THIS WEEK AT UHWO

a bulletin for UH West O'ahu faculty and staff

Week of October 20

Emerging Issues In Open Access Research workshop, Oct. 27

In celebration of Open Access Week, Nick Shockey, director of programs and engagement at the Scholarly Publishing and Academic Resources Coalition, will discuss open access issues and student movements supporting open research practices. Open access is the free, immediate online access to results of scholarly research and the right to use and re-use those results as needed. The "Emerging Issues in Open Access Research" workshop happens Monday, Oct. 27 from 2-3:30 p.m. via HITS in B157. Open to all faculty, staff and students. Sponsored by the UHWO Library and the UHWO Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence.

UHWO Office of Institutional Effectiveness Halloween Party/Open House, Oct. 31

Get to know your new UH West O'ahu Office of Institutional Effectiveness at the Halloween Party/Open House on Friday, Oct. 31 from 1-2:30 p.m. in the hallway in front of D104. Prizes will be given for best costume (see attached flyer). Eat sweet treats and get to know your Office of Institutional Effectiveness!

UHWO Factbook offers wealth of information

Need data on admissions, enrollment, tuition, financial aid, graduation, retention, faculty and staff, and other UH West O'ahu campus information? Check out the UHWO Factbook page of the UH West O'ahu website. Brought to you by the UHWO Office of Institutional Effectiveness.

Bury a body this Halloween

Watch the FBI create a forensic crime scene on campus as they bury a body on-site on Halloween day at 9 a.m. (see attached flyer and map to the burial site). Dr. Michael Hallstone will discuss digital security following the burial at 11 a.m. in D146. Open to all UHWO students, faculty and staff. Sponsored by the Justice Honor Society.

UHWO Environmental Biology students conduct biodiversity study on campus

Students in Dr. Brenden Holland's Environmental Biology BIOL123 course recently conducted a study using the Species Area Curve (SAC) tool to determine the distribution of biodiversity on the UH West O'ahu campus compared to the converted agricultural lands off campus. Once data was collected for the SACs, the students created a graph showing the cumulative area surveyed vs. the cumulative number of species observed. The curves provide important information about biodiversity that can be used to compare different areas as well as the same area, and provides a baseline about changes in species diversity over time. The Environmental Biology BIOL123 course addresses Earth Science concepts within the context of life in the Hawaiian Islands. AUW giving

How about a little friendly competition between campus units to benefit those less fortunate? Your Aloha United Way (AUW) Committee is issuing a challenge to you, our generous campus! The unit that brings in the most donations by percentage of participants is declared the winner. Bragging rights go to the victorious unit. As a campus, let's beat our previous best by donating a total of $10,000. We're looking for 38 (or more) of you to donate by filling out your pledge form. Please turn your pledge forms in to your respective unit's representative by Oct. 30:

- Christine Neves, Chancellor's Office, D133
- Alison Seo, Administrative Affairs, E124B
- Tina Kohara, Student Affairs, C 246A
- Heriuter Maynard, Academic Affairs, D201
