THIS WEEK AT UHWO
a bulletin for UH West O'ahu faculty and staff

Week of July 8

UH West O'ahu in the news

UH West O'ahu's new Information Security and Assurance degree, to be offered this fall, was recently featured in a Honolulu Civil Beat article and the KITV news. The new program will also be featured in a Hawaii Public Radio story and in-depth additional Honolulu Civil Beat story featuring interviews with UH West O'ahu's Dr. David Pai. The Wonder of Learning: the hundred languages of children exhibit, co-sponsored by UH West O'ahu, was featured on KHON2. State Senator Michelle Kidani also published an article in MidWeek about UH West O'ahu's future new Allied Health Building.

Dr. Brenda Machosky publishes international journal article

UH West O'ahu Associate Professor of English Dr. Brenda Machosky recently published "'Girl in a White Dress': The Voices of Iris Milutinovic" in the journal Antipodes: A Global Journal of Australian/New Zealand Literature. Milutinovic is a little-known Australian writer from Tasmania and then Western Australia who published one novel, award-winning short stories, and wrote many radio broadcasts.

In the essay Machosky discusses how, although Milutinovic's work was mostly about her own experiences and those of her immigrant husband, she reworked a short story about an encounter with a young Aboriginal girl more often than any other story. In its various versions, the story shows a White Australian woman's attempt to understand her own reactions and responsibilities to the Aboriginals and the social and economic challenges they face.

"'Girl in a White Dress': The Voices of Iris Milutinovic" is based on archival research at the Harry Ransom Center at the University of Texas Austin, which houses her papers, including drafts of unpublished materials on which the article is based. Dr. Machosky's research was sponsored by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Research Fellowship from the Ransom Center and a grant from the UH Endowment for the Humanities.

Upcoming Events

Today is the first day of summer session II instruction and the first day of late registration. July 10 is the last day of late registration and the last day to drop classes with a 100% refund and no "w."
