

Assignment 12: Videorecording cataloging

The objectives of this assignment are to:

become familiar with the rules in chapters 0-3 and chapter 7 of RDA (and the associated LC/PCC PSeS) that apply to videorecordings in DVD format, and learn how to apply them in MARC bibliographic format.

become familiar with Best Practices for Cataloging DVD-Video and Blu-ray Discs Using RDA and MARC21

apply what you have learned in your previous assignments and readings to the original cataloging of a DVD videorecording create an original catalog record in VISUAL MATERIALS format using Connexion browser or client construct authorized access points for a videorecording and any persons, families, or corporate bodies related to the resource.

1. Examine the disc label and insert for the DVD we viewed in class on April 9. It will be kept in the reference collection in your LIS study room. Please do not remove it. (You can also refer to the scanned surrogates here:

Quick Tip

Before creating a new record, by any method, search WorldCat for existing records that describe the item.

To create a new record from an existing record, retrieve and view the full record, open the Edit list, and click Derive New Record.

3. When you have finished creating your record, print a copy to bring to class on April 16.
4. Submit an essay (typed, double-spaced, please) in class on April 16 outlining the RDA rules and LC-PCCPSes you consulted in creating your record, other resources you consulted, decisions you made, questions you had, etc.

Here are some guidelines for what your completed bibliographic record should contain at minimum:
