TOURS WILL DEPART FROM THE DOCK

Please be prompt and have your tour tickets with you

Dress for Arrival — The weather in Honolulu is usually warm and summery. Lightweight casual clothing is suggested for debarking.

Baggage Claim Area on Dock — Passengers who are making their own arrangements to pick up baggage on the dock may claim it in the baggage holding area under the section marked with the same color as your baggage claim check given to you by your room steward. This is located to the right of the pier passageway just prior to reaching the taxi and bus loading area. Hold Baggage will be placed in a special area and must be claimed separately from stateroom baggage.

Hawaii Information Booth — As an "Aloha" gesture to arriving passengers, the State of Hawaii maintains an information booth on the pier on arrival. This booth is conveniently located on the upper level, just beyond the baggage claims area and those in charge will be happy to assist you.

Hawaiian Plant Quarantine — Passengers having seeds, plants, flowers, etc., which they plan to take ashore must have them inspected prior to leaving the ship. The inspector will be located in the Purser's Foyer on Main Deck.

Breakable Items — It is strongly recommended that debarking passengers carry all breakable items such as perfumes, bottled goods, and other fragile items and do not pack them in baggage sent ashore by the conveyor system.

Lost and Found — Lost articles should be reported to the Purser's Office before you leave the ship. Articles found and not claimed will be sent to Davies Marine Agencies, 841 Bishop St., Honolulu, telephone 531-8531. Found articles will be held for 30 days only.

Staterooms — One final check of your stateroom prior to going ashore may save you the inconvenience of writing at a later date for anything left behind. Please leave stateroom keys in your room.

One of Oahu's most alluring assets is her beaches. Posters representing Hawaii always highlight the miles and miles of deserted white sand, clear, warm waters and scenic surroundings.

Many visitors are pleasantly surprised at their first step into Waikiki, since to many the temperature is almost as comfortable as their bath or shower water at home.

Although Waikiki is the most popular beach for visitors, Oahu boasts other spots around the island which offer waves for bodysurfing, coral reefs for snorkeling, barbecue areas for picknicking and deserted sandy beaches for just sunbathing.

One of Oahu's most popular beaches is Hanauma Bay, a 30-minute drive from Waikiki. Hanauma has been named a marine preserve so fishing and removal of sea life are strictly prohibited.

This regulation has made the bay an ideal spot for snorkeling in calm, fish-filled waters. Picnic tables and restrooms are available, so it's a great place to spend the day.

Past Hanauma Bay a few miles is Makapuu Beach, site of annual bodysurfing championships. This beautiful beach is great for sunbathing, but be wary of tricky currents and strong waves.

The Windward side of Oahu has lots of nice beaches where visitors can stop and swim on their island tour, or just spend the day, picknicking and swimming and sunbathing. A few of these beaches are Kailua Beach Park, Kahana Bay Beach Park and Bellows Field Beach Park (a large military beach open on weekends and holidays).

The North Shore beaches, which are so widely publicized because of their excellent surf conditions, are generally taboo for swimmers, especially during the winter when the waves can reach up to 30 feet. Sunset Beach, site of championship surf meets, has a strong current. Waimea Bay has tricky currents too but during the summer is usually safe if you swim close to shore. Pupukea Beach Park is a lovely spot for sunbathing and picknicking, but a jagged coral shelf makes swimming dangerous.
