How Does OneSearch Work?

OneSearch finds results that match all of your search terms. By default, OneSearch only finds results where Full Text is available. To expand your search to include results that only have citations and abstracts, uncheck the Full Text box.

OneSearch looks for results in many library resources simultaneously. By default, all of the available resources are searched. Uncheck the Subject Groups you don't need or click on a specific Subject Group to search fewer resources and make your search faster and more focused. For advanced options and tools, search the resources individually through the Find Articles page or the links below. The resources available with OneSearch are:

- All EBSCOhost databases
- ebrary Online Books
- Issues & Controversies
- Journals @ Ovid
- Literary Reference Center
- Hawaii State Public Library Catalog

PLEASE NOTE: The Hawaii Voyager Library Catalog is not available with OneSearch. ScienceDirect is not available with OneSearch.

OneSearch is powered by EBSCOhost, so many of the features and the interface of the results may be familiar to you. When a non-EBSCO result is available in OneSearch, click on the Retrieve Item link. For additional instructions, see EBSCO's Integrated Search Help Page, or ask at the Reference Desk.
