COMPLAINTS ON SANITATION

We have been hearing, as undoubtedly many Ewa residents have, about the unsanitary conditions, let alone the unpleasant smells caused by people raising hogs and poultry in their back yards. These activities are contrary to the regulations set forth by the Board of Health.

There have also been complaints about some unthinking persons dumping rubbish on roadsides in the villages instead of in the dumpster containers.

All this is thoughtless. It shows no consideration for your neighbors and your community.

For a cleaner and healthier community to live in, let's abide by the following Board of Health regulations on sanitation.

LIVESTOCK, POULTRY AND STABLES

SECTION 29. CONSTRUCTION, LOCATION AND MAINTENANCE:

A. No person, firm, or corporation shall keep or allow to be kept upon any premises in the State of Hawaii, any swine without a written permit from the Board. Such permit shall expire on the thirty-first day of December annually and may be suspended or revoked by the Board after an opportunity for a hearing by the Board, upon the violation by the holder of any of the terms of the permit.

B. Horses, cattle, sheep, or goats shall not be kept within fifty (50) feet of any place of human habitation without a written permit from the Board, and no person shall keep or allow to be kept upon any premises in his possession or control poultry, poultry houses or coops, pigeon coops or nests, and rabbit hutches that come or are maintained within twenty-five (25) feet of any place of human habitation.

C. All poultry houses, yards, pigeon runs, rabbit hutches, dog kennels, pens or any enclosures for any animal shall be kept clean and free from an accumulation of excreta, decayed food, and filth of every kind. The buildings and pens shall be kept free of rodents, fleas, lice and other insect pests and maintained in a clean and sanitary condition. If necessary, buildings and pens shall be so constructed as to exclude rodents and prevent the harboring of rodents therein. All food products or other products, goods, wares, or merchandise on the above premises which are liable, in the opinion of the Board, to attract or become infested with rodents, whether kept for sale or for any other purpose, shall be so protected as to prevent rodents from gaining access thereto or coming in contact herewith.

You Live by Your Skill and Good Sense

The largest number of accidents result from unsafe acts by the man on the job. Even the careful worker may have moments of carelessness and time usually runs out on the man who takes chances.

The important point for you to remember is--that accidents can be prevented--by you! Your safety is proof of your skill and your good sense.

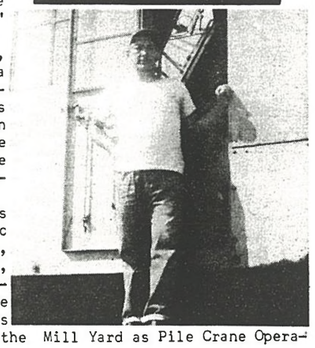
Reporter: "Tell me, Pop, to what do you attribute your long life?"

Retired Truck Driver: "Well, it's thisaway, sonny. I never waste no energy resisting temptation."

Life is an everlasting struggle to keep money coming in and teeth and hair from falling out.

Business is like a bicycle--when it isn't moving forward at a good speed, it wobbles.

Ewa's Oldtimers



A resident of Ewa for 49 years is GEORGE MIRANDA, who we are honoring in our "Old-timers" column this issue.

George was born in Ewa, August 14, 1911 and attended Ewa Grammar School. After graduating from Ewa School, he was hired at this plantation on November 13, 1925. During the early days, his dad was the Locomotive foreman at this Company.

George has held various jobs on this plantation from 1925 to 1947....Milk Truck Delivery Boy, 1925-1926; Locomotive Brakeman, 1926-1937; and Locomotive Engineer, 1937-1947. In 1947, the plantation did away with trains and George was transferred to the Mill Yard as Pile Crane Operator, which he has held since.

He is married to the former Lucy Fernandez of Waipahu. They are the parents of three children: Mrs. Kenneth (Mildred) Soma, Ewa; George, Jr., who will enlist in the regular Navy next Tuesday; and Loretta, who will be a sophomore at Waipahu High School this coming school year.

A hard worker that he is, George holds a part-time job delivering the morning paper, "The Honolulu Advertiser" in Ewa.

The family resides at Tenney Village.

