Water Pollution Program Statute Requires "Best" Use

It has been the position of the sugar plantations from the outset that if a person unreasonably harms another by his use of any of Hawaii's waters, he should stop. But if his use is not harmful, then it must be respected. Hawaii's water pollution control statute requires the Director to protect the "best uses" of our waters, not the "highest." It appears to sugar that the small pockets in Hawaii's extensive coastal waters needed for agricultural and industrial purposes are not essential to the protection of the other uses recognized by the statute. To deny protection to the agricultural and industrial use of these limited pockets on a basis that would endure until a better use comes into being that would require their reclassification would be unreasonable.

For example, the Watermaster has assigned a "B" (swimming and water sports) classification to the shoreline along the southwestern coast of Kauai. The entire shoreline is not, however, suitable for recreation. In some places sheer and rocky cliffs combine with dangerous currents and treacherous surf to make any recreation extremely dangerous. It would be ridiculous to deny agriculture and industry the use of at least parts of the near-shore waters along that coast. There is nothing in the record indicating that every inch of those waters is demanded for recreation. In this connection, it would be important to note that the economic well-being of the community is just as important as the need for recreation.

The urgent need and the propriety of the use of at least some of Hawaii's waters by some of the sugar plantations have been demonstrated time and again in the public hearings held by the Watermaster. To deny the use of certain waters for agricultural and industrial purposes would be to fail to recognize the economic importance of such uses.

Specific recognition is given other present uses of Hawaii's waters. Honolulu Harbor is used for bait and recreational fishing. But these uses were not permitted to interfere with Hawaii's shipping industry. More would be lost than gained by requiring the waters of the harbor to meet standards which would protect recreation or bait fishing. In like manner, limited areas have been set aside as small boat harbors, not because such use is not detrimental to others, but simply because that is how these areas are used. But the same treatment has not been accorded agriculture and other industries. Each sugar plantation testified in detail at the Watermaster's hearings as to what waters it used to receive discharges. In each case where the plantation knew of competing present or future demands for the water, they were disclosed openly and voluntarily.

Lontayao on Goodwill Mission

Eutiquio Lontayao, Senior Analyst with the plantation, left yesterday morning for the Philippines via a U.S. Military Army Command plane. He is President of the United Visayan Community of Hawaii, Inc. and is being accompanied by four other officers of that group. Along with them on a 10-day Goodwill Friendship Mission in the Philippines are a few Army officials.

Their task is an important one--creating a better relationship between two governments, United States and the Philippines. This mission is sponsored by the U.S. Army, Pacific.

Eutiquio was born in Larena, Or. Negros, Philippines and came to Hawaii in 1929 at the age of 23. He became a U.S. Citizen on June 6, 1949.

Strike at C&H

The California and Hawaiian Sugar Company's refinery at Crockett, California, was shut down this past Monday by a strike of 1,170 members of the Sugar Workers Union Local No. 1, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO International Seafarer's Union. Hawaii's sugar plantations will not be affected for several weeks because there is ample space in bulk sugar storage plants for the sugar producing islands.

Alertness Pays Off

Mrs. Nadine Paodilao holds the vacant quashopper she and her husband, Robert, caught near their home in Middle Village on June 6, 1949.

The hopper is potentially dangerous to the sugar industry and everyone is asked to be alert for the pests. Report any sightings or captures to the IRD office.

SAFETY TIPS

Portable tools make our jobs more pleasant and more productive, but it is up to us to use them properly for safety and efficiency. When you have selected the proper tool, check it to see that it is in good condition. Most power tool accidents are the result of improper use.

If you use hand tools of any kind on your job, make sure you have the tools you need--all of them. Laziness is often a factor in wrong choice of tools. Too many people will use a defective tool or the wrong tool for the job rather than walk a few feet to a crib to ask for the proper one.

HOT TIP
Keep it in a SAFER PLACE

Language School Commencement

The Ewa Japanese Language School held its annual graduation exercise on Saturday, June 10, at the Ewa Japanese Club grounds. A traditional "Gakugei-Kai," featuring songs, dances, and storytelling by the students followed.

Standing are: Kameshiro Abe, Isamu Neysa, Mrs. Teiko Enomoto, Mrs. Kazuko Kagawa, Shunichi Kikuta, and Haruyuki Ogawa. (Abe and Ogawa were honored for distinguished service.)

Today's Best Bargain

A bargain is a money-saver that fattens your pocketbook--whether it's the saving you make in buying merchandise or the return you get on a good investment.

The smart shopper knows a bargain when he sees one. So does the smart investor. That's why more and more bargain-conscious Americans are buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

HERE IS A REAL BARGAIN! Look it over!

It's a GUARANTEED INVESTMENT! Your Savings Bond interest--now 4.15 percent compounded semiannually, when held to maturity--is guaranteed by the United States Government. The current value of your bonds is never subject to market fluctuation.

It's an investment with TAX ADVANTAGE! Federal income tax on interest earned on Series E Bonds can be deferred until the bonds are cashed...No state or local income taxes apply to interest earned on Savings Bonds.

It's an INDestructible INVESTMENT! Should your Savings Bonds be destroyed or lost, they will be replaced by the Treasury Department without loss of interest.

It's an INVESTMENT IN PATRIOTISM! When we buy a Savings Bond, we are buying a "Share of Democracy"--helping to maintain our nation's military strength and its economic stability as well...We can't all serve in our armed forces or build weapons for defense, but we CAN do our part by buying Savings Bonds regularly.

No Summer School Softball

Ewa Plantation Company Softball School regrets to announce that they will not have Summer School classes this year. This decision was made by the Board of Trustees at a meeting held on May 31.

Tuition for the months of July and August will not be collected. Effective with the opening of the new school term on September 6, 1967, tuition will be collected from September to June payable on the first day of each month.

On Wednesday, Ewa scored 3 runs in the first inning then held on for a 4-1 triumph over Star-Bulletin.

Ewa faces a tough Coca Cola team tonight at 8:00 at Cartwright Park in Honolulu.
