NUMBER 52

EWA PLANTATION COMPANY

The joyous sounds of yuletide in Ewa have echoed across the expanse of time since the Christmas of 1890, the year the sea, this plantation and so many hearts were born. I cannot but feel that for Ewa the years have mirrored Christ's eternal birth. The Christmas of 1890, the year the sea, this plantation and so many hearts were born. Ewa Motorist Killed...

...is a headline none of us would like to read...or cause to be read. How many close calls have you had this year? If you had one, it's one too many. To date Oahu's traffic death toll is 84, more than Hawaii's Viet Nam fatalities. Ewa's toll is 0...so far. Let's keep it that way. How? Not only by observing all traffic laws, but by driving defensively - watch out for the other guy - yield the right of way even when in doubt. And while you're celebrating the holidays, have a good time, but make that "last one for the road" a cup of coffee or a bowl of saimin. The life you save may be yours.

4-H Members Spread Yule Joy

The 4-H members led by Mrs. Margarita Glipa were greeted by Ewa Hospital Medical Director, Dr. Robert Jay, last Monday before they distributed candy---and joy---to patients of the Ewa Hospital. With Mrs. Glipa and Dr. Jay are: Lydia Goto, Marjorie Glipa, Jean Ikehara, Rona Rosco, and Jacqueline Glipa.

Christmas Comes to Ewa

"Mele Kalikimaka," "Mele Kurisumau," "Mali-gayang Pasko," or "Werry Christmas," take your pick, they mean that Christmas has come to Ewa again. Santa made his annual merry rounds of the community last Monday evening to the delighted...awed...hesitant...and to a few...terrified...greeting of scores of children and parents.

On Tuesday night, Ewa youngsters got a closer look at Santa at the conclusion of the annual E.P.Co.-E.R.A. community Christmas program.

"He looked better on his sleigh" seems to be the thought of this youngster.