THE PARABLE OF THE TALENTS

When we speak of a person as talented we are using a word that came into our language from the New Testament. At the time of Jesus, a talent was the largest unit of money, worth approximately $1000. In the "Parable of the Talents" Jesus declared that God has a personal investment in every man - an investment upon which He expects dividends. He described three men who were given differing sums to invest. One received 5 talents, one two talents, and the other one talent. Each received an amount in the line with his ability we are told. This, of course, is quite true to life, for although all men are equal before God, they differ in their innate abilities. One man is a 5 talent man, one a two, and so on. But regardless of his innate ability, Jesus makes it clear that there is divine approval for everyone who does his best with what he has - by taking the talent God has given him, and investing it so that it pays dividends for God's enterprise. As for the person who won't use his God-given talent for God's enterprises-who refuses to take any personal responsibility for God's work and always has an alibi - the Bible doesn't mince words. It says "you wicked and slothful servant"!

Now say what you will, few of us think of ourselves as "slothful". Even here in this so-called vacation paradise of Hawaii, life for most of us is busy, busy, busy. But is any of this busyness, God's business? How much of this busy schedule of ours that fills each minute with more than a dozen things to do, is a return to God for His investment in us? In the Parable of the Talents (Matthew 25:14-30) Jesus makes clear that from each of us - man, woman and child - God expects due return on his investment in us, according to our ability. No one is excused. Each of us has some gift, some ability, some talent useful to God that if not invested for Him, will place us under the charge of being wicked and slothful.

You and I - are we profitable servants of God? Are we investing the God-given talents and abilities we possess so that they pay dividends in spiritual treasure? Are we creating happy and loving homes, are we being Christian good neighbors, are we supporting the Christian Church with money and willing service, are we backing and furthering all efforts and all causes that release God's love and peace in human affairs? Fellow Christians, could anything be plainer than this Parable of the Talents, as it gives Jesus Christ's own evaluation of all who claim Him as Master and Lord?

There are the profitable and the unprofitable servants. There are those who are good investments in the Bank of Heaven. There are those deserving of the judgment: wicked and slothful servants; and ones who can hope to hear God say to them someday "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord".

Volunteers needed To Cut Barbecue

The Ewa Japanese Club has again been asked by the Carnival committee to assist with the cutting of barbeque meat.

At each Ewa Carnival, hundreds of pounds of barbeques are sold. To prepare the barbeque, (sliced and placed on sticks),for so many hundreds of pounds of meat will require many hands. Therefore, a call is out again for kokua from the members of our community.

Those who are able to give a helping hand in this project are asked to turn out on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 30 and 31 at 6:30 p.m. at the Ewa Japanese Social Hall.

Please bring along an apron and knife.

Construction of Booths For Carnival Started

Construction of booths for the giant midway begun last Monday afternoon has been completed except for minor work remaining to be done.

The display booths in the gym have also been constructed.

Many volunteers are generously providing their time and energy on this project. More volunteers are needed to make the work lighter for everyone concerned. Just drop around at pau hana and volunteer your service.

Also all available help will be needed to man the concessions during the carnival. So pick your choice and volunteer early.

$500 to Winning Christmas Seal Design for 1962

Hawaii artists have a chance to win $500 and nationwide publicity by designing the 1962 Christmas Seal, according to Charles C. Macnamara, Oahu Tuberculosis and Health Association executive.

Hawaii has yet to send a winning entry for Christmas Seals, which are used by millions across the country to help fight TB.

Specifications for Seal designs and resource materials are available from the Oahu TB Association, 1018 Lunalilo Street.

Swimming Pool Closes From August 20

The Ewa Tenney Recreation Center swimming pool will be closed from this Saturday August 20, until a few weeks after the carnival.

As you know, the swimming pool will be used for our fish pond concession and it will have to be stacked with the tilapias before the carnival. But before the fish can be put into the pool, all traces of chlorine must be washed off for the fish to survive.

USDA Annouces Sugar Consumption Estimate Up

The official estimate of sugar consumption for the U.S. is now 10,400,000 tons, an increase of 1,000,000 tons over the initial 1960 estimate.

This was largely brought about by current difficulties in administering the Sugar Act.

Hawaii, whose share of the quota was cut 225,000 tons last month, normally shares in any increase in the U.S. consumption requirements.

But the Islands' quota remains unchanged because Hawaii's production, still suffering from the effects of the 1958 strike, is expected to go below normal again this year.

Hawaii's total quota is now 985,444 tons--940,444 tons for Mainland delivery and 45,000 tons (unchanged) for local consumption.

Up through 1957, Hawaii produced and marketed more than a million tons for six consecutive years.
