was to bring new industry to Arkansas and stimulate establishment of locally-financed processing and manufacturing plants. The new payrolls would enrich the economy of the state. Largely through the efforts of the company, Arkansas has obtained thousands of new industries in the last 14 years. The per capita income of the state has risen to $1,800 a year. Another phase of this great civic work was the "Build Your Own Home" program. Mr. Moses traveled the state, holding the clinics in 73 counties. As a result, many Arkansas communities have long-range civic improvement plans such as Crossett's. Mr. Moses and his company have demonstrated a high calibre of corporate citizenship.

For the Nation
One other example, this one on a national scale, should be noted: In June, 1950, the United States government knew that Soviet Russia had obtained, through espionage, our secrets on the H-bomb, and that the Russians were already begun manufacturing the bombs. The Du Pont Company's efforts were called in. Would they, the government asked, throw all their engineering resources and chemistry know-how into the building of the gigantic billion dollar Savannah River plant to make the materials for H-bombs? The answer was, yes.

Du Pont built a plant in record time. As a result, our government promptly announced that we were far ahead of Communist Russia in this field of decisive nuclear weapons. For all the know-how, and lending the hundreds of technical engineers to the plant, the government paid for the plant construction. Du Pont charged the government $1, in addition to actual expenses. Its best men were employed over a long period without the company's profiting. This is the kind of corporate citizenship that builds our nation and keeps it strong.
